CONVENTION CITY MUST BE NEUTRAL

National Committee Opposed to "Gallery" For or Against Any Candidate.

ST. LOUIS OR CHICAGO?

Delegates Most Likely to Come Here, but Claims of Missouri Town Make It a Keen Rival.

BY RAYMOND.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—There is said to be a strong feeling in the national republican committee that no city should be selected for the next convention in which there is any likelihood of a gallery being used either to further or to defeat the nomination of any particular candidate.

The influence of the national committee on nomination is small, except so far as the selection of the place is concerned. The choice of New York, for instance, would be looked upon everywhere as a forerunner of the nomination of Hughes, because outside seats would almost certainly be filled up with people who were his active sympathizers, at least on the surface. In a similar way the selection of either Cincinnati or Cleveland, both of which are good convention cities, would almost certainly be looked upon as a friendly move for the secretary of war.

The sentiment of the national committee as a whole is not favorable either to Taft or Hughes. Unless some extraordinary change in feeling should take place New York, Cincinnati, and Cleveland will be considered as barred from competition to avoid any charge of favoritism in behalf of the two leading candidates.

Distance Bars Out Coast Cities.

Aside from this limitation there is no city which may not compete for the honor and pleasure of seeing the next republican nominee for the presidency put in the field. There is an expression of opinion generally that it would be unwise to go to either edge of the continent in these days when passes are prohibited and each delegate is expected to pay his own fare. This theory, if followed out by the committee, would at once eliminate places like Seattle and Boston.

Much the same argument will be urged against the selection of Denver, which is so far west as to make the cost of transportation a serious item in case of a great majority of the delegation.

Those who are forecasting the result of the meeting of the national committee in December are, therefore, inclined to limit the choice to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, and Pittsburg. As is always the case, Chicago has the lead. It is generally admitted by members of the committee and other people that in the matter of a convention hall, hotel capacity, the transportation and telegraph facilities, and, above all, in the matter of climate, Chicago unquestionably is the ideal convention city.

St. Louis' Weather Record Bad.

On the other hand, St. Louis has a good record. It took excellent care of the convention which nominated McKinley in 1896 and of that which put Parker in the field in 1904. In both cases, the hotels acted with fairness toward the great crowds which gathered, railroads disposed of all people without difficulty, telegraph facilities were good, and the general management of the convention was beyond criticism. The weather each time was disagreebly warm and most of the delegates remember the city favorably in every respect except that of the climate.

Kansas City, it is said, will put up the strongest fight for the convention. The people there have provided a good auditorium and conventions are enough of a novelty in that section to make the work of securing subscriptions comparatively easy. The democratic convention of 1900 went to Kansas City, and while people there were extremely hospitable and did the best they could under the circumstances, the general management of the affair was not entirely above criticism. Hotels were uncomfortably crowded and the weather was unendurably hot. Kansas City, however, has grown a great deal in the last eight years.

Slim Chance for Pittsburg.

Less is known about the convention situation in Pittsburg than elsewhere. That city is not as readily accessible by rail as some others, there being at times something of a congestion along the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio lines, converging at the Smoky City. At the last accounts, hotel accommodations there were not all they might be. There is a good deal of enthusiasm in that section, however, and the suggestion has been made that Knox men and Taft men might meet at Pittsburg as on a neutral ground, although it is the home of the distinguished senator from Pennsylvania.

The claims of Kansas City and St. Louis are being urged in a general sort of way by those who take note of the fact that no Missouri republican is likely to be considered either for first or second place on the next republican ticket. These same people point out the fact that Uncle Joe Cannon is at least a nominal candidate for nomination. His name will be presented from Illinois as a matter of course and, therefore, friends of some of the other candidates, who admit that Chicago is the ideal convention city, may throw the weight of their influence to St. Louis on the theory that that is absolutely neutral ground.

St. Louis Chicago's Rival.

In case all cities put up the same amount of money and satisfy the committee that they have about equal facilities in the way of auditorium and hotels, St. Louis would be a strong rival of Chicago on account of its position as purely neutral political territory.

It is not generally realized that the coming convention of the republican party may be an unusually interesting one. For a great many years republican conventions have been extremely one sided, and the result of the fight, for first place at least, was forecasted accurately by everybody long in advance. In 1896, although there was a fight between McKinley and Reed, with Allison and others in the background, the success of Mark Hanna's preliminary campaign was assured long before the convention met. The conventions at Philadelphia in 1900 and at Chicago in 1904 were ratification meetings, first for McKinley and then for Roosevelt.

There has not been a republican national convention of great dramatic interest since 1892, so the gathering which will take place probably between the 16th and 24th of next June will be a good deal of a novelty to all the younger republican political workers.

VOTERS TO DECIDE WATERWAY'S FATE

Legislature Agrees to Put $20,000,000 Bond Issue for Project Up to People Next Election.

DRAINAGE BOARD ROUTED

Hooks Twisted in Its Bill Seeking Control of Power; Sherman Raps "Political Indecency."

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—At the fall election next year the people of the state will vote on the question of issuing $20,000,000 worth of bonds for the construction of a deep waterway from Lockport to Utica in the Illinois river. From that point on south the river is regarded as navigable by the federal government and the work of deepening it to permit its use by vessels of large draft will be up to congress.

In the meantime a commission of fifteen members will study the problem presented by the project, and will report to the governor in time for specific action by the legislature convening in 1909. At that time, if the people of the state vote to issue the bonds, the legislature will have authority to proceed with the work, authorize the construction of the deep waterway, and raise the money with which to pay the cost.

The joint resolution submitting the constitutional amendment for the issue of bonds was passed today in both houses of the general assembly by the necessary two-thirds vote, in the senate in the morning and the house in the afternoon.

Disposes of Waterway Legislation.

Both houses also passed the resolution for the appointment of the commission of fifteen to be composed of five senators appointed by Lieut. Gov. Sherman, five representatives by Speaker Shurtleff, and five citizens by Gov. Deneen.

In taking this action the legislature practically disposes of its deep waterway legislation.

There still is pending in the house a bill which would put a totally different complexion on the disposition of the subject. It may pass the house, but it is not likely to get through the senate. This is a bill declaring the Desplaines and Illinois rivers navigable streams throughout their course, prohibiting the erection of any dams or obstructions, and ordering the governor and the attorney general to take all necessary legal steps to remove obstructions which already are there.

The house, sitting as a committee of the whole, adopted the bill this afternoon and reported it to the house with the recommendation that it pass. It was introduced by Representative Charles Allen, but the "stinger" in it was placed there by democrats, and the favorable recommendation of the committee was secured because of democratic work. Representatives Lants and McGoorty of Chicago and Representative Manny of Brown county, all democrats, were successful in defeating the opposition which blocked the bill in the senate, and in doing so they were not gentle in their methods.

Lobbyists Hear from Manny.

Mr. Lants introduced the amendment instructing the state officers to proceed to remove obstructions, and McGoorty and Manny helped him put it through. For the first time the opposition was beaten. Mr. Manny came the closest to plain talk on the subject.

"There have been a number of gentlemen with us," he said, "who are not members of the legislature, but who have represented private interests involved in this legislation. They have been extremely active on the floor of the house, and I may say, as one member of the legislature, that their tactics have been objectionable. I wish to serve notice on them that however their presence may be regarded by other members of the legislature, to me it is distasteful."

The bill, if it had any chance of becoming a law, probably would allow the state authorities to remove a number of obstructions, paying compensation for property rights destroyed by the removal, and it is probable that the celebrated "dam No. 1" of the Economy Light and Power company which the sanitary district has been seeking to remove would come out. It would clear the way for further deep waterway legislation by removing an active body of lobbyists whose work will be continually directed to prevent the taking out of dams which supply the water power for their companies.

The bill, however, has small, if any, chances of passing the senate. The upper house is contented to have its deep waterway legislation rest with the submission of the constitutional amendment and the appointment of the state commission.

Resolution Put Up to Voters.

The resolution as it will be submitted to vote at the fall election in 1908 provides:

"That the general assembly may by suitable legislation provide for the construction of a deep waterway or canal from the present water power plant of the sanitary district of Chicago at or near Lockport to a point in the Illinois river at or near Utica, which may be practical for a general plan and scheme of deep waterway along a route which may be deemed most advantageous for such a plan of deep waterway and for the erection, equipment, and maintenance of power plants, locks, bridges, dams, and appliances sufficient and suitable for the development and utilization of the water power thereof, and to authorize the issue from time to time of bonds of this state in a total amount not to exceed $20,000,000, which shall draw interest payable semi-annually at a rate not to exceed 4 per cent per annum, the proceeds whereof may be applied as the general assembly may provide in the construction of said waterway and in the erection, equipment, and maintenance of said power plants, locks, bridges, dams and appliances.

"All power developed from said waterway may be leased in part or in whole, as the general assembly may by law provide, but in the event of any lease being executed the rental specified therein for water power shall be subject to a revaluation each ten years of the term created and the income therefrom shall be paid into the treasury of the state."

Hooks Still in Sanitary District.

In settling the deep waterway legislation along these lines the legislature has effectually killed the attempt of the sanitary district of Chicago to build the three mile extension of the channel through Joliet as a part of the ship canal, and hereby create ad-

BEFORE AND AFTER TAKING.

TURN LIGHT IN THE TUNNEL

Aldermen After Wrangle Name Phone Bore Investigators.

PROBE THE SUBWAY REPORT.

Will Settle Question Whether Ordinance Has Been Respected.

Charges of fraud on the part of the Illinois Tunnel company, various insinuations against aldermen, and considerable talking around a circle characterized the opening of the council's investigation of the tunnel company yesterday afternoon.

Close questioning on the part of members of the gas, oil, and electric light committee, which is conducting the investigation, developed the fact that little or no effort has been made by the company to push the business of the automatic telephone for about three years. It also was learned that in at least four places the bore has far exceeded the dimensions stipulated in its franchise ordinance.

A subcommittee of three finally was appointed to investigate the charges against the company by visiting the tunnel. It is expected every member of the investigating committee will accompany the subcommittee.

Scores Tunnel Company.

Ald. Dunn, whose resolution at last Monday's meeting of the city council brought about the probe, said the tunnel company was making no efforts apparently to do anything with its telephone business, and it was of the most vital importance to the people of Chicago, in view of the pending ordinance of the Chicago Telephone company, to know just what the facilities of this company to cope with the city's telephone business alone were.

"This company has a valuable franchise and it certainly should be paying a revenue to the city and should not be used for purposes of stock exploitation," said Ald. Dunn in conclusion.

Are the Companies Connected?

"We want to know, first, if there is any connection between this company and the Chicago Telephone company," said Ald. Scully. "What truth is there to the rumor that the Bell people were or are organizing a company to take over your telephone interests?"

"Absolutely none," replied former Judge Sears, attorney for the company. "We are and always will be competitors."

"What about the assignment of the company's rights under the franchise granted to the Illinois Telephone and Telegraph company to the tunnel company?" asked Ald. Scully.

"Can Stand Court Inquiry."

"That," said Mr. Sears, "took place before I went into the company and during the time Judge Moran was its attorney. I feel sure, however, Judge Moran did nothing but what will stand the test of a court inquiry."

Mr. Sears said the company's telephone books showed more than 5,000 subscribers, as demanded by the ordinance. He admitted, however, the company was pushing its freight business and might, although he was not sure, have had more phones than this three years ago. Ald. Dunn was of the opinion the company was not pushing this part of its business at all and Mr. Sears did not deny it.

Maypole Not Enthusiastic.

Then Ald. Maypole interrupted, saying he didn't see the necessity of many of the questions and that much time was being taken up to no purpose. He asked that the whole subject be passed over to the corporation counsel's office.

"There certainly is much to base this investigation on," Ald. McCoid asserted. "I believed and I still charge that this ordinance was secured by fraud. It was understood by the council that this franchise was granted to permit the company to operate a practical telephone system. A conduit and not a big tunnel was to have been constructed. Even the size stipulated in later amendments, I have learned, has been exceeded. There is much to investigate here."

Further side talk was stopped when Ald. Maypole asked City Engineer John Ericson if it was true the company had violated its ordinance by exceeding the size stipulated in it.

"There are three places that I know of where the bore has been dug far out to the edges of the street for a distance of 50 to 100 feet," he replied. "These places, the tunnel people say, are but temporary, and I don't know whether you would call them violations of the ordinance or not. There is a place near the Northwestern depot also where large excavations have been made. That matter was discussed in the city council and I don't remember what action was taken at the time."

This discovery led to the suggestion by Ald. Scully that a subcommittee be appointed to make a tour of the tunnel. On this committee Chairman Young appointed Ald. Scully, Maypole, and Badenoch.

MOTOR CAR THAT COST $2,700 IS VALUED AT $14 BY A JURY.

Appraisal Makes Possible a Verdict of Only Petit Larceny Against Chauffeur Who Stole Machine.

According to a jury in Judge Brentano's court yesterday, J. C. Hills' gasoline touring car, for which he paid $2,700, is worth $14. Mr. Hills, however, refused an offer of $15 for the machine and even a later bid of $16.15 also failed to tempt him.

By fixing the value at this sum the sympathetic jury was able to bring in a verdict of only petit larceny against Frederick Sawyer, formerly Mr. Hills' chauffeur, who stole the machine last summer from Mr. Hills' home, 1536 Windsor avenue, and was arrested later at Antwerp, O., being shot by a sheriff he tried to run down.

Judge Brentano sharply criticised the jury's verdict and sentenced the defendant to one year in the house of correction and to pay a fine of $100, the maximum punishment possible under the finding of the jury.

BEATEN AS HE PASSES FEWER'S.

Emil G. Kraloves Attacked by Man Who Came from Notorious West Side Saloon.

Emil G. Kraloves, 711 Blue Island avenue, a lawyer, was attacked and beaten last night while passing in front of Michael Fewer's notorious saloon and concert hall, West Madison and Union streets. The man who attacked him was Magnus Osburg, who the police say is an ex-convict.

Osburg had been in Fewer's saloon and issued therefrom to beat Kraloves. He did it so artistically that the lawyer's wounds had to be patched up at the county hospital.

Before Kraloves was released by the surgeons Osburg was released from the police station. Fewer signed his bond.

The attorney says he doesn't know whether Osburg's motive was robbery. He says he will press the prosecution.

To the Mayor of Chicago—Dear Sir: Get the rich men to send me some money. I am a poor man.
WILLIAM WALDORF JACKSON,

"And a man named William Waldorf ought to have money at that," remarked the mayor, afterwards.

POLICEMAN MAIMS FLEEING BOY

Joseph Passo, 15 years old, 243 West Taylor street, failed to halt as he ran with a companion after both had been caught stealing eggs from a delivery wagon, and was shot by Policeman George Hatfield of the Maxwell street station yesterday afternoon. He is now at the county hospital with the left arm shattered and almost torn off. It must be amputated, attendants at the hospital say. Passo's companion escaped. The shooting occurred in Desplaines street, near De Koven.

BLAMES VICE ON TAX DODGERS

Men Who Cheat State Fill Brothels, Says Mrs. H. Solomon.

GIRLS NOT SAFEGUARDED.

Lack of Funds to Care for Delinquents One Cause of Depravity.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—The state of Illinois is training its girls and young women indirectly—but none the less surely—for lives of shame. And the men responsible for this are the "stylish anarchists" of the state, the men who issue warnings against thieving politicians, while they pilfer the state taxes.

This charge was made this morning before the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs, now in session here, by Mrs. Hannah Solomon of Chicago in the course of an address on the treatment of the dependent and delinquent girls by the state.

"If we want to train our girls for the brothel," said Mrs. Solomon, "we, at least, should not do it indirectly. The supervision of the dependent and delinquent girls in Illinois training schools and in the homes in which the girls are 'placed' is pitifully inadequate and is leading to disastrous results. In the homes the state visitor is wholly unable to follow up the child when she has been discharged from the institution, and in many cases no attempt is made in this direction.

Rap at "Respected Citizens."

"The chief reason for this condition—one of which any state should be ashamed—is lack of funds, particularly in the various county institutions and the chief reason for lack of funds is our 'stylish anarchists,' I know of no nicer name for them, our men of wealth who are continually afraid lest the politicians steal something and yet pilfer themselves. You know whom I mean, the respected citizens who are holding up the state for back taxes."

In particular Mrs. Solomon referred to the Illinois Industrial School For Girls at Geneva, where, she said, conditions are particularly bad, many of the girls being compelled to sleep on the floor for lack of adequate accommodations.

"The men of Illinois cannot solve the girl problem," said Mrs. Ellen M. Henrotin in commenting on Mrs. Solomon's address. "They have proved it. We women must do it."

The campaign of the club women probably will take the direction of seeing that the various counties raise sufficient money to care for the girls in the state institutions, to fight institutions where child labor is permitted, to establish a higher standard of food and care, and compile lists of women in the state who are interested in the reform.

Clubwomen to Fight Nuisances.

An elaborate program of work was laid out in the report of the federation's civic committee, which was given in the afternoon by Mrs. F. K. Tracy of Chicago. If the plans of the committee are carried out the cities of Illinois, externally at least, will serve in a few years as models for the municipalities of the nation. Public nuisances such as the blowing of whistles, the switching of trains, and smoke are to be studied scientifically.

Cigaret smoking, the cocaine habit, the 5 cent theater, and unlicensed hotels are to be crusaded against. The common house fly and the ubiquitous mosquito will find themselves up against a vigorous application of the most modern methods of extermination. Unsightly outdoor advertising, dilapidated lamp posts, unnecessary telegraph poles, and dead trees will be removed. Moths' nests in trees will be destroyed. This is only a part of the program laid out.

Thirteen vice presidents were elected at a business session held in the morning. They are:

Mrs. Charles T. Adams, Mrs. L. E. Doty, Mrs. Ellen Ryan, Mrs. W. H. Wallis, and Mrs. Lenore Morse Rosing, Chicago; Mrs. C. F. Wade, Aurora; Mrs. L. K. Wynne, Sterling; Mrs. E. C. Franing, Galesburg; Mrs. H. A. Foster, Fairbury; Miss Blanche Carroway, Tuscola; Miss Ione Hayward, Pana; Mrs. L. L. Landenberger and Mrs. H. G. Mitchell, Carbondale.

DECLARE A TRUCE TO COUNT PROXIES

Fish and Harriman's Battle for Control of the Illinois Central Is Delayed Until Today.

BOTH SIDES ARE DEFIANT

Each Struggling Till Last Minute Making Inroads on the Other's List of Shareholders.

The annual stockholders' meeting of the Illinois Central railroad yesterday proved only the first engagement in the pitched battle for control of the company. After two skirmishes, the day closed with the Fish and Harriman forces resting defiantly on their proxies and with apparent advantage to neither side.

The hostilities will be renewed this morning at 9 o'clock, when the stockholders will reassemble to receive the report of the joint committee that labored till late last night to determine and record the holders of final proxies. Not till this report is made will the relative strength of the opposing factions be known.

Each Side Claims Victory.

Each side left the scene of action in the evening boasting that victory was within its grasp. The general belief among the outsiders, however, was that Harriman has the whip hand and will be enabled to drive through his program to oust Fish and name the four new directors. On the other hand, the Fish faction, if it cannot win, aims to create a deadlock that will be determined only by a court decision on the disputed Union Pacific and Mutual Life stock.

The nearest approach to an open rupture between the contending factions occurred in the directors' meeting which preceded the meeting of the stockholders. The lie was all but passed between Mr. Fish and Charles A. Peabody and for a moment a personal encounter seemed imminent. Then Mr. Fish in the same meeting had a hot fight with all the Harriman directors and finally compelled the restitution of proxies for 4,000 shares to which he was entitled.

Struggle with Mass of Proxies.

After the preliminaries of the opening of the stockholders' meeting, the scene of the actual contest was transferred to the committee on proxies, consisting of Lewis C. Fritch, representing Harriman; Charles H. Wenman, representing Fish; and E. S. Conway, designated by Judge Ball and agreed to by both factions as the nonpartisan umpire of fair play. In a little room off the assembly hall in the Park row station this committee struggled all the afternoon and evening to bring order out of the vast mass of original, duplicate, and, in many instances, triplicate proxies with which it was inundated.

Even while the judges of credentials labored, the silent, stealthy battle for advantage raged all around. Fish's lieutenants were everywhere seeking revocations of proxies held by the Harriman crowd. They succeeded in bringing in a number, just how many they would not say. Harriman scouts came and went in cabs, and kept the telephone wires sizzling with negotiations for revocations of proxies held by the Fish crowd.

Large Batch for Harriman.

Late in the afternoon William Nelson Cromwell hurried before the committee with three large revocations which he said made Harriman's victory safe.

At a late hour the indications were that this sort of warfare would be waged throughout the night, and that final proxies would be pouring in upon the committee right up to the hour of its report. It was said that there were over 20,000 duplicate or otherwise contested proxies before the committee, while it is estimated that 50,000 votes have changed sides within the last few days. The task of the judges is to determine the proxies of latest date and the authenticity of those questioned by either faction.

The judges adjourned at 10 o'clock at night. Just how much had been accomplished by that time none of the interested persons would say, but it is understood that neither side expects to complete the work before tonight at the earliest. The revocations of proxies are said to be even more numerous than the Fish adherents claimed. In some instances the stockholders are said to have changed their proxies four times.

Stockholders' Meeting Formal.

The stockholders' meeting itself, which did not get beyond perfunctory preliminaries, was run from start to finish by the lawyers with a painful attention to the exact legality of each step taken. As far as it went, however, it was an "agreed case," no resolution being offered or motion made to which the legal authorities on each side had not previously consented.

The only incident in any way resembling an open clash came at the close of the afternoon session, and then the question at issue was of a popular rather than technical character.

If it had any deeper significance at all it was an indication that the sentiment of the majority of the 250 stockholders present is with Mr. Fish in his present troubles. The question at issue was merely whether the stockholders should be compelled to hold an evening session or be allowed to go home and get some sleep. The Harriman lawyers attempted to dictate an evening session, and in this move were credited with a desire to rush the business to a conclusion while their chief had a safe advantage and before Fish could make any further inroads upon his strength or spring any further embarrassing legal moves like the Ball injunction.

Moves for Evening Session.

When the meeting came to order at 3 p. m., Attorney Cromwell, chief of the Harriman legal staff, arose and announced a delay in the canvass of the proxies.

"The inspectors of election," he said, "having received a great number of proxies, state that they will be unable to tabulate and report within several hours—some few hours. In order that you may not be inconvenienced, therefore, by lingering hour by hour, I now make the motion that we stand adjourned until half past 8 tonight."

Instantly James A. Patten, the board of trade broker, who holds 700 shares, protested.

"Why can't that be put over until tomorrow morning?" he asked. "There are a lot of stockholders who don't want to stay here all night, especially those who live out of the city. I would like to attend this meeting, and I would like to sleep tonight, too. I move that we adjourn to meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning."

Mr. Cromwell parried with the statement that the question would have to be put to a vote and then, disclaiming "any other motive or advantage," he sought to justify an evening session on the ground that it was important to the company to have the business promptly concluded. Mr. Patten said he understood it would take several days to finish the business and then added:

"Now, this meeting is being held for the benefit of the stockholders and not for the benefit of any attorney from New York City who stops at a hotel within two blocks of us. [Applause and hisses.] All these attorneys can take a cab and go up to the Auditorium Annex and get to sleep. Unfortunately, live several miles away in a suburban town, and I intend to stay here until this thing is through with. A number of other stockholders who are interested in this company intend also to stay, and their convenience is to be consulted, and not Mr. Cromwell's. Therefore I ask that the question be put on the amendment, that we adjourn until tomorrow morning."

"It might well suit the comfort and convenience and profit of all the lawyers to stay here indefinitely, so I do not see the application of your remarks," observed Mr. Cromwell.

"You are getting paid for it and we are not," retorted Mr. Patten.

Loud Clamor for Question.

Mr. Cromwell again tried to gain his point by insisting on a stock vote which, of course, could not be had, but the clamor for the motion to be put was coming from all sides, so he hastened to effect a graceful retreat. He said he wished to show every courtesy to those from a distance.

"Will those in favor of adjournment to tomorrow morning instead of this evening please indicate by saying aye?" announced the lawyer.

The room echoed with the roar of ayes.

"I think that expression is hearty enough to satisfy even a lawyer," said Mr. Cromwell with as good grace as possible, and then himself moved the adjournment.

The Fish following welcomed this outcome as a point in their favor, and Mr. Fish himself hastened to Mr. Patten and heartily wrung his hand.

Assembling of the Stockholders.

To those who search out the secret motives of men in their struggle for wealth and power the whole stockholders' meeting presented an absorbing drama. From the seventh story of the Central station tower the gathering throng looked out on the placid lake and the peaceful activity of a bright Chicago day.

In the hour before noon the throng began to gather about the executive tables in the big room as it has year after year at the Illinois Central family reunion. Shortly after 12 o'clock the principal actors in the drama made their appearance on the scene.

There was a stir as the great, awkward figure of Stuyvesant Fish was seen pushing through the crowd. He crossed the room and took up his position at a flanking table between his lawyers, Edgar H. Farrer of New Orleans and Henry W. Leman of Chicago. For a moment the blue eyes of the deposed railroad president swept the attentive crowd, then shaking his massive jowl with familiar vehemence he plunged into a whispered conference with his advisers.

President Harahan Takes Chair.

President Harahan appeared and made his way around to the executive table, where with gavel in hand he took up a position against a window looking lakeward and waited till the lawyers should give the starting signal. Then came Cornelius Vanderbilt, a young man with a pointed curly brown beard, wearing the tight fitting blue suit with the high water trousers familiar to the stockholders for the last several years. He was followed by Robert W. Goelet, a director seen by many for the first time, but always to be remembered for his wonderfully curled mustache, which he continued to twist and curl throughout the meeting.

Unobtrusively Gov. Deneen, a director in his official capacity, slipped in and took a seat in the front row among the Wall street men, beside whom he looked more boyish of countenance than ever.

John W. Auchincloss, gray haired and white mustached, absently wandered in, found a seat, and absently dangled his eye glasses throughout the proceedings. He was followed by the venerable Charles M. Beach of Hartford, Conn.

Harriman Enters Unseen.

But the greatest stir of all came when the crowd gradually became aware of a new presence in the room—that of the great Harriman, for a glimpse of whom all had been waiting. Few saw him enter, still fewer saw him making his way down the aisle—it looked as if he had just silently materialized there beside the executive table, where he was first perceived.

Every person in the room must have appreciated the dramatic contrast between the two principal characters of the serio-comedy who now were present. On the one side was Harriman, slight and undersized, with a stoop in his shoulders and a top-heavy head like a precocious boy with a weak body. On the other loomed Fish, the physical giant, who could crush his enemy in the palms of his great hands. Even as Harriman slipped quietly around the end of the table Fish was on his feet swinging aloft like a toy a heavy chair that was handed to him over the heads of the bystanders. Yet those who gazed upon the scene saw in the little man with the large head the real giant seeking to close the palms of his silent, ruthless power upon the present obstacle in his path.

Wizard's Eyes Luminous.

The features of Harriman's countenance that stick in the memory are the luminous eyes shining through spectacles and the black mustache drooping over his mouth and just disclosing the little imperial beneath.

The stockholders beheld him dressed as usual in a black cutaway suit with a severe old fashioned turn down collar, beneath the folds of which were tucked the ends of a white dotted blue bow tie. For a while he was all activity. Unconsciously followed by all eyes, he glided about, speaking, or rather whispering, impressively, listening intently. He made few gestures, his arms hanging limp at his sides. Now he spoke a word to President Harahan, now consulted Attorney Cromwell, now walked away, and then came silently back to converse with the dignified, unbending Mr. Peabody, who can speak without moving his lips.

From time to time the great financier received telegrams and cablegrams, which he glanced at while he went on talking, and then stuffed into his pockets. Finally he noticed the reporters and asked how they happened to get in. "They were all stockholders, they smilingly told him, for they all held proxies for purposes of admission.

"I sometimes wish I were not a stockholder," quizzically observed Mr. Harriman, as he walked away and took a seat between Gov. Deneen and W. H. Chadwick.

Cromwell a Picturesque Figure.

Probably the most picturesque figure present was that of William Nelson Cromwell, with his flowing curly locks of snow white framing a ruddy countenance of aristocratic mold. When Mr. Cromwell had consulted for an interminable time with Mr. Farrar, and when Secretary Hackstaff, who is small of figure but important of bearing, was ready the meeting began. In order to make the proceedings legally as flawless as possible the notices of the meeting and the minutes of the last meeting were read from beginning to end, a thing unheard of in twenty years.

Then after a long wait and more whispered conferences the secretary called the roll of all stockholders present in person.

Towards the end of this work Mr. Harriman observed to President Harahan that another meeting in the afternoon would be necessary, and then asked, "May I go?" whereat everybody laughed heartily.

The magnate slipped out, and then Mr. Cromwell announced the committee that was to tabulate the proxies. The membership of this body was agreed upon just before the session convened. Lewis C. Fritch, assistant to President Harahan, was selected to represent the Harriman faction, and Mr. Wenman, who is Mr. Fish's private secretary, was appointed for the Fish following. No agreement on a third man could be reached until it was suggested that Judge Ball nominate an umpire. The judge named Mr. Conway, whom both sides accepted.

Clash in Directors' Meeting.

The directors' meeting, held before the stockholders' session, furnished a live feature. In it the question had arisen as to how Mr. Fish had voted on a certain question in the past. Mr. Fish declared it was one way, when Charles Peabody, who has a reputation among New York men of being more dignified than the statue of Liberty, challenged the statement. The light of battle is said to have flared up for a moment in Mr. Fish's eyes and all present expected him to make the issue cause for a personal encounter. Instead he leaned over the table and in a quiet voice, but with emphasis on each word, said:

"You must not talk that way to me. I voted just as I said I did and the records will bear me out."

There was no further discussion of the subject. The meeting was adjourned at 11 o'clock for half an hour. This was in the face of opposition from Mr. Fish. When the motion prevailed, however, he started for the door as Mr. Peabody began speaking. Mr. Fish was halted by one of his friends, who explained that Mr. Peabody was apologizing for any hasty words he might have used in the heat of the argument.

"I'm not interested in anything Mr. Peabody has to say," retorted Mr. Fish as he brushed his way out the door.

Gain of 4,000 to Fish.

A gain of 4,000 shares was made by Fish during the day, but not until he had forced the board of directors to recognize his right to them. The proxies to these shares were made out to Mr. Fish when he was president of the road to be used by him so long as he lived. The proxies were left by him with W. G. Bruen, a clerk in the president's office.

Tuesday morning when his lawyers were arguing in court Mr. Fish went to the Illinois Central and sought Bruen to demand the proxies. He was informed that while Bruen was technically the custodian of the proxies they were actually in Mr. Harahan's office. Nothing daunted, the militant director demanded to see Mr. Harahan.

"He's in court," replied the clerk. "Will Mr. Fritch, assistant to the president, do?"

"Yes, let me see him."

Fish's Demand for His Proxies.

Mr. Fritch was greeted with a demand for the proxies.

"I have the proxies," Mr. Fritch replied, "but I could not give them to you without first seeing Mr. Harahan."

"Why not?" demanded Mr. Fish. "They are made out in my name, are they not? I here and now demand that they be turned over to me."

"I cannot give them to you without first consulting Mr. Harahan," returned Mr. Fritch from behind his desk.

"Consult ——," snorted Mr. Fish as he turned to go.

Soon after the directors met yesterday Mr. Fish introduced a resolution calling on Mr. Harahan to turn over these proxies to him. This was made a subject for debate, but the final agreement was that Mr. Harahan should turn the proxies over to the proxy committee to be credited to Mr. Fish.

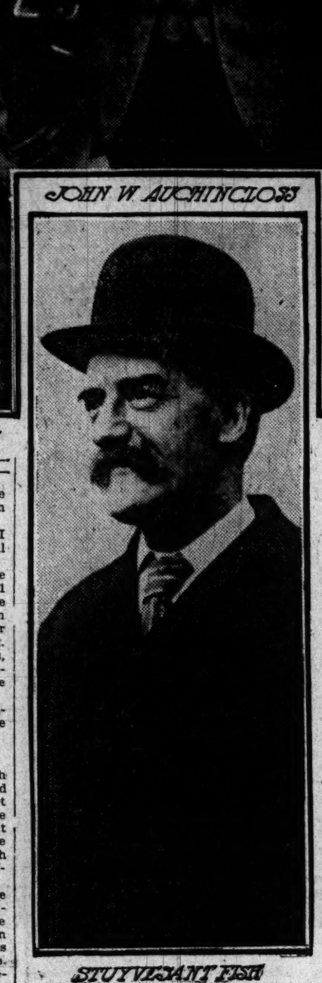

"Were they credited to you?" Mr. Fish was asked.

"I took particular pains to see that they were," he replied.

RICH MINE OWNER IS SHOT; SEQUEL OF WAR OF LIQUOR.

C. H. Morris of Enterprise, Ia., and the Manager of His Store Are Victims of Alleged "Bootlegger."

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—C. H. Morris, mine owner, capitalist, and former president of the Iowa Mine Operators' association, and E. C. Johnson, manager of the company's store at the Enterprise mines, eighteen miles north of here, were shot this morning by J. C. Cain, proprietor of the Enterprise pool hall.

Physicians hold out hopes that Mr. Morris will recover, but it is not believed Johnson can live.

Cain is still at large, but late reports tonight say that he has been surrounded in a cornfield by a deputy sheriff and posse.

Morris and Johnson had been instrumental in having Cain arrested on a charge of "bootlegging" recently, and the ill feeling which Cain held for the men was the cause of the shooting.

Aeronauts Planning Trials Have Day of Idleness at St. Louis.

ONE NIGHT TRIP PREVENTED.

Foreign Competitors Complain of Having to Put Up $1,000 Bond.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—A cold, drizzling rain prevented aeronauts entered in the races of next Monday from making trial trips today. Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, pilot and companion, respectively, for the St. Louis, thought they would try an all-night trip in a small balloon, but the rain did not cease in time and they contented themselves with taking the America from its casings. It was found in excellent condition, as are practically all the balloons that have been received thus far.

Maj. Hersey on the Ground.

Maj. Hersey, who will pilot the balloon United States, and Prof. A. L. Rotch of Bluff Hill observatory, who will accompany Oscar Erbsloeh in the Pommern, are expected tomorrow.

Nearly all the aeronauts have visited the grounds from which the start is to be made, and have inspected the starting points allotted them. In almost every instance they have expressed satisfaction.

Some complaint has been expressed by the aeronauts for having to put up $1,000 bond when their balloons were brought into the United States. The bond will be returned, however, when the aeronauts depart.

Would Avoid Balloon Ripping.

Every balloon is being carefully guarded to make sure of no repetition of the Santos Dumont affair, when the Brazilian airship envelope was ripped before the races at the world's fair.

If tomorrow is fair the flights planned for today will take place then, and all the foreign experts will be out to witness the start.

RUIN IN COLLAPSE OF COPPER CORNER

One Brokerage Firm Fails and Heinze Brothers Are Left in Bad Shape.

CRASH SQUEEZES STOCKS.

Dramatic Failure of Curb Coup Hammers Market List to Low Records.

New York, Oct. 16.—[Special.]—The Heinze corner in United Copper, which was badly shattered late yesterday afternoon, collapsed utterly today. The common stock, as compared with high prices of 60 on Monday and 59 on Tuesday, sold at one time today at 10.

Simultaneously with the sale at this low price there was announced the failure of Gross & Kleeberg, the stock exchange house which, apart from the firm of Otto Heinze & Co., perhaps, has been the most active in the recent transactions in the stock.

The failure of Gross & Kleeberg, a representative of the firm said, was due to the fact that, "the firm bought United Copper for the Heinze people, who refused to receive it." This statement was credited because in other cases the Heinze firm or its representatives failed to take up stock which had been ordered to be delivered.

Heinze Firm Tottering.

The firm of Otto Heinze & Co. is a stock exchange house, but its transactions were in a curb stock. On that account the interesting question arose as to whether the Heinze firm could retain its solvency under the rules with an indebtedness to another stock exchange house. A conference on the condition of the firm was held after the close of the market and continued until late in the evening. From time to time reports came from it to the effect that a satisfactory arrangement would in all probability be made with all creditors, including Gross and Kleeberg.

Rumors of troubles were rife all day. The demoralization in United Copper and other Heinze securities on the curb was communicated to the stock exchange. In the afternoon trading stocks generally recorded new low averages for the year and in a large number of the most important shares new low records, which were far below the low records of either the March or August breaks, were recorded. In many respects the day's transactions were more nearly comparable to the break in the market on the collapse of the Keene pool in Southern Pacific four years ago.

Copper King Denies Interest.

F. Augustus Heinze and all his associates insisted again that he had had nothing to do with the ill fated corner in United Copper stock. The members of the firm are two brothers of F. Augustus Heinze—Otto C Heinze and Arthur P. Heinze—and Max H. Schultz. It was insisted by all those interested in the matter that Otto C. Heinze managed the attempted corner without consultation with his brother Augustus.

According to these members of the Heinze party, Otto C. Heinze and his associates in the corner in the stock became impressed last Saturday with the idea that many market operators had sold the stock short. They determined to make a sharp drive on the shorts, and on Monday bid up the price from 35 to 60, and were successful in forcing many shorts to cover. Encouraged by this success the managers of the movement determined to execute today a brilliant coup in the stock.

Twenty stock exchange houses were carrying United Copper stock at the direction of the managers of the corner. It was decided to serve notices on these to deliver their stock at the earliest possible time, which was 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and, it was said, it was undoubtedly the belief of the managers of the corner that they would find many of these houses bare of stock, and expected the brokers to default, in part, in their deliveries.

Big Squeeze Coup Fails.

In this event the Heinze brokers could buy in the stock under the rules and force the delinquents to pay the difference between the purchase price and the price at which the stock was carried for the Heinze brokers on the particular firms' books.

Every one of the twenty brokers produced the stock. Some had difficulty in finding it, but they all did find it. They produced so surprisingly large an amount of it that the Heinze brokers were eventually forced to refuse delivery. The brokers immediately threw the stock on the curb market.

The stock market was but little affected by the weakness of United Copper and the Heinze fight during the morning.

There was no violent decline until 2:15. At that time Union Pacific was selling in the neighborhood of 120, a point below the opening. Between that time and 2:30 most of the active liquidation took place. Union was forced down to 116, 2½ points below the previous low point for the year. Smelters went down to 69, Amalgamated to 49, 5⅛ points below the high for the day, Missouri Pacific to 51, 8 points below the high.

DELAY ON BILL OF LADING

Amendments Will Be Made to the Proposed Measure.

HEARINGS ON SUBJECT END.

Commerce Commission in Sympathy with Pleas of Shippers.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—The interstate commerce commission practically has determined not to order the adoption of the uniform bill of lading recommended by the joint committee of railroad shippers. Certain amendments will be made to the proposed bill, and it then will be submitted to the railroads for adoption in their wisdom.

Hearings on the subject, which began yesterday, were concluded today. Before adjournment the commission suggested to the various interests present that each submit an amendment to the bill which has been the basis of discussion, or new bills. When these are received the commission will decide exactly what action should be taken.

There is no doubt the commission is heartily in sympathy with the desire of the Illinois Manufacturers' association and other shipping interests for the adoption of a uniform bill of lading. Unfortunately the opposition is so strong anything like an agreement has proved impossible. Moreover the legality of the order entered by the commission is doubtful, though on a showing yesterday by friends of the proposition it was believed Chairman Knapp and his associates had ample power under the law to act. Counsel for the Chicago and Northwestern, however, took the position today the commission was not so clothed, and this argument unquestionably made an impression.

Informal discussion between members of the commission indicates they are satisfied they would go too far to enter an order requiring the railroads to adopt a uniform bill, and the most they will do, therefore, will be to agree upon a bill and recommend that it be followed by all carriers. Even this, however, may not be done. Expectation tonight is that the matter will be carried to congress, and a determined effort will be made to secure the enactment during the coming session of a law prescribing features of a uniform bill of lading.

TRANSATLANTIC WIRELESS BUSINESS BEGINS TODAY.

Marconi Stations Will Open with Press Dispatches of a Congratulatory Nature—Outline of Plans.

Glace Bay, N. S., Oct. 16.—The Marconi wireless stations here and at Clifden, Ireland, will be opened for the transmission of transatlantic business tomorrow. The first day will be occupied chiefly with the handling of press dispatches. These will consist, in a great part, of messages of a congratulatory nature exchanged between the press of New York and London and London and Montreal.

The first message eastward will be from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of the dominion of Canada, who will congratulate the English people upon the establishment of this new means of communication between Great Britain and Canada. The first westward message will be a press dispatch to New York and will be filed early tomorrow morning.

Everything was declared to be in perfect readiness tonight.

NEGRO ALL RIGHT; SO SAYS CARNEGIE

He's a Good and Useful Citizen and Not Lazy, Andy Tells Scotland.

LORD ROSEBERY IN DOUBT

Philosophical Audience at Edinburgh Hears Two Estimates of the Race.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

EDINBURGH, Oct. 16.—Andrew Carnegie and Lord Rosebery today gave a big audience at the Philosophical institution their views of the negro problem in the United States.

Mr. Carnegie strongly championed the negroes. He traced their development from slaves to citizens, the gradual decrease of illiteracy among them, their general inclusion in church organizations, and the enormous expenditure of money for churches and schools. He contended that the negro was a saving man, with land hunger, and declared there was no better test of a respectable member of society than a bank book showing a good balance or title deeds to a house or farm unincumbered by debt.

He repudiated the idea that the negro is lazy. On the contrary, he said, he was busied in every field of activity, even in newspapers. The question used to be what can be done with the negroes, but now, Mr. Carnegie said, it is how more of them and other workers can be obtained. The negro has become of immense economic value and is indispensable. Nevertheless, Mr. Carnegie admitted that the negro problem is yet unsolved, and the question whether negroes will ever be raised into the mass of the nation is yet unanswerable.

Unfit for Vote, Rosebery Thinks.

Lord Rosebery, while professing his incompetency to offer an opinion on the subject and believing it undesirable to submit his views on the internal affairs of other nations, nevertheless said he doubted the wisdom of enfranchising the negroes. He believed 90 per cent of them were illiterate when they were enfranchised, and on Mr. Carnegie's showing 47 per cent were still so. It seemed to him that a period of tutelage might have been wisely imposed. Had not the United States, he asked, in a generous impulse of the moment admitted to the franchise men wholly incompetent to exercise the high prerogative?

There was danger, he declared, in dealing with vast masses of voters, of underrating the individual importance, the solemnity of a vote. Looking coolly and historically back with criticism, which is so easy now, of what was done in hot blood, and calling up the old picture of a chained slave appealing to a white man, saying: "Am I not a man and brother?"

He could not help thinking the wise answer would have been: "A man? Yes. A brother? Yes. But if you think you have proved your fitness for the suffrage and full citizenship, no."

Lord Rosebery said that things were sometimes done under high and generous impulses which were afterwards regretted.

America a Human Crucible?

He was inclined to think there were some persons in America who regretted that the suffrage had been given to the negroes. Dealing more briefly with future fusion of the races and the persistence of the color line, regarding which he said he would refrain from prophesying, Lord Rosebery described the experiment in the amalgamation of races going on in the United States as one of intense interest. He said on this subject:

"The United States is a great crucible in which the metals of every race and nation under the sun are being melted together. Will this result in the production of the perfect man of the future or in an entirely new type hitherto unknown to anthropologists, which will be the subject of study by the older races of the globe? We, who are in a quasi paternal position, look forward to the development of the experiment with almost breathless interest. Our hope is that out of the amalgam will arise men like Mr. Carnegie, whose generous character and large philanthropy are not limited by the boundaries of countries or differences of race, but who scatters his benefactions as a locomotive scatters sparks."

FRANZ JOSEF ABLE TO SIT UP.

Emperor Receives Visitors at Door of Sick Chamber and Eats Dinner—Fever Returns in Evening.

VIENNA, Oct. 15.—The condition of Emperor Francis Joseph was distinctly favorable all day until this evening, when a slight increase in his temperature was reported and his majesty complained of fatigue.

In the course of the afternoon he conversed for half an hour with Archduchess Marie Valeria, his daughter, and her husband, Archduke Francis Salvator, whom he received at the entrance to his chamber. After this visit, his majesty enjoyed a fairly hearty dinner, displaying surprisingly good spirits during the meal. After eating, however, the fever rose slightly.

An examination made by the doctors later showed that the catarrh was absolutely stationary, but that the cough continued and was rather violent.

Son of Corean Emperor Marvels at the "Choo-Choos" as He and His Father Go to See Noted Jap.

SEOUL, Oct. 16.—The emperor and crown prince of Corea left Seoul for Chemulpo to meet the crown prince of Japan at 12:30 this afternoon. This was the first time the crown prince of Corea had ever ridden on a railroad train, and he showed a childlike interest in the proceading. He was delighted with the speed of the cars and wondered on seeing smoke pouring out from the locomotive. The Japanese crown prince landed from a warship in the harbor at 2 p. m., and he was greeted at the dock by the Corean emperor and the Corean crown prince.

NOTES FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

BERLIN.—Director Ballin of the Hamburg-American line, was quoted, in an interview published in the Zeit of Vienna, as admitting the report that his company intended to build a steamer of 47,000 tons, larger than the Cunard liner Lusitania, to be driven by a combination of turbine and reciprocating engines.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Five political prisoners were shot in Hayti, according to a dispatch received at the state department from Minister Furniss. It was known here that a much larger number of Haytians were under charges of conspiracy, and that the arrests do not involve citizens of other countries.

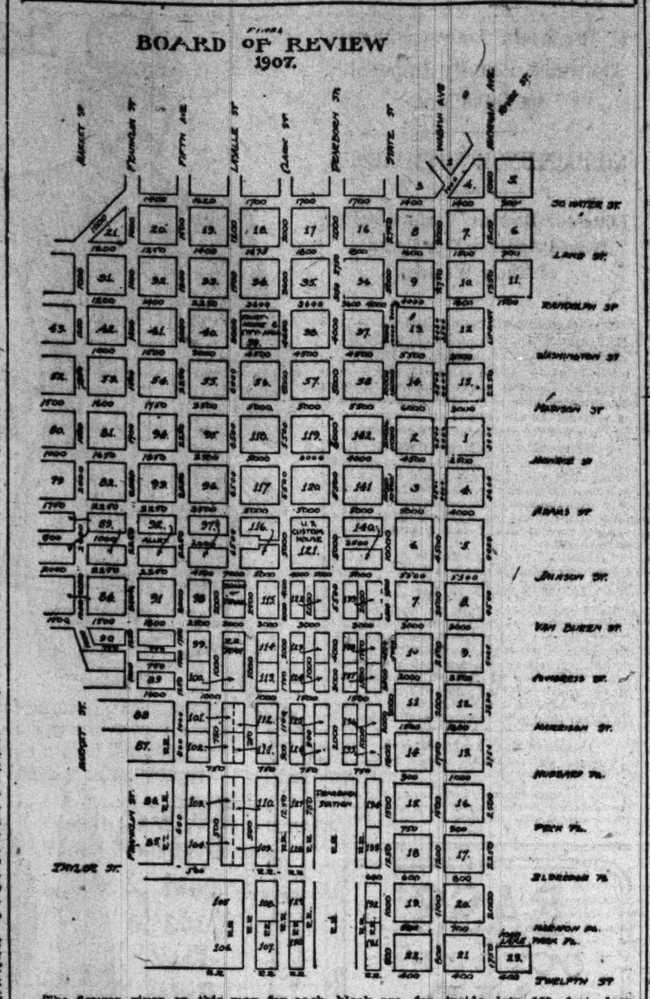

PEKIN.—The imperial Chinese troops detached from the Yang-tse-kiang valley cantonments since the anti-missionary outbreak at Nan-hang-sien have driven the rebels into the mountains on the borders of Kwang-tung. In an engagement at Chung-yi the troops killed seventy of the insurgents.

LONDON.—Lord Curzon, chancellor of Oxford university, announced, at a meeting of the university to appeal for funds, that W. W. Astor, who already has contributed $50,000, has promised an equivalent sum as soon as the first $100,000 is subscribed.

LONDON.—Sir Marrik Raymond Burrell, bart., has been granted a divorce on the ground of his wife's misconduct with an army officer named King. The respondent is a daughter of Walter Winans, and had a separate income of $15,000 yearly.

DUBLIN.—Nathan Straus of New York has, through Richard Croker, offered the city of Dublin a complete milk pasteurizing plant to help in the fight against tuberculosis.

Downtown Real Estate Values as Fixed by Board of Review.

The figures given on this map for each block are for inside lots 100 feet deep. To compute the value of lots of greater or less depth the reviewers used a sliding scale on the percentage basis. The shallower lots were taxed a uniformly higher rate than the deeper ones.

A table used in this connection showed, for instance, that a lot eighty feet deep is worth 83.60 per cent of the front foot value, or a lot 150 feet deep is worth 137.50 per cent of the front foot value indicated on this map.

Single holdings on corners, of a width of 100 feet, are figured by the square foot at the higher street valuation and, in addition to this, a "corner" percentage is applied. Where an alley adjoins a lot five feet is added to the width or depth of the lot, as the case may be, for the benefit derived from it.

DODGE HOODOO AT THE HAGUE

With 13 Conventions Signed, Friday Is Shunned for Quitting

NOT SCARED OF OMENS, BUT—

Better to Wind Up on Saturday than Take Risks, Delegates Say.

THE HAGUE, Oct. 16.—There was a real ripple of excitement at today's session of the peace conference when it suddenly dawned on some of the delegates that Oct. 18, the day set for the final conference, would be Friday.

Delegates who have a wholesome respect for omens recalled the fact that the conference will have signed just thirteen conventions, and the possible effect of such a conjunction of hoodoos scared them. So after a solemn conclave, which, of course, did not officially recognize the potency of either the "thirteen" or the Friday hoodoo, the delegates decided to postpone adjournment until Saturday, hoping in the meantime they might find another convention on which to agree.

Work Done by Conference.

The thirteen conventions adopted by the delegates are:

1. The peaceful regulation of international conflicts.
2. Providing for an international prize court.
3. Regulating the rights and duties of neutrals on land.
4. Regulating the rights and duties of neutrals at sea.
5. Covering the laying of submarine mines.
6. Regarding the bombardment of towns from the sea.
7. In the matter of the collection of contractural debts.
8. The transformation of merchantmen into warships.
9. Regarding the treatment of captured crews.
10. Covering the inviolability of fishing boats.
11. The inviolability of the postal service.
12. The application of the Geneva convention and the Red Cross to sea warfare.
13. To the laws and customs regulating land warfare.

Limits Use of Balloons.

In addition the conference has concluded the following declarations and resolutions:

1. That balloons shall not be used for throwing of explosives.
2. A recommendation in favor of obligatory arbitration.
3. A resolution regarding to the establishment of a permanent court of arbitration.

LIBEL SUIT "SHAMES NATION"

Knights of Round Table Scandal to Be Aired in Berlin Court.

NOBILITY WILL BARE FACTS.

Many High Sounding Names on List of Witnesses Called by Publisher.

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Maximilian Harden's counsel have already summoned the most important witnesses here to give evidence against Count Cuno von Moltke. The count is suing Harden for libel in repeatedly charging in his paper, the Zukunft, that Von Moltke was one of "that truly noble coterie, the knights of the round table," and was grossly immoral.

Harden having refused to meet Von Moltke on the "field of honor," a libel suit was all that was left to the count, and only a verdict in his favor can save him from deepest disgrace. But when one reads the list of personages who have been called as witnesses he does not wonder that the Lokalanzeiger declares the trial will shame Germany in the face of the nations.

Titled Witnesses Called.

Here are the high sounding names, many of them titled:

Prince Gustav Baron von Carland, major in the guard of Bruce von Buelow, the imperial chancellor.

Frau Von Elbe, Count Cuno von Moltke's divorced wife.

Prince Philip Zu Eulenberg, who Harden declared was head and chief of the "round table" and who was one of Emperor William's favorites until this shocking exposure.

Maj. Count Zu Eulenburg, Prince Philip's brother.

Frau Emig von Heyden, who was born Countess Wartenslaben.

Dr. Hirschfield, a specialist Home-sexualism.

Gen. Count Huelsen Haesler, chief of the emperor's military cabinet.

French Diplomat in List.

Raymond Lecomte, secretary of the French embassy here, to whom, it is charged, Von Moltke and Prince Zu Eulenburg disclosed diplomatic secrets.

Dr. Limon, an editor.

Count Johannes Leynar, who fled the country after Harden's revelations.

Prince Reuss.

Government Councillor Magnus.

Count Edgar von Wedel, one of the emperor's masters of ceremonies.

But even these aristocrats are not the highest involved; it appears now that several members of the reigning German families will have to give their testimony.

Board of Review Finishes Its Work, Giving Biggest Advance Ever Known.

NEW TOTAL $2,375,078,435.

More than Two-thirds of Increase Is on Realty, Valued by New System.

Completed totals of taxable property in Cook county—both real estate and personal—for 1907 show the enormous increase of $269,824,800 over 1906 values. The total taxable property placed upon the reviewer's books, at one-fifth values, amounts to $475,015,687, or, in actual value, $2,375,078,435.

These totals—the greatest in every respect in the history of Cook county—were arrived at by the clerical force in the office of the board of review last evening. The clerks had been compiling the figures day and night since the reviewers finished their work nearly a month ago.

More than two-thirds of this increase is on real estate and, to a great extent, is due to the new system of revaluing that was put into use by the reviewers' experts for the first time this year. Heretofore real estate has been valued for purposes of taxation, not by the foot frontage, but in a lump sum.

The greatest increase in real estate values was found, as usual, in the south town, where the increase amounted to $19,588,253 assessed valuation, or about 17 per cent.

Comparative Table by Wards.

Following is a comparative table, showing real estate values in Chicago for this and last year, at one-fifth, or assessed, valuation:

The many weeks of searching in the Probate court among the wills, and in various other places where property might be concealed, showed a pleasing result in the personal property figures. The total increase in personal property assessed is $9,854,775, or an actual value of $46,775,775.

TWO SHOT IN CHINESE FEUD

Mongol Merchant and Polish Bystander Fall in Street.

MOVE IN RIVAL TONGS' WAR.

Assailant Captured After Fleeing to Quarters of the On Leong.

The war that has been threatened for some time among the members of the different "tongs" in Chinatown broke out in earnest last night, and as a result two men are in the Emergency hospital, one of them mortally wounded. His assailant, Harry Lee, a Chinaman, said by the police to be a highbinder, is locked up at the Harrison street station.

The Injured.

DAPREINSKI, MICHAEL, a bystander, 20 years old, 105 Block H, Pullman; shot in right leg by stray bullet in front of 309 Clark street.

WAI, CHIN, Chinese merchant, 46 years old, 308 Clark street; riddled with bullets and taken unconscious to hospital; may die.

The shooting occurred early in the night. Wai, prominent in Chinese circles, was just about to turn into his house when he was attacked from behind by Lee. The first bullet struck him in the back, and like a flash he turned, only to be fired on until Lee's revolver was empty. An instant later Lee darted through a barber shop at 305 Clark street and emerged on the street by running through the corridor of a hotel. He then sought safety at his home, 323 Clark street, which is the quarters of Hip Lung, known as the "merchant prince" of Chinatown.

Hip Lung's Place Surrounded.

The shooting was heard by Lieut. Bonfield of the Harrison street station, who was on a northbound car at Polk street. When the police arrived, Hip Lung's place was surrounded and eighteen celestials were arrested. Lee was not found until Detectives Fitzpatrick and Havern made a tour of the building and found him hiding on top of a swinging platform. He denied that he had fired the shot, but was positively identified by Wai.

It is thought that Lee, who until last week had a laundry in Forty-third street, was commissioned to kill Wai and then flee to China. He is known to be a follower of Hip Lung, and shortly before the shooting drove up to his home in a cab with the merchant. The police are looking for Hip Lung.

Hip Lung organized the On Leong Tong, or Chinese Merchants' association, a short time ago, and a bitter feud exists between that and the other Chinese societies. The Hep Sing Tong is at 354 Clark street and is said to be one of the most powerful Chinese societies in the country. Its branches reach out over the United States, and the police say they have learned that many highbinders are in its ranks. The Moy Tong is at 337 Clark street and the Chin Tong, believed to be visited frequently by Wai, is at 331 Clark street.

Says Wai Threatened Lee.

Frank Moy, head of one of the Chinese leagues, offered bail for Lee. He said that Wai had an unsavory reputation among his countrymen in Chicago and in eastern cities.

"Wai is known to be a highbinder," Moy said. "He belonged to the Boston branch of the society and was feared down there. A month ago he sold his wife to one of the men in Clark street. Lee is a hard working man, and I learned that Wai threatened him some time ago, made a demand for money. If Lee shot him he did so in self-protection."

Detectives Norton and Egan of Inspector Wheeler's office learned that more than forty Mongolians have been terrorizing their countrymen for some time. All are said to be highbinders and carry weapons. Their rendezvous is somewhere in the red light district on the west side.

SAYS MONEY BARS MORE MEN FROM CHRIST THAN WHISKY.

The Rev. R. A. Torrey Upbraids Millionaires for Dishonest Methods and Love of Ostentation.

Rich men who love money received attention from the Rev. R. A. Torrey last evening in his sermon in the tent at Chestnut and North Clark streets.

"How many millionaires right here in Chicago are being kept away from Christ because of their love for money?" said Mr. Torrey. "Their love for show and their love of ostentation are keeping them away from Jesus. They are afraid to come to Christ, for they know that they could not continue their present way of doing business. A Christian must do an honest business.

"I say to you that I believe that the love of money keeps more men away from Christ than the love of whisky."

Dr. Torrey also chided those who are unable to forgive those who have wronged them.

"There are women right here in this audience," he said, "who cannot come to Christ because they will not forgive some one who they believe has treated them unfairly."

MORE ABOUT SUBSTITUTION

A prize of $50 was recently offered by Ainslee's Magazine for the best motto with which to combat substitution. The money was awarded to a man who submitted the following terse and significant phrase: "No, thank you, I want what I asked for. Good bye."

If every self-respecting man or woman would answer likewise when an attempt is made by a dishonest druggist to substitute something of his own make for the article called for by the customer, it would soon end the rascally substitution game.

Positively the worst example of substitution that ever came to our notice—"THE LIMIT"—is a recent case of the wife of a well-known physician who took a prescription of her husband's, intended for her own use, to a certain drug store not much more than a stone's throw from THE ECONOMICAL, and was asked by the pharmacist: "For what is that intended?" The lady innocently told the impudent puppy, who replied: "I can put you up a much better prescription to cure that disease!" Can rascally impudence go farther? Such an atrocity is almost inconceivable! It is, as before said, "THE LIMIT."

At THE ECONOMICAL prescriptions are filled precisely and exactly as written by the Physician, to the minutest particular, and at relatively as low prices as prevail on known-price goods.

Corporation Counsel's Office Finds Electric Consolidation O. K.

MORE COMPENSATION DUE

Board of Trade Is Now Accused of Grabbing Two City Streets.

First Assistant Corporation Counsel Miller has finished his opinion on the legal status of the Commonwealth-Edison Electric Light company. It will be presented to the committee on gas, oil, and electric light when that body meets to take up Mayor Busse's message on the matter.

Although twelve questions were asked of Mr. Miller by the committee, only two were really important, and the information given out at the city hall yesterday was that the answers are:

That the Commonwealth and Edison companies had a legal right to consolidate as they did.

That the Commonwealth-Edison company thus formed has the right to issue securities of its own.

More Compensation Due.

As a necessary result of this the Commonwealth-Edison company must pay to the city compensation on its entire business, and not part of it, as heretofore. The Edison ordinance has no compensation clause in it and the Edison company does most of the business. The Commonwealth ordinance provides for 3 per cent of its gross receipts to be paid the city, but before the consolidation it had been operating only in the outlying territory. With the consolidation recognized, however, the provisions of the Commonwealth ordinance must apply to the Edison as well.

Says Board of Trade Grabbed Land.

Ald. McCoid has another piece of evidence to bring today before his public lands commission, which is investigating the charges that city real estate has been appropriated by individuals and corporations. He has been informed that the board of trade has taken from the city parts of both Sherman and La Salle streets, and he wants to know about it. He said the map department records showed these streets ought to be sixty-six feet wide, while as a matter of fact they are only fifty-five.

The charge is difficult of proof, as when the Board of Trade building was erected the land there was largely a clayhole, and what is now the jog in La Salle street was a continuation of Pacific avenue, then more familiarly known as "Boiler" avenue.

The commission will also take up the charge that land has been grabbed in Capt. Streeter's "district of Lake Michigan."

STRIKERS ARE NOT VAGRANTS.

Judge Petit So Rules in Case of Fourteen Men Arrested Near the Kochs Plant.

"Men on strike are not habitual loafers," ruled Municipal Judge Petit at the Chicago avenue police court yesterday.

"I cannot hold these men under the vagrancy charge," said he. "I do not think it was intended to be construed as including men on strike who were orderly and peaceable."

Thus the court decided the cases against fourteen men who had been arrested on Tuesday near the plant of Theodore A. Kochs & Co., Wells and Erie streets.

Oil Combine Preparing to Put in Evidence Continuously and in Bulk.

TO ADJOURN CASE FRIDAY

Gen. Bingham Sued for $25,000 and Arrested on Complaint of an Officer.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE. New York, Oct. 16.

Counsel for the Standard Oil company have prepared an elaborate defense in the government's suit for dissolution of the oil combine which they say will be developed in its entirety. The government's attorneys have concluded taking their testimony. The Standard's lawyers said today they had not sought to adduce testimony on cross examination of officials and employés of the so-called oil trust which would refute the allegations in the federal complaint, but had deferred bringing out much evidence until later, when it could be produced continuously and in bulk. No intimation was given of the nature of the testimony which counsel for the Standard said would be brought out.

Standard Plans Putting In Evidence in Bulk.

A telegram was sent to William G. Rockefeller, assistant treasurer of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, last night by counsel of the Standard that the government desired him as a witness before the adjournment is taken Friday for a month.

Frank B. Kellogg of counsel for the United States spent the entire day in placing on the record statements submitted by several witnesses showing the profits made by the Standard in the different localities of the country. Statements were produced showing that the Standard not only secured information concerning competitive shipments in the United States but in foreign countries.

Police Commissioner Theodore Bingham was today placed under arrest, following the service on him of papers in a civil suit in which damages of $25,000 are asked. The complainant is former Police Capt. James G. Reynolds, who yesterday was ejected from police headquarters, where he had called to lodge a formal protest against his forced retirement from the department. The commissioner furnished bondsmen. Last week Reynolds was ordered before a board of surgeons, which pronounced him unfit for duty. Yesterday Reynolds called upon Commissioner Bingham to notify him that he would appeal to the courts for reinstatement. According to the affidavit of complainant, Gen. Bingham, in the presence of witnesses and without provocation, "deliberately and in a brutal manner did assault plaintiff by raising his cane in a threatening manner and using threatening language." Reynolds was forcibly ejected from the building, he says, on Bingham's orders.

Bingham Sued for $25,000 and Arrested.

A man who is engaged in the working out of plans for the reorganization of the Interborough - Metropolitan company said today that Thomas F. Ryan and his friends, under the new order, probably would retire from active participation in the management of the properties. Directors of the company who came in by way of the Interborough Rapid Transit company are practically agreed, it was said, that Mr. Ryan and his friends ought to withdraw.

Expect Ryan and His Friends to Retire.

That there had been any open break between Mr. Ryan and Mr. Belmont was denied. On the contrary, it was expected that Mr. Ryan would himself accede to this proposition and do everything possible to carry it through when the time comes. In this connection it was said that the Inter-Met. board itself probably will do nothing in the way of bringing suits for the recovery of moneys supposed to have been misappropriated.

Kings county hospital physicians having declared both the Rev. Maxwell Walenta, pastor of St. Lucas' German Evangelical Lutheran church of Williamsburg, and Mrs. Dora Bauer, his "affinity," insane, the couple was discharged in the police court today. Mrs. Bauer, who is the wife of Louis A. Bauer, an electrotyper, and the minister were arrested a few days ago, charged with offending public decency, and were committed to have their sanity inquired into, as they had declared themselves to be "soulmates." Relatives took them in charge upon their release.

Counsel for George W. Perkins, indicted for forgery in connection with his management of the New York Life Insurance company as vice president, argued four hours today before Justice Dowling in the Supreme court, criminal branch, that the six indictments against Mr. Perkins should be quashed. District Attorney Jerome, who will not make an oral argument, has until Oct. 30 to file a brief in reply. Lewis L. Delafield and William N. Cohen made the argument for Mr. Perkins.

IN MERRY WAR OVER BABIES

Michigan Women's Clubs Begin an Extraordinary Contest.

JEALOUSY BACK OF CLASH.

Organization Which Mothers Most Children in Year to Get Prize.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—What woman's club in Michigan will win the proud distinction of mothering the most babies in the next year? This is the great question that was discussed tonight at the meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Flint. And this is how it all came about:

At the meeting this afternoon the secretary in her official report awarded to the Portland Literary club of Flint the towering honor of the championship birth record of the state. Sixty-four women compose the club and in the last year eight became mothers.

The presidents of half a dozen clubs challenged the Portland club to enter a baby raising contest for the next year. It was accepted instantly. The members of the Portland club say that in a year's time they will come to the fore not with eight babies but a dozen or more. The others in this great pennant race say they will surpass even a record of twelve.

KILLED IN WIRELESS STATION.

Operator Electrocuted in a Manner Unexplained—Manager Thinks He Was Experimenting.

South Wellfleet, Mass., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Electrocuted in some manner as yet unexplained, the body of Arthur L. Dakin of Somerville, a wireless telegraph operator, was found in the operating room of the Marconi station here this morning. Dakin went on duty some time during the night, and when it came time to relieve his watch his body was discovered in the room where are located the sending and receiving instruments. Dakin had been employed at the station here for two months. He had been interested in wireless telegraphy since he was 18 years old. Manager Taylor thinks Dakin must have been killed while making some experiments on his own account.

TRACTION SCHEME READY FOR COURT

New Reorganization Plan to Be Submitted to Grosscup Next Tuesday.

BONDHOLDERS ON TOP.

Presentation Intended as Answer to Guaranty Trust Company's Suit.

The promise is that the latest plan for reorganizing the Union Traction properties will be presented to Judge Grosscup in the United States Circuit court next Tuesday. That is the date set for the hearing of the recent petitions of the Guaranty Trust company of New York, attacking both the management of the properties under the receivership and any plan of reorganization. This latest plan is to be brought in in answer.

While the plan in detail is still in process of formation in New York, it is known in a general way that it is more favorable to the bondholders than was the one thrown out by the federal Court of Appeals, and consequently not so good for the stockholders and general creditors. This had to be done in order to get the unanimous consent of the bondholders, which the Court of Appeals said was necessary before any reorganization could be had.

Bonds Now Have Preference.

In the original Grosscup-Gray plan of reorganization $4,116,000 was set aside in securities to be classed as "series A," which would take place along with the bonds to be issued for the rehabilitation of the properties and be a first mortgage on the properties, all existing bonds being classed as second mortgages. These securities were to be exchanged for receiver's certificates and other floating indebtedness. But since this plan has been thrown out the new one gives the bonds the preference over the floating indebtedness, and this is what has moved the guaranty company into action. As most of its claims are in the form of receiver's certificates, which it took in place of already secured judgments, its opposition is regarded seriously.

Inasmuch as the guaranty company in its petitions alleges that the Grosscup-Gray plan of reorganization has been nullified by the upper court, it is necessary to bring the new plan to the attention of Judge Grosscup in a formal way. The contention of the Union Traction interests is that the Court of Appeals simply threw out the one plan submitted to it, but that did not mean that no other plan would not be acceptable. The new plan is given as one that could pass muster.

Electrification Pushed Along.

The council committee on state legislation agreed yesterday to ask the council to urge the legislature to pass the bill drawn by Ald. Fisher providing for the electrification of all steam roads in Chicago. The bill provides that within three years after the passage of the act all railways must change their motive power inside the city limits under a penalty of $500 a day for failure.

The bill presented by Ald. Foell asking the legislature to give the city authority to fix the charges of all public utility corporations was sent back for redrafting at the request of Ald. Finn. As drawn the bill provided that the rates fixed by the city must allow reasonable interest charges on securities issued by the companies, and Ald. Finn wanted the city to have the right to determine what amount of bonds should be issued.

CHICAGO THE CENTRAL DAIRY, WISCONSIN MAN'S TRIBUTE.

Cow Is Foster Mother of Three-Fourths of Rising Generation, Says Former Gov. Hoard.

W. D. Hoard, former governor of Wisconsin, at a dinner given by the ways and means committee of the Association of Commerce at the Great Northern yesterday neon designated Chicago as the "Great Central Dairy."

"The dairy business is a tremendous factor in the happiness of our homes," he said. "The cow is the foster mother of three-fourths of our rising generation. Wisconsin alone figures her annual dairy transaction at $55,000,000, and with the central states considered we must admit the industry equals almost any other in the country."

Today Mr. Hoard will act as chairman of the national convention of the Dairy Farmers' and Creamery Patrons' association. Among the speakers are Colon C. Lillie, president of the Michigan Dairy association; Prof. J. W. Fraser of the University of Illinois, Prof. T. L. Haecker of the University of Minnesota, and Prof. H. H. Dean of Ontario's Agricultural college.

$250 FOR ONE EAR OF CORN

Record Price Reached in Lively Bidding at the Coliseum.

PART OF L. B. CLORE'S CROP.

Indiana Owner of Thirteen Acres Has Won Most Prizes at Show.

Two hundred and fifty dollars was the world's record price paid last night for a single ear of corn.

The ear, a "Boone county white," was knocked down to the highest bidder in an exciting auction at the national corn exposition at the Coliseum. The purchaser of this ear of corn—a bushel at that rate would have sold at $15,000—was the man who raised it—L. B. Clore, a tall, athletic-appearing farmer from Franklin, Ind. He has taken more prizes than any other man in the show, prizes amounting to nearly $8,000, including a Texas farm. He raised it on thirteen acres of land. The ear was taken from one of ten that took the sweepstakes in their class.

Mr. Clore did not have everything his own way in the bidding. He started it at $50 and it was run up rapidly.

Clore Called to Platform.

The auction was conducted by Prof. J. W. Jones, one of the instructors at the Iowa State Agricultural college. When Mr. Clore reached a $135 bid Mr. Jones invited him to the platform in response to cheers from the audience.

"I can't bear to see that ear go to anybody else," said Mr. Clore, and the audience marveled to hear the tones of the big man's voice tremble. "It's part of my life work, folks. I've been raising that corn for the last fifteen years, and if I lose it it's like losing a friend."

When Charles A. Stevens bid $200 the crowd thought he'd get the ear sure. Then Clore came in with a bid of $205. Mr. Stevens dropped out after bidding $225, and Clore immediately jumped to $250.

J. Ren Lee, from Clarinda, Ia., bid in ten ears of Reid's yellow Dent, his own raising, for $15, and C. E. Conway of Alexandria, S. D., bid in a stack of ten ears of white corn for $3.

Students Get Useful Pointers.

If you want to make good bacon out of your hogs don't feed them corn high in oil. This is one point learned by students of the agricultural colleges of the United States, more than 200 of them, who had a special day at the national corn exposition yesterday at the Coliseum.

The instruction was at the exhibit made by the Illinois agricultural experiment station. Dr. Louis H. Smith, chemist of the experiment station, and in charge of the exhibit, explained it. He showed the amount of the various constituents in a bushel of corn—the starch, protein, fiber, and ash.

URGES HANGING FOR MUCKRAKER.

E. Benjamin Andrews Wants Severest Penalty Imposed on Offenders.

NO PATIENCE WITH LIBEL

Educator Decries Warfare Being Waged Against Men Because of Their Wealth.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Dr. E. Benjamin Andrews, president of the University of Nebraska, advocated hanging as punishment for muck rakers in an address today at the fall convocation of George Washington university. Dr. Andrews, who once found the atmosphere of Brown university too hot for him because he chose to follow the free silver teachings of William Jennings Bryan, and who in consequence thereof found an intellectual asylum in the commoner's own town, was severe not only upon the man with the muck rake but he defended rich men and decried the warfare being waged against men of wealth merely because they were wealthy.

"Hanging," he said, "should be the punishment meted out to a proved libeler. "None of the business villainies alleged to be so rife can compare in atrocity with these squalid campaigns of libel and libelous caricature which recent months have produced."

Dr. Andrews said he did not care for the rich as such, but that the pride, idleness, and doubtful practices of a few rich are no just cause for putting all rich men in the pillory. He contended that high prices of commodities were attributable to the tolerance of the public rather than to monopolistic tendencies.

Slander Suit Is Dismissed.

A slander suit for $50,000, brought by Solomon Fischmann, a cloak manufacturer, 910 Milwaukee avenue, against Peter Van Vlissingen, was dismissed in Judge Pinckney's court yesterday after the testimony for the plaintiff was heard. Fischmann alleged that the defendant called him a "Grebug."

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

DAUGHTER'S STORY CHEERS MAGILLS.

Girl, on Stand, Parries Every Effort of State to Shake Suicide Theory.

LETTERS TO GO TO JURY.

Defense Offers Writings of Dead Wife; Prosecution Plans Attack on Them Today.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Fred H. Magill saw his way out of the wilderness today. For the first time since the joint trial of himself and his young wife for the alleged murder of his first wife began the case took a turn which appears to make acquittal almost within grasp.

The guiding star out of the maze of doubt and suspicion which has clung to the Magills ever since the day of Mrs. Pet Magill's death last May was Marguerite, the 17 year old daughter of Mrs. Pet Magill and the former Clinton banker.

Marguerite's success on the witness stand on Tuesday was so great that she was allowed to return today and tell the complete story of the circumstances surrounding her mother's death. It was a story that had a profound effect on the great audience.

Air Flippant at Times.

Her attitude at times suggested flippancy, and it was evident that she had turned from her mother long before Mrs. Magill's death to the side of her father and the girl who has since become the second Mrs. Magill. She had left all for those two.

The girl was on the stand nearly all the afternoon, and when the state concluded its examination, unable to move her a jot, the defense placed in evidence the seven soiled, frayed letters found after Mrs. Magill's death, and claimed to have been written by her.

The state won in a sharp battle over the possession of these letters over night, and the attack on their genuineness will begin tomorrow after Magill and his wife have testified.

Miss Magill was examined by former Judge G. K. Ingham, leading counsel for the defense. She first identified the letters as being in her mother's writing.

"What was your mother's health before her death?" asked Attorney Ingham.

"She had bad headaches and stomach trouble. She often said she could hardly stand it."

"Did she ever have chloroform in the house?"

"Not that I know of."

Tells of Mother's Last Acts.

"What did you all do on the day before your mother died?"

"Mother asked me to bring Faye over at noon. Faye cooked dinner for us all. Then Faye and I went out in the back yard to wash our hair. Mother seemed cheerful. She talked to us from her room. In the afternoon she said she wanted to go riding, so we all drove to the cemetery.

"We got home about dark and mother and all of us sat down to a cold supper. In the middle of it mother got up and walked around the table. She put her arms round Faye's neck and kissed her and said, 'Faye, you know I love you. If anything happens to me tonight, I want you to take care of Marguerite.'

"After Faye had gone home mother called on the phone and told her not to forget that promise. Mother and father went to bed at 11 o'clock. I heard them go down for beer. Mother called out and asked if she had kissed me, and just before I went to sleep father came in and kissed me. That is all I know until father woke me and told me mother was dead. I called Faye on the phone."

State Baffled by Girl.

Attorney Herrick was not able to break this story in the cross examination. Marguerite admitted she had discussed her testimony with the lawyers many times, but said she had never talked about it to her father or stepmother.

She said she had returned from San Diego, Cal., July 10, and had been driven to Attorney Lemon's home in Clinton from Bloomington in a cab at midnight.

"Did Faye often spend the night at your house?" asked Mr. Herrick.

"Yes."

"Did she sleep with you?"

"Yes."

"Was the door locked?"

"Always when I had company."

"Was Faye ever there when you were not?"

"Yes, but never without mother's invitation."

"How often did your father take Faye home alone?"

"A third of the time—when he felt like it."

Girl Wife's Mother Testifies.

Mrs. W. W. Graham, mother of the defendant, Faye Graham Magill, was the second important witness of the day. She was barely able to get through her story and after it was all over was led weeping from the room by her husband, a gray bent old farmer.

Mrs. Graham said she had often talked with Pet Magill about Faye's visits to the Magill home. Faye was invited by Mrs. Magill, she said.

"Pet acted toward her like a sister," said Mrs. Graham. "The morning of the death Marguerite called up on the phone. She said she wanted Faye and was crying."

Mrs. Graham recalled that it was her daughter who got the underclothing in which Mrs. Magill was buried.

"Mrs. Pond called for some," said Mrs. Graham, "and Faye stepped into the next room and brought an outfit out. She said: 'O, mamma, this is the clothing I bought for Pet.'"

Dr. J. C. Myers, Mrs. Mary I. Phares, and several other witnesses identified the handwriting of the letters as Mrs. Magill's. Dr. Myers admitted it was bolder than usual and some strange words were used.

Mrs. Ida Greenwood of Bloomington, E. L. Fredenstein, and French Deland all testified for the defense in the afternoon. They identified the letters.

State's "Trap" Is Upset.

Attorney Herrick tried to spring a trap in the shape of a decoy letter written in imitation of Mrs. Magill's hand. Three witnesses testified that the letter was written by Mrs. Magill, but Judge Cochran ruled that all evidence and testimony concerning this exhibit would be excluded. It was a hard blow for the state.

After Marguerite Magill had made the identification of the letters complete, Attorney Ingham offered them in evidence.

After a lively argument by opposing counsel Judge Cochrane ruled in favor of the state and the letters were turned over to Attorney Miller. Tomorrow their genuineness will be attacked.

What the Letters Contained.

The first letter was that found pinned to Mrs. Magill's gown. It said that she had used chloroform to end her life because of the constant nagging of two of Magill's relatives. It also said where other letters would be found.

A letter told her daughter Marguerite not to worry. Magill's relatives were accused of nagging in this letter, which urged the daughter to "stick" to her father. Faye Graham was praised as a loyal friend.

One of the letters was addressed to "Dear Faye." It said that the stories circulated about "you and Fred" were scandalous lies. It urged the present wife of Magill to be a friend to Marguerite.

Another letter, addressed to "Fred and Marguerite," begged forgiveness for the writer's deed, and said that if any accusation was made against Magill in connection with Mrs. Magill's death she wanted him to publish all her letters to show the world he was innocent.

To Fred Magill another letter was written again exonerating him and Faye Graham of any misconduct. In this Mrs. Magill named her pallbearers.

A joint letter to Faye Graham and Marguerite Magill requested Fred Magill and Faye Graham to marry.

Proposed New North Side Theater.

The new north side theater in Diversey boulevard, east of Evanston avenue, to be devoted to musical comedy, is expected to prove an attractive architectural addition to that part of the city. Alexander P. Criswell and Charles E. Affeld are behind the project, which contemplates a playhouse to cost $150,000, with a seating capacity of 1,600. The plans are by Albert S. Hecht. They show three innovations—the supporting of the balcony on two steel trusses from steel posts in the side walls, doing away with posts in the audience room; the absence of a gallery, and ample exits on all four sides.

TAFT'S SPEECH CAUSES STIR

American in Manila Sees in It Effort to Placate Filipino.

ASSEMBLY STARTS WORK.

Delegates a Trifle Green on Procedure; Osmena Elected Chief.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 16.—Secretary of War Taft's speech at the opening of the Philippine assembly today, outlining the policy of the American government, has failed to satisfy some of the American residents of Manila.

The general impression of the secretary's address is that it was designated to placate the Filipinos. He intimated that misbehavior would result in the abolishment of the assembly, but it is declared that this contingency is not expected. As for the Filipinos, they express no opinion of the speech one way or the other.

At this afternoon's session of the assembly the first business was the selection of a president, and Sergio Osmena, the nationalist who formerly was governor of the island of Cebu, was chosen. Señor Osmena is a young man and had no part in the revolution. He is held in high esteem by the government and his own people. He was nominated by Manuel Quezon and seconded in an eloquent speech by Donimador Gomez.

All the assemblymen, including Señor Gomez, whose election is to be contested, were then formally sworn in. The oath included acknowledgment of sovereignty and allegiance to the American government. The session lasted for three hours and the only actual business transacted was the selection of a secretary. The delegates showed they had no understanding of parliamentary law and procedure.

Filipinos Strong on Talk.

The first meeting of the assembly was reasonably successful, however, despite the widespread disregard of parliamentary rules. There was a general tendency on the part of every assemblyman to argue every motion. Twenty-seven obtained the floor and feverishly discussed the election of a secetary. A majority of the speakers argued against each other and introduced personal contentions, while overlooking real issues. Government officials were conspicuous by their absence and the assemblymen were thus left absolutely free to follow their own courses.

The feature of the session was an address by Señor Gomez, who declared against bringing politics into legislative business and asked the delegates to show their patriotism by forsaking party affiliations and legislating for the benefit of the Filipino people.

The new assemblymen and the provincial governors were the guests of Gov. Gen. Smith at a grand ball tonight.

Washington Clerks Threaten by New Method of Travel to Drive Trolley Out of Business.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—On Monday morning next Washington will see a large number of men and women gliding along the streets on roller skates. They will be department clerks going to their work. In a few weeks, it is thought, the street cars will be empty and the streets swarming with roller skaters, ranging all the way from 17 to 70 years of age. An organization has been formed in the postoffice department, whose members agree to go to and from their work on roller skates beginning Monday morning.

SHIPS' TUNNEL PERIL IS GONE.

Last Bit of Debris Dredged from the River Channel at Washington Street.

Washington street tunnel, for a score of years a costly annoyance to vessels, became a thing of the past yesterday when the last vestige of debris was dredged away. Full twenty feet of water is now available in the west draw.

Vessolmen warned the shippers they would send no more boats into the south branch until the obstructions had been removed.

Mr. Marcy, president of the Armour Grain company, then guaranteed the dredging company its bill for clearing the channel.

MILL BLAST COST 38 LIVES.

Search of the Ruins at Fontanet, Ind., Swells Death List.

BEGIN TO REBUILD VILLAGE.

Survivors Clearing Away Debris; Will Fight New Powder Plant.

Fontanet, Ind., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—After all day search of the ruins of the Du Pont Powder company's wrecked mills and the devastated town of Fontanet the number of persons killed by the explosions yesterday morning has been fixed at thirty-eight. Of these all but two have been identified. The injured number more than 600, but none is expected to die.

Survivors Begin Rebuilding.

Early today Gov. Hanly proclaimed martial law and ordered Company C of the national guard from Indianapolis here to assist the Terre Haute soldiers in preserving order.

The work of burying the dead, clearing away the debris, and rebuilding the town was begun early and already good progress has been made.

It is declared that the villagers will seek by means of an injunction to prevent the rebuilding of the powder mill by the Du Pont company.

State authorities will conduct a rigid investigation to determine the cause of the horrible disaster, but as all who could have thrown light on the matter—the employés of the mill—perished in the blast, it is not believed definite information can be obtained.

Live in Fear of Explosion.

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—People living in the town of Pleasant Prairie, where the big plant of the DuPont Powder company is situated, are making another effort to get the state of Wisconsin to take steps to protect the people against an explosion similar to the one which occurred at Fontanet yesterday. The plant is seven miles from Kenosha, and it is claimed that the amount of giant powder and nitroglycerin stored in the magazines there is more than double the amount which exploded at Fontanet. There have been two explosions at the Pleasant Prairie plant this year, in which twelve men lost their lives.

THREE CHURCHES PLANNING UNION.

Vote of Congregationalists Is Unanimous for Proposed Amalgamation.

Episcopal General Convention Favors Restricting the "Open Pulpit."

Cleveland, O., Oct. 16.—The triennial council of the Congregational church by a unanimous vote tonight adopted the report of the committee of twenty-eight on the subject of a tri-church union looking to an amalgamation of the Congregationalists, Methodist Protestants, and United Brethren into one church organization. The vote on the adoption of the report was unanimous. The action of the triennial council expresses the purpose and expectation of Congregationalists to arrange a union with these other two bodies and leaves the details to a future general council, the Congregational members of which are to be chosen by each state body, where they can be instructed as to the mind of the churches after fuller knowledge of proposed details.

Restricts the "Open Pulpit."

Richmond, Va., Oct. 16.—A declaration by the house of deputies regarding the "open pulpit" and a discussion of a change in the title page of the prayer book, involving a change in the constitution, were among the subjects before today's session of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church. The submission of a joint committee's recommendation that the triennial convention of 1910 be held in Cincinnati, and a debate regarding church work in the tropics, Alaska, and the arctic region, were also topics.

The declaration regarding the "open pulpit" was in the following resolution passed by the house of deputies:

"No minister in charge of any congregation of this church, or, in case of vacancy or absence, no church warden, vestryman, or trustee of the congregation, shall permit any person to officiate therein without sufficient evidence of his being duly licensed or ordained to minister in this church; provided that nothing herein shall be so construed as to forbid communicants of the church to act as lay readers, or to prevent the ministers in charge of any congregation of this church, when authorized by the bishop, permitting a sermon or address therein by any Christian person approved by the bishop."

Title of the Prayer Book.

It was recommended that the title of the prayer book be changed by striking out the words "according to the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States." It was explained that the translation of the term "Protestant Episcopal" was impossible in many languages, involving at all times a substitution of terms, and that in foreign fields it seemed impracticable to speak of the church as being confined to the United States.

The house deemed it inexpedient to ask any change in the legal title of the church.

The question of the prayer book will be referred to the house of deputies for its concurrence, and in case the resolution is adopted the change in title, involving a change in the constitution, will not be finally accepted until adopted in the convention of 1910.

The feature of tonight's session was the passage by an overwhelming vote of the so-called archbishop bill, which, however, is only for the election of a presiding bishop of the church, who will be paid and controlled by the general convention, and will serve until he becomes 70 years of age. This bishop can be selected only from those presiding over dioceses of the United States.

Aid for Ministers Over 70.

Clinton, Ill., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—The Presbyterian synod of Illinois today adopted a resolution for the ministerial sustenation fund for the relief of clergymen who have passed their seventieth year. It is a form of life insurance optional with all pastors.

The feature of the afternoon session was historical addresses by the Rev. A. C. Bergen of Decatur on the Cumberland branch and by the Rev. C. N. Wilder of Champaign on the Presbyterian branch.

The Women's Home Missionary society, which is holding its convention in conjunction with the synod, elected new officers as follows: President, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Bloomington; vice president, Mrs. A. R. Taylor, Decatur; corresponding secretary, Miss Fannie Clelland, Rock Island; recording secretary and treasurer, Miss Frances Perry, Bloomington.

Asks More Pay for Preachers.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—"There ought to be concerted action in this convention to raise the salary of every Baptist minister 20 per cent." said the Rev. John A. Earl of the Belden Avenue church today to the Illinois Baptist convention. "I have dedicated myself from this time on to the raising of the salaries of Baptist preachers. The poorest washerwoman who works every day gets a larger salary than the average Baptist minister. I would send the best men to the weak country churches and pay them good salaries. Give the preacher enough to live on and he will furnish the souls. Living has advanced more than 50 per cent in the last twenty years, while salaries have not gone up over 5 per cent. Of the minister we say, 'Give him souls for his hire.' This should be amended to read 'dollars.'"

The Rev. Mr. Earl said he was tired of hearing the saloon spoken of as a foreign institution. It was strictly American and could not be duplicated any place in all the old world.

The Rev. Smith Ford of Chicago delivered the annual sermon tonight.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

NORFOLK, Va.—At the session of the National Disciples of Christ the Rev. G. A. Hoffmann of St. Louis reported a grand total of $8,260,305 raised for all purposes and from all sources by the disciples in the United States last year, with a present church membership of 1,283,416 and 6,019 ministers.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill.—The thirty-third annual conference of the Illinois Unitarian church and other independent societies opened here. The Rev. W. M. Backus of Chicago opened the convention with the annual sermon, his subject being: "The Modern Conception of Life."

RICHMOND, IND.—James Wood of Kisko, N. Y., was elected clerk of the general conference of American Friends. Willis L. Hobbs of North Carolina and Mabel Douglass of Oregon were chosen assistant clerks, and Miles White of Baltimore, Ind., treasurer.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The morning session of the general evangelical conference was taken up in discussing the advisability of changing the name of the church. It was finally voted down. There will be no change for at least four years.

HELEN MALONEY IN NEW YORK?

Gotham Newspaper Gets Letter Signed Samuel Clarkson, Man Said to Have Eloped with Her.

New York, Oct. 16.—[Special.]—A letter received by a newspaper today bearing a signature purporting to be that of Samuel Clarkson, the young Englishman who eloped with Miss Helen Maloney, daughter of the multimillionaire, Martin Maloney, would seem to show that the couple are in hiding in this city and did not cross the ocean at all. The letter was mailed yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock, and was stamped at the postoffice station located on Thirty-second street, near Broadway.

Although there have been numerous reports published, including special cables from London, to the effect that the elopers had been seen in that city, these reports have been positively denied in every case by the family.

All efforts to prove or disprove the authenticity of the letter today were unavailing.

FAUNTLEROY'S AUTHOR ROBBED

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett Asks New York Police to Recover $14,000 in Silverware.

New York, Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, who did "Little Lord Fauntleroy" of treasured reminiscence, has asked the police to get back for her some $14,000 worth of silverware, of which her West Eighty-seventh street house has been denuded, piece by piece, during the last six months. It appears that the thieves who robbed the authoress took advantage of her recent stay in the Rest Cure sanitarium at Fishkill to perpetrate the job.

Steals in Order to Wed.

His desire to get married was given by William Condoux, 23 years old, 280 Peoria street, a salesman employed by the Bach Fur company, 121-129 Michigan avenue, as his reason for stealing furs valued at $1,000 from his employers. He was arrested at his home yesterday.

Criminological Society to Meet.

The Criminological Society of Chicago will hold its regular meeting this evening at the Sherman house. Dr. H. H. Hart will speak on "The County Jail Systems."

Are Fat Women Always Married to Thin Men?

"Watch the four o'clock promenade on Fifth Avenue, New York, or along Rotten Row in London and you will be struck by the circumstance that every fat woman is accompanied by a thin man, while every fat man has a lean and, usually, tall woman by his side," said a world-renowned form and beauty specialist recently, to a gathering of artists and newspaper men in a Broadway cafe. "The effect is grotesque and every artistic sense is offended by the lop-sided, top-heavy, overbalanced appearance of such a couple. It is an entirely unnecessary offense, too, on the part of the fat person, at least," continued the beauty expert, "for getting rid of an excess of fat is a very simple matter. Most people think they must punish themselves with a slim diet and lots of the hard, distasteful work called exercise in order to do so, but that is a mistake. As a matter of fact there is a simple mixture of common, wholesome, harmless household remedies that if put together in the right quantities and taken in teaspoonful quantities after each meal and at bedtime will take off from half a pound to one pound a day from either man or woman without causing wrinkles, interfering with their diet in any shape or form, or requiring any gymnastics to help it out. This mixture consists of ½ oz. Marmola, ½ oz. Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 3½ ozs. Syrup Simplex, which are obtainable at any drug store for a few cents. Most fat people never heard of this effective home recipe, however, and so, thinking they must diet and must exercise to get thin (which is not true and not good advice, either) they will do neither and so continue fat and porpoiselike, a travesty and caricature of the human form divine." One fat newspaper worker in the group was seen taking notes, however, and the chances are this paragraph is the result.—Advertisement.

SMALL PROMISES FIGHT TO FINISH.

"Politicians" Trying to Victimize Operators by Getting Funds, His Assertion.

"LIAR," SAY OPPONENTS.

Col. Clowry Re-elected President of the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Charges of usurpation of authority were made yesterday by Sylvester J. Small, suspended president of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, against the union officials who ousted him from office.

He asserted "politicians" within the organization are responsible for calling the special convention in Milwaukee and that their object is to obtain control of $10,000 of the union's insurance funds.

He said he was going to fight his enemies in the union to a finish. When seen last evening at his residence, 6500 Evans avenue, Small was busy preparing his plan of campaign. He was advised he could not get an injunction against the members of the national executive board.

Upon being asked to make a statement as to his intended course of action Small said:

"Give me twenty-four hours more and I'll give you my whole plan. Just now I can't talk out, because if I do my plan will miscarry. I will say, however, that I am going after them with a hammer."

Small Makes Statement.

Then he sat down at a typewriter and wrote the following statement:

"The efforts on the part of politicians, among whom are some who have succeeded in having themselves elected to official positions in the organization to pull off a 'rump' convention in Milwaukee on Oct. 23 will fail.

"The promoters of this scheme attempt to override all of the provisions of the constitution adopted in the convention held in Cincinnati a year ago last June.

"In the present case the three members of the general executive board now in Chicago assume prerogatives not given either to the board, or to the president. The object is, of course, to get a few selected persons to Milwaukee and pull off a big graft proposition. We have over $10,000 in the mutual benefit fund. What the boys may say or do in the heat of passion does not worry me."

Small exhibited a telegram from Secretary C. H. Gibbs of the local union at Helena, Mont., which stated the local condemned the action deposing him as president.

"Liar"—Reply by Opponents.

"Small is a liar," said M. J. Riedy, a member of the national executive board, when shown Small's statement. "There is no attempt to gain possession of the insurance funds. The board has taken the position that the insurance funds shall not be touched except for mutual benefit purposes.

"There is one question which Small has not answered. Where was he for four days in New York, when he could not be found? Secretary Russell sent Mrs. Russell down to New York to find out about it. She reported he was sick and nervous."

F. J. Konenkamp, another member of the board, also branded Small's charges as a lie. He said it was Small's last card in a losing game.

At a meeting of strikers in Uhlich's hall action was taken refusing to waive Chicago local's right to have a thirty days' notice before the convention is held.

Col. Clowry Re-elected.

New York, Oct. 16.—Col. Robert C. Clowry today was reelected president of the Western Union Telegraph company. There have been rumors afloat recently to the effect Clowry was about to resign, but the action of the directors in reelecting him put at rest these reports.

George W. E. Atkins, who for a year past has held the office of acting vice president, was elected a permanent vice president. All other officers were reelected.

Gen. Thomas H. Hubbard was elected to the executive committee.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE IS FELT; WIDE AREA REPORTS SHOCK.

Seismographs in Washington, Baltimore, Albany, Toronto, and on Isle of Wight Record Disturbance.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Officials of the weather bureau report that an earthquake of great violence was recorded this morning by the seismograph in the local observatory. The strongest motion of the disturbance began shortly after 9 o'clock and subsided about six minutes later.

There is nothing to indicate in what part of the world the shock occurred.

The department issued a bulletin during the forenoon reporting the occurrence. In part it was:

"Just after the sheets of the seismograph were changed this morning a great earthquake was recorded. The precise beginning of the disturbance cannot be made out as yet, but it was noticed before the strong motion began that an earthquake was occurring, and the record was adjusted to the middle portion of the sheet."

Reports received here show that the shock was recorded at Cheltenham, Md.; Albany, N. Y.; Baltimore, Md.; and Toronto, Can., on the North American continent and on the Isle of Wight.

FIVE DROWNED WHEN BOAT CARRYING 25 IS CAPSIZED.

Laborers at Work on a Power Plant Overload a Small Craft and Several Lose Their Lives.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Five men employed in the construction work of the Economy Light and Power company at its new Channahan power plant were drowned and the lives of twenty other workmen imperiled by the capsizing of a small boat at noon today. The dead are:

ANDERSON, ALBERT, colored, Chicago.
BOSICK, PETER, Lockport.
GRACIE, CHARLES, Toronto, Ont.
HYDERIC, JOHN, Chicago.
MONK, FRANK.

The men were on the way to camp for dinner. The camp is on the west side of the canal, while the men were working on the east side. When the whistles blew at noon the workmen made a rush for the boat and twenty-five piled into it. As the boat neared the center of the stream it gave a lurch and threw the men to one side. In another instant all were thrown into the water.

Most of them could swim, but the struggles of those who could not imperiled the others. Several of the men reached the bank and helped their friends out. Three men succeeded in getting hold of the edge of the boat and held on to it until they were rescued. All of the men drowned were laborers employed by James C. Heyworth & Co., contractors, who are putting in the new dam and power plant for the Economy Light and Power company. The coroner of Grundy county was notified and an inquest was held at the camp late this afternoon.

URGE BLACK LIST BY UNION LABOR.

Illinois Federation Delegates Want Independent Party and More Politics.

FAVOR LOBBY AT CAPITAL

Resolution Looking to Adoption of Uniform System of School Books Adopted.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Utopian schemes for the establishment of an independent labor party and a plan for a political "blacklist" of legislators and politicians who have been opposed to labor legislation or have incurred the enmity of organized labor occupied today's session of the Illinois State Federation of Labor convention.

The recommendations of the committee on the officers' reports opened the way for much discussion and numerous resolutions, which will be reported upon tomorrow and Friday.

George Koop of the Chicago printers' union was the tower of strength of the clique which is seeking to control the political situation in the convention. The recommendation of the state executive board that the formation of an independent labor party composed of unionists and sympathetic wage earners of the state be considered gave him his opportunity.

"We must get down to essentials," declared Mr. Koop. "We have got to have a political party which shall destroy the trusts and the capitalist class. That is what the socialist party wants to do. Make all the unionists get in line. Make them vote the socialist ticket if the polls have to be picketed."

Action on the recommendation was deferred until tomorrow in order to give opportunity to the executive board to present resolutions on the subject.

"Blacklist" for Politicians.

The matter of a political "blacklist" was taken up, and the recommendation embodied in President Wright's report and indorsed by the American Federation of Labor was passed unanimously. But there will be a "fair" list issued as well as an "unfair" one. The state federation will print and send out handbills to every unionist giving the names of politicians and legislators who are "fair" and "unfair," together with the record of each in labor legislation. The intention is "to keep before organized labor our friends and enemies." Officials of Chicago came in for a scoring.

The question of maintaining a labor lobby in the coming session of the legislature was discussed. A resolution looking to the adoption of a uniform system of school textbooks to be furnished free by the state was the cause of some knocks at Mayor Busse.

"What is the use of going to Springfield to work for labor legislation when a little two by four speaker can prevent a bill passed by the house from coming up for a final reading, and also when even bills that we are able to get passed are declared unconstitutional by prejudiced judges?" declared Delegate Gilmer.

Would Pass on Candidates.

This called forth a resolution calling upon labor men to indorse men who carried union cards for the legislature and congress. The recommendation declared that while a large number of labor bills were introduced and lost in the last session the work of the legislative committee should be continued. The delegates finally voted to continue the legislative committee and to urge a more strenuous lobby.

During the discussion Delegate Johannsen of Chicago referred to the "cowardliness" of a committeeman. Delegate Thomas Burke resented the insinuation and threatened to attack Mr. Johannsen until an explanation cleared the atmosphere.

E. M. Moore, chairman of the executive board of the Chicago telegraphers' union, was given the privileges of the floor and spoke of the strike. The delegates voted to carry the matter back to their local unions and recommend an assessment. A collection for the benefit of the strikers was taken and netted about $100.

H. J. Conway of the retail clerks' union spoke of the need of organization among the retail clerks of Chicago. He declared that a nine hour day with a minimum wage scale of $9 a week was the object in view.

After Mayor Busse was denounced as an enemy of union labor because he sought to break up the Teachers' federation of Chicago, or at least to refuse some of their demands and dictate to them, the convention passed a resolution calling upon the state to establish free and uniform systems of textbooks.

VOTERS TO DECIDE WATERWAY'S FATE

ditional water power for sale and distribution to Chicago and neighboring cities.

A number of the legislators believed that the district was asking for too much power and that it was attempting to do something which properly should be done by the state. To this opposition was added that of private companies, whose use of water power would be destroyed by the bill, and the combined strength of the two was more than enough to defeat the district.

The bill introduced for the district, the one which caused the present session of the legislature, was defeated in the house committee of the whole in the morning by a vote of 55 to 50, and later in the day, when the house considered the committee report, an attempt to revive the measure was defeated by a vote of 58 to 89.

Burlington Road's Bridge Denounced.

The house passed with a whoop a resolution introduced by Representative Clapsaddle directing the state authorities to call the attention of the federal government to the fact that the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad company maintains a bridge across the Illinois river at La Salle which is too low to permit the passage of river vessels and which is not provided with a draw.

The senate adjourned today until Friday, with the understanding that no "real" session shall be held until Wednesday. A committee of senators will be here Monday to go to work on primary legislation, the wheel tax bill, a state architect's bill, and the international improvement commission measure, with the hope of having them ready for action by Wednesday.

The lieutenant governor held that no bills other than the deep waterway measures could be considered in the senate until the house has acted on the senate joint resolution opening the session for further business. Because of this ruling the primary bill, which was on second reading, and all other bills in the senate, were sent to the committee for consideration.

Mr. Sherman said that the action of the house in proceeding regardless of the provisions of the resolution by which the legislature met in adjourned session was "parliamentary indecency." To this Speaker Shurtleff replied that if any one were guilty of "parliamentary indecency" it was Gov. Deneen for recommending a number of bills not included in the resolution of adjournment.

ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE URGES DEEP WATER BILL.

Committee Fears Legislature Will Defeat It and Adopts Resolutions for Enactment of the Measure.

In view of the reports from Springfield that the bill introduced by the sanitary district will be thrown out, thereby preventing the completion of operations below Lockport, the ways and means committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday took action. It showed the intention of the association to cooperate with the district in its fight for the passage of the bill by reaffirming and sending to the general assembly a resolution indorsing the plan to complete the main channel as a deep waterway to Lake Joliet.

"We believe that the failure of the legislation asked for by the sanitary district," recite the resolutions, "will materially retard the accomplishment of this project."

The consensus of opinion at the meeting was that there was grave danger of the district bill being defeated, and that in that event the lakes to the gulf project, the goal which the association has labored to reach so long, will never be reached.

INDORSE DEEP WATER PLANS.

Representatives of Various Organizations Meet at City Club and Adopt Resolutions.

A conference of representatives of various civic organizations was held at the City club yesterday afternoon to consider the waterway legislation pending at Springfield.

Present were David R. Forgan and Harry A. Wheeler from the Association of Commerce, Eugene E. Prussing from the Citizens' association; W. D. Kerfoot, T. E. Donnelly, Charles A. Marsh, Union League club; Albert R. Gates and A. A. Rolph, Hamilton club; Frank G. Hoyne and John W. Eckhart, Iroquois club; Victor Elting, Judge Mack, Prof. Merriam, Dr. Henry B. Favill, City club.

The conference adopted resolutions indorsing the plan of the sanitary district to complete its main channel as a deep waterway to Lake Joliet, and recommended legislation to the effect that the sanitary district shall turn over to the state the water power rights it seeks upon proper reimbursement to the district.

SAYS SHURTLEFF PADDED PAY ROLL.

Sharp Letter Is Addressed to the Illinois Speaker by George E. Cole.

HOUSE PAYS $324 A DAY.

"Stenographers" Said to Know Nothing of Typewriting or Taking Dictation.

George E. Cole, as president of the Legislative Voters' league, wrote a letter yesterday to Edward D. Shurtleff, speaker of the lower house of the general assembly of Illinois. It was a lively letter, and worth the reading of even as dignified a man as the second official in the state is supposed to be.

Mr. Cole called the speaker's attention to the fact that the reform he started at the 1905 session in the appointment of house employés—a reform instigated by the Legislative Voters' league—whereby the house pay roll had been cut to $36,801 for the session, or an average of $299 a day, had been so far forgotten in 1907 that the total then came to $41,449, or $324 a day, and worse work done at that.

Specific Charges in Letter.

The letter continues:

"By promising your hearty coöperation in eliminating extravagance from the house pay roll you induced Henry W. Austin, a practical business man of high standing, to accept the chairmanship of the committee on contingent expenses. The pay roll sanctioned by Mr. Austin's committee called for an expenditure of $274.50 per day. As the appointment of all employés was intrusted to you by the house, the success of Mr. Austin's efforts at retrenchment was entirely dependent upon the fulfillment of your duty to select only competent persons. This duty you failed to perform.

"Among the employés authorized were ten general house stenographers. You appointed as stenographers only five persons who were really such. Only two of the other five could operate a typewriter at all, and they could not take dictation. The remaining three were innocent of any knowledge of typewriting, one being a common laborer.

Appointments Wrongly Dated.

"You defrauded the state by allowing many of your appointees to draw unearned salaries for several weeks by dating appointments back of the time they were actually made.

"While Mr. Austin was absent from Springfield you gave out an interview in which you alleged that the work of the house and its committee was being hampered because the house pay roll had been reformed 'in a penurious way.' You related how for two weeks you had been obliged to do your own typewriting late at night for lack of stenographic aid.

"By thus posing in the newspapers as an overworked victim of false economy you showed yourself a cold blooded trickster. For the Austin pay roll had provided for the speaker two stenographers, as in the past, and one first grade clerk at $4 a day each. We are informed that the only reason you were obliged to do your own typewriting (if you really did any of that work yourself) was because you had voluntarily "split up" the $4 a day allowed you for one of your stenographers in order to have more jobs to give out, and so had provided yourself with only one stenographer.

Faith Broken with Austin.

"You induced Mr. Austin to accept his chairmanship by pledging him full support in his efforts to reduce the house pay roll to an honest basis. Then you violated your oath of office and broke faith with him by loading down the pay roll with numerous persons whom you knew to be useless. As if this double betrayal of trust was not enough, you sought to escape deserved blame by grossly misrepresenting the facts, thereby causing Mr. Austin to resign his chairmanship."

Shurtleff Not Chiefly to Blame.

A man conversant with affairs at Springfield last winter, said last night:

"In justice to Speaker Shurtleff it ought to be stated that the pressure on the contingent expense committee last winter was something awful. There were a hungry lot of statesmen who had to have jobs for constituents and several prominent Chicago statesmen, whom I know, got jobs for men who could not do the work. Representative Austin of Cook resigned from the chairmanship of the committee and Cicero Lindly went in to take the responsibility for the thing.

"Shurtleff isn't so much to blame as the men who demanded such patronage as a condition of their staying in line and voting for such bills as the charter and others."

Every Now and Then

Some money seekers, without knowledge of food values, think they can "fix up something," hire some "advertising expert" and make a fortune in a "Coffee Substitute."

In the past 10 years more than 100 such schemes have been started and failed, because the schemers have been imitators and ignorant of food values and have relied upon foolish statements to mislead persons who have been hurt by coffee and seek some relief.

When a man or woman finds coffee acts badly with them, causes indigestion, heart palpitation, kidney or bowel irregularities or unbalances the nervous system, and common sense dictates that coffee be left off, they will not turn to a coffee substitute "fixed up" by some dollar chasers who know absolutely nothing of the science of dietetics. On the contrary, just as one would seek the most skillful physician when ill, these people turn to the food drink—Postum—because they know it to be the one and only cereal coffee made by food experts of undoubted skill and trained experience.

As an illustration, one of these imitators of Postum announces that no "worthless bran" is used in making its imitation of Postum. That statement alone is prima facie evidence of the dense ignorance of such people.

In making Postum the wheat is milled so as to separate the thick outer coat and use it, because it is the part of the wheat which carries the most valuable rebuilding elements, the phosphates which Nature uses to join albumen and water in the human body to rebuild the soft gray filling in the nerve centers and brain. That's the only way to rebuild the nervous system, broken down by coffee.

The ignorant imitator does not know this nor does he know why in making Postum the browned whole wheat berry is ground and blended with the heavy bran coat.

Remember, Postum is not a "substitute" for coffee. There is no true "substitute" for coffee. Coffee is a thing by itself, it has no "substitute." Postum is a thing by itself, a pure food drink heavy in nourishment. It has its own cereal fragrance and its own flavor, incidentally much like the snap of coffee, but it is not a "substitute," it stands alone, it is Postum and nothing else.

One awful example of the ignorant imitator, intimates that "one cup" of the imitation will suffice. This is aimed at Postum's advice to use Postum 10 days and observe the change. New cells in broken down nerves cannot be rebuilt from "one cup" no matter what imitators may claim.

The rebuilding elements of the kind Nature requires and which are found in Postum must be furnished to the body at least 10 days and better 60 days to make sure.

Ignorance and pretense may flash their tinsel for a time and offer prizes to reward people who purchase imitations, but neither the ignorance nor the prizes will rebuild broken down nerve cells, and ultimately the public finds it out and the imitators join the army of derelicts and failures.

The growth of Postum steadily increases year by year as the people come to know the fundamental facts and prove their truth by practical, personal experience.

PHONE FRANCHISE WILL BE 'RUSHED'

Company Hopes It Will Be Able to Hurry It Through Council on Monday.

HOPES IT HAS MAJORITY.

Corporation Playing a Waiting Game Till Psychological Moment Arrives.

The telephone ordinance is likely to come up at Monday night's council meeting. That is the information which was given out at the city hall yesterday. Ald. Young, chairman of the gas and oil committee, which has the measure in its care, said he did not know whether he would call it up or not, but the statement made by people who are perhaps in a better position to know is that the company has decided that the time has come to act.

The plan as outlined is to try to rush the ordinance through at one meeting. To do this requires an obedient majority of the aldermen, a majority which will promptly vote down every amendment which the company does not want and vote for every one it is willing to accept. There must be thirty-six votes to follow the commands of the Chicago and Bell telephone companies.

For a long time the telephone managers have been in doubt as to whether they had this majority or not. The aldermen were elusive. Sometimes the company thought it had the needed votes and again it did not. It all depended on how much public agitation there was.

Company Adopts Waiting Game.

The company failed to call the ordinance up before the charter election on account of the popular objections to it. Then the charter was beaten and the necessity of having a referendum afterwards being out of the way the company could afford to wait. So it adopted the waiting plan.

The company's agents had reported that to get the kind of an ordinance wanted the public must be given a chance to forget about it. Bring it up some night when nobody is looking for it and it would be possible to get the majority desired.

This waiting game has been carried on ever since. A month ago Ald. Young said he saw no reason why the ordinance should not be put on its passage.

"Every amendment has been printed," he explained, "and the aldermen are all perfectly familiar with them. There is no good reason which I know of for not calling the ordinance up." But in spite of this he has not called it up. It has passed by three regular and one special council meetings.

Will Need Well Drilled Majority.

When the ordinance does come before the council it is going to take the best drilled majority that body has known for a decade to pass it in one meeting. The aldermen in its favor must obey orders to the letter. They must not, by any slip, vote for an amendment which would make the ordinance anything but what the company wants. It was stated in the city hall during the day by a friend of the telephone company that the majority depended on is so small that any desertions on an important amendment would be fatal.

There have been such well drilled majorities in the council. At the last meeting of an outgoing council in 1887 the Chicago General Electric railway ordinance was put through by a stubborn majority against bitter opposition. This majority was led by John Cooke, then alderman, who is now under sentence to a penitentiary term on account of his acts as clerk of the Criminal court.

CONDEMNS JURY DODGERS AS DISLOYAL TO NATION.

Judge Fake Addresses Credit Men, Saying It Should Be Held Privilege to Assist Courts in War on Crime.

"Business men who shirk service as jurors are really as disloyal to the nation as the men who shirk army or navy service for defense of their country in time of war," said Municipal Judge Fred L. Fake last night. He was addressing the Credit Men's association at the Midday club.

"Credit men, and business men in general, have not been able to escape jury service in these courts as easily as under the justice court system," the judge continued. "The rank and file of policemen are brave and fearless in the discharge of their duties. Instead of the curses bestowed on them they should get praise. It should be regarded by business men as a privilege, not a hardship, to go into the jury box and aid the courts and the police in stamping out crime and vice."

Lucius Teter spoke on "The Financial Outlook." He said that during the present stringency in the money market he would not advise anybody to "put up a new factory" unless the cash for that purpose was on hand.

WEDDING OR TRIAL, WHICH?

Prisoner Hesitates Between Alternative Judge Offers.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.

Fiancee, a Zion City Girl, Strives to Raise Money for a License.

With three days in which to choose between a marriage at the Harrison street police station or a trial on a charge of larceny, William A. Lee of Zion City hesitated yesterday.

While he was debating with himself his fiancée, also from Zion, was hurrying about the city to secure money with which to obtain a marriage license. If she gets the license by Saturday and Lee is willing to keep his promise to marry her, Judge Newcomer has promised to send them on their way rejoicing.

The story of the Zion City romance came out at the Harrison street Municipal court in the morning, when Lee was arraigned charged with taking a satchel from a State street store. One of his witnesses was his fiancée.

"I left my home in Zion City last week to come to Chicago to marry Will," she told Judge Newcomer, "and here he is arrested for something he never did. The detective made a mistake.

Romance always finds a welcome in Judge Newcomer's court and he began to question the girl. She refused to give her real name.

"I am Ida Lee now," she said, "and I don't want my parents to know anything about this."

"Will you be married here if I let you go?" asked Judge Newcomer of Lee. He hesitated for some time and then consulted his attorney.

"Give me until Saturday to think it over," he pleaded with Judge Newcomer.

"It seems funny that you would hesitate now after you had promised the girl that you would marry her," commented Judge Newcomer, "but you can have until Saturday."

Girl Unwilling to Wait.

"I will get the money to get the license with," said the girl as she left the courtroom, "and we will be married if it is just to get Will out of that dirty old cell. Will doesn't want to marry me just to get out of jail and would rather have the trial to show he is innocent, but I don't want to wait."

Late in the evening the prospective Mrs. Lee called at the police station to say that she would have the license money Saturday morning. Lee was noncommittal regarding his intentions.

GET RICH? TOLD TO PLAY RACES.

W. H. Harmon Answers "Ad," Encounters Alleged Wire Tappers, and Two Arrests Follow.

Timothy Sweeney and Frank Battles, who are accused of having made plans to swindle W. H. Harmon, 6102 Yale avenue, out of a large sum of money by an alleged wire tapping scheme, were arrested yesterday. The men refused to make any statement.

The arrests followed a complaint made to Capt. O'Brien by State's Attorney Healy. The latter had been visited by Harmon, who told him of the alleged scheme and of the promises made by Sweeney and Battles.

Harmon says he had answered an advertisement. The notice which had attracted his attention read as follows:

Any person willing to make an investment will have no trouble in making himself rich.

The alleged swindlers told Harmon all he had to do was to let them place his money on a horse race and then he would become wealthy.

McFarland Defeats Galligan. Highball Wins the McDowell Stake.

M'FARLAND WINS IN NINTH ROUND.

Referee Ryan Stops Indianapolis Fight; Galligan's Manager Protests.

FINISH IS FULL OF ACTION

Stockyards Man Scores Many Knockdowns in the Last Two Sessions.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Packey McFarland of Chicago disposed of Joe Galligan, also of Chicago, in the ninth round of their battle at the Auditorium tonight, beating him down with stiff right jabs to the face. Galligan went down for the count three times before he was counted out. The bell rang before the count was finished, but Referee Ryan stopped the battle as Galligan was in no shape to continue.

The finish was a whirlwind affair, although it looked for a time as if McFarland would be given the hardest fight of his career. The stock yards boy had a bad right hand and did not like to use it. He clinched and wrestled and tried in vain to outpoint his opponent with his left. He covered his head, but Joe got to his stomach and in the eighth floored him.

Then Packey came out of his trance and sailed into the Italian like a tiger. He copped him on the chin repeatedly and literally smothered him with rights and lefts. He did not care if his right was swollen, and used it with all of the strength there was in him. Toward the close of the round Joe was knocked through the ropes and Packey fell on him. When they came up Joe was dazed. There was hardly an ounce of strength left in him. He had taken a hard beating and a few taps were all that was necessary to stop him. Packey rocked his head time and time again, and Joe took the full count before he got up. Galligan was hardly on his feet before Packey was on him again, and again he went down. Taking advantage of the count he got up, to be floored again, and the bell rang before the count was finished. The referee then stopped the battle.

There was only a fair sized crowd at the arena and it did not take kindly to the early rounds. It was seen McFarland was not making the showing of which he was thought capable and hisses were much louder than cheers. Referee Ryan told McFarland to get busy, that an effort to win on points would not do, and then they mixed it. Galligan's effective punch was his left, with which he reached the stomach, doing considerable damage.

Nate Lewis, manager of Galligan, made a vigorous protest against the decision of the referee, claiming Galligan would have been fit to take up the battle and finish it out if he were allowed the minute's rest. Ryan could not see it that way. He claimed there was no chance for Galligan to win, and that a continuation of the battle would only mean unnecessary punishment for Joe.

McFarland's manager made a claim of foul against Galligan in the ninth, but the referee was standing directly behind McFarland and did not see the blow.

In the preliminary Johnny King of Chicago had an easy victory over Frank White in the curtain raiser, which lasted less than a round, being outclassed from the start. Young Sharkey of Indianapolis easily beat Joe Dunn of Chicago in the semi-windup, knocking him out in the second round.

DELANEY AND KAUFMAN IN TOWN

Trainer of Jim Corbett and Jim Jeffries Believes He Has a Prospective Champion in Charge.

BY GEORGE SILER.

Billy Delaney, who trained Jim Corbett and Jim Jeffries when they won the heavyweight championship, and his prospective heavyweight champion, Al Kaufman, reached town from the east yesterday en route for Denver, where Bill has been promised a match for his big youngster against any man the promoters can secure.

Delaney says his man is willing to meet Tommy Burns and believes he is Tommy's logical opponent, but doubts his ability to drag Burns into the ring with Al, at present at least. However, he will issue a challenge from Denver to fight Jack "Twin" Sullivan, John Wille, and Marvin Hart. Speaking of Kaufman's future and the possibility of his landing him on top as he did Corbett and Jeffries, Delaney said:

"We are going along by easy stages and when we clean up all of the second rate heavies we will camp on Burns' trail until he gives us a hearing. We are not chasing him at present because it has been stated he has a fight on with "Gunner" Moir of England. When he finishes that job and if he does not match with Jack Johnson we will compel him to match with Al. I am not boasting when I say that the youngster under my care has improved 50 per cent since he fought Jack O'Brien and his quick defeat of Dave Barry is convincing evidence, so keep tab on the boy from now on."

The Jack Johnson-Jim Flynn fight, which was scheduled to take place at Jim Coffroth's club on Oct. 26, has been postponed until Nov. 2, and its limit has been stretched to forty-five rounds. When Jack passed through town on his way to the coast he stated he would demand more time to prepare for the battle, and that despite the fact he was in fairly good condition at the time. He did not consider Flynn would prove a troublesome customer, but as a match with Tommy Burns hinged on its outcome, he wished to be fit. It took Burns fifteen rounds to beat Flynn, and Jack said he would be sorely disappointed if he did not lick Jim in ten rounds. They will fight for 50 per cent of the gross receipts, with a split of 55 per cent to the winner and 45 to the loser.

The fight slated to take place at Peoria on Oct. 23 between Bill Papke and Tony Caponi was yesterday declared off by the Caponi party. Papke's manager is in the dark as to the cause of the postponement, but declares he will keep Bill in training with hopes Caponi will get a change of heart within a week and declare the match on again.

Jack Carrig, one of the old timers who engaged in numerous contests hereabouts when the game was in full blast, and Jack O'Keefe have been matched to meet at Gary, Ind., next Wednesday night. O'Keefe recently returned from the far west and looks as trimly built as when he was a top liner. Manager Cal Harris is seeking opponents for Walter Parker and Freddie O'Neil to take part in the preliminaries.

JACKSON PARK LINKS CROWDED

More than 65,000 Golfers Thus Far Have Availed Themselves of the Public Course.

The ideal golfing weather of yesterday attracted a number of players to the public course at Jackson park. With a few days more of Indian summer Starter McGinnis expects to exceed last year's attendance record of 55,000 by fully 15,000. To date more than 65,000 tickets have been issued, and this does not account for the many players who started when the course was not crowded enough to necessitate the distribution of pasteboards.

Six veteran Evanston golfers will compete on Saturday at the Onwentsia club for a cup given by C. H. Mears. Five of them played in the Age limit event at the Chicago Golf club and two might have won, if——. Discussion as to their play at Chicago led to the cup contest on Saturday, in which the Evanston club handicaps will be used. The players are: Stewart Clark, O. F. Carpenter, Rollin A. Keyes, Fred Arnd, C. H. Mears, and W. S. W.

CAPTAIN CHANCE AT THE PLATE.

HARD DRILLS FOR MAROONS

Stagg Taking No Chances on the Football Game with Illinois.

GIVES KICKERS ATTENTION.

Seeks to Smooth Out Kinks Shown in Contest with Indiana.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

Coach Stagg at the University of Chicago is taking no chances on the game with Illinois at Champaign on Saturday. On Monday he gave the team a long signal drill to work out the kinks of the game with Indiana. It was just about dusk when he told the men to take their usual turns around the field and go in.

Much attention was given the kickers, and it is certain Steffen will do the kicking from now on. Page showed up fairly well last Saturday, but the excitement of a big game was too much for him, which was shown when he kicked out of bounds twice and gave the ball to Indiana on Chicago's thirty-five yard line. This did not result seriously, but it might be unfortunate in a big game.

Yesterday the men were put through a hard scrimmage in preparation for the game with the Orange and Blue. Stagg was not entirely satisfied with the team work in the last game and is bent on knocking off the rough edges before Saturday. He spent considerable time with the line, as he believes his back field capable of performing in a satisfactory manner.

As yet the makeup of his forwards is in doubt and it will take plenty of drilling to ascertain which are the best men. The coach realizes that he must put his best team in the field to carry off the honors. He wants to provide against a repetition of the 1904 game, when Chicago was a 5 to 1 favorite and Illinois came up and played the Maroons off their feet in a 6 to 6 contest. This is only one of the many instances in which the state university has furnished surprises to the Midway coach, and he is taking every precaution to avoid another.

At Champaign all is excitement, as this is the first time since 1898 that Chicago has traveled to that camp. Doubtless a great crowd will turn out to witness the contest. Illinois has defeated Chicago in track and baseball for the last two years, and if the football eleven is successful in turning the trick on the gridiron champion, joy will be unbounded. The Orange and Blue has been a sort of under dog for several years, but there is no reason why the varsity should not turn out a successful team.

The game being on the home grounds is a point in Illinois' favor. "Red" Matthews, the peerless rooter of the western colleges, will be imported from Tennessee to lead the cheering of the Illinois fans.

On the other hand Chicago has the benefit of a hard game in her favor and the players will go into the contest with the confidence coming from such an experience.

YALE WINS TEAM CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeats Princeton in the Final of the Intercollegiate Tourney 20 Points to 0 at Nassau.

New York, Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Yale won from Princeton in the intercollegiate team golf championship final today by 20 points to 0 at the Nassau Country club. It was Yale's second successive win on the U. S. G. A. perpetual trophy, and also on the old cup that another success will gain for keeps.

The club gave the collegians a dinner and vaudeville show tonight. The morning round denoted what the ultimate result would be, for Yale had secured a lead of 15 to 1. Yet only Van Dyke of the Princetonians was badly beaten, for, although he did 83, it was not good enough to keep Ellis Knowles from gaining the commanding position of 8 up. Knowles did 77, Abbott 76, Partridge 77, Howland 79, Van Vleck 80, and Lyon 82.

The average of 78⅓ reveals that the six are as evenly balanced as any team Yale has won with. The Princeton men played pluckily, West doing 77, Peters 79, and the average being 80 1-6, but luck was not with them. Ballin, who scored 81 and finished 1 up over Lyon, was the solitary Princetonian to break the ice on the first round. Peters holed from the edge of the seventeenth green for a half in 3 with Partridge, or he would have been 2 down.

New Star for Cornell.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Cornell developed a new star today in McCallie, the slashing right half back whom the faculty declared eligible yesterday. The big southerner was a regular whirlwind, tearing off two thirty-five yard end runs and making magnificent tackles.

COLIN IS A SPEED MARVEL

Wins Champagne Stakes at Belmont Close to Record Time.

TOTAL EARNINGS $129,371.

Colt Ends Season with a Record of Twelve Straight Victories.

New York, Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Colin wound up his 2 year old campaign today by winning the Champagne stakes, seven furlongs straightaway, in a gallop. His only adversary was Stamina, which was no match for the gallant son of Commando. Trainer Rogers, who saddled the Whitney filly, said that Colin would have to run the fastest race of his career to beat her. This was speaking by the card, for Colin ran the distance in 1:23 flat, a new record for the Belmont track, and at the same time beating Stamina by eight lengths. From the start they ran together like a team for about a furlong, when Colin, with phenomenal speed, drew away. As Colin reached the last furlong pole Miller looked back, and, realizing that he had the race won, he began to ease up the Keene colt, which was just galloping at the end.

The best previous record for the course, 1:23⅘, made by Mr. Whitney's Perverse, the winner of the Champagne in 1905. The world's record for seven furlongs is 1:22, made by Roseben last year at Belmont around one turn. If Colin had been extended he probably would have equaled Roseben's figures, if not beaten them.

Colin will go into retirement the greatest 2 year old that has been seen on the American turf. He has won twelve consecutive races for a total of $129,371 in stakes since his first appearance at the big Queens track last May. His share of the Champagne was $5,775.

Dolly Spanker, second choice, ran a swell race in the New Rochelle stakes, at a mile. Away from the barrier last, he made up the lost ground, and in the stretch breezed to the wire three lengths in front of Grapple, favorite. Grapple was sent after Tony Bonero, which set a killing pace for the first half mile, but the effort proved too much when Dolly Spanker challenged. The mile was run in 1:38⅘.

Lane Allen, favorite in the distance handicap, took the track at the start, and reached the judges a handy winner by a length. Ironsides was second, a dozen lengths before Elfall.

After leading for three-quarters of a mile in the last event Gretna Green, favorite, curled up. Then Bedouin closed with a rush and won easily by a length from Sea Wolf, with Gretna Green two lengths away.

Aimee C. showed the way in the second race, and won in a gallop by four lengths. James Swift was an easy second.

Salvolatile made all the pace in the high weight handicap, and won easily by a length and a half from Zienap.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 16.—The old Oriole baseball club members, thrice pennant winners, today lost by a score of 2 to 1 to the Baltimore Eastern league team the second of a series of three games. It was a pitchers' battle, in which McMahon, the veteran, carried off the honors, even though his team was defeated.

HIGHBALL GAINS FAMOUS STAKES.

Great Son of Dr. Hooker Lands the McDowell at Lexington with Ease.

RECORD MILE FOR FILLY.

Helen Hale Goes First Heat in Feature for 2 Year Olds in 2:13¼.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 16.—Highball annexed to his list of winnings for this year the famous McDowell stakes for 2:09 trotters in easy fashion today. Much disappointment was experienced because Lillian R. did not start against Highball, as it was generally conceded that she is the only horse here in Highball's class except Sonoma Girl and Wilkes Heart, which were not eligible to the race.

Highball was driven by Ed Geers. The winning of the McDowell made the fourth stake that Geers has won during the meeting. Tuna was distanced in the first heat, leaving Baraja, Emboy, and Alhasham to compete with Highball. Highball, however, had no trouble in winning in straight heats and within one-quarter of a second of the track record.

The Lexington stake for 2 year olds was won by Benvolo after Helen Hale had trotted the first heat in 2:13¼, the fastest mile ever trotted in a race by a filly.

Lady Maud C. and Hedgewood Boy, sister and brother, had the unique distinction of winning the 2:10 pace and the 2:07 pace in the most exciting finishes of the meeting. Summaries:

LOUISVILLE CARD AT LATONIA.

Jockey A. Brown Gets Into Trouble and Lightning Conductor Turns a Form Somersault.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Latonia's extension commenced today with six races framed originally for Churchill Downs by Secretary Lyman Davis. Barney Schreiber's Deutschland went to post at 8 to 1 because of his apparently poor race yesterday when ridden by Jockey A. Brown. Hawthorne Official Dies in Colorado.

HARRY KUHL

George H. (Harry) Kuhl, for many years the secretary of the Chicago Jockey club, died Tuesday night at the home of his mother in Pueblo, Colo. He had been in poor health for several years.

Harry Kuhl was known by horsemen all over America, having been connected with tracks at Chicago, New Orleans, Kansas City, and San Francisco.

He was born Jan. 18, 1862, in Pueblo, Colo., and early in life was employed in a Pueblo bank. Failing health compelled him to seek outdoor work, and he became bookkeeper in the railroad construction camp of G. W. Pool. Here he became acquainted with Edward Corrigan, and when the latter forsook railroading for horse racing Kuhl went with him, and was the assistant secretary of the old "west side" track operated by Corrigan in 1887. When Hawthorne was opened in 1891 Kuhl was made secretary, remaining in that capacity most of the time for ten years. At times he served as associate judge. In 1901 he became secretary of the Western Jockey club, holding that position for two years. Afterwards he was secretary at Kansas City and New Orleans tracks, being at the City park track, New Orleans, all of last winter.

In 1900 Mr. Kuhl married Mrs. Myra Moody of Memphis, Tenn., who survives him.

Mr. Kuhl's body will be cremated in Denver.

VILLANOVA TEAM CROSSES THE PRINCETON GOAL LINE.

Pennsylvanians Put Up a Lively Fight, but Tigers Win by the Score of Forty-five to Five.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—When Princeton met Villanova at University field this afternoon there was a surprise, for the Pennsylvanians worked like Trojans all the while and scored a touchdown in a legitimate manner. The final result was 45 to 5.

The Pennsylvanians were aggressive to the point of pugilism and several personal encounters resulted in the expulsion of a man from each eleven from the field.

Princeton ripped the Pennsylvanians' lines to a total of 37 to 0 during the first half. A whole new bunch of Tigers faced Villanova in the second round and the absence of the more seasoned men was evident. The visitors played Princeton to a standstill for awhile. A series of cleverly executed forward passes swept the Tiger subs off their feet and Russell finally broke through for the first touchdown registered against the orange and black this year. Villanova missed the goal. Lineup:

PENNSYLVANIA'S SHOWING POOR

Defeats Gettysburg Team by Score of 23 to 0, but Plays Anything but a Good Football Game.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—The score of 23 to 0 by which Pennsylvania defeated Gettysburg today did not impress the spectators with Pennsylvania's strength. The first half ended 5 to 0. Pennsylvania put up a miserable game, while Gettysburg looked good by comparison. In the second half Pennsylvania's team was shifted, and it played much better. Gettysburg at the same time almost collapsed, the men taking out time frequently for rest. Disappointing features of the game were Pennsylvania losing the ball on downs in the first half on Gettysburg's five yard line and the fumbling and loss of the ball in the second half on Gettysburg's one yard line. VICTORY FOR CRANE SCHOOL.

Cowan's Field Goal Averts Defeat at the Hands of the Lake View Boys.

In an uphill game R. T. Crane yesterday defeated the Lake View A. C. team, made up of pupils of the Lake View high school, 9 to 6. Cowan, the clever kicker of the west side aggregation, scored a drop from the thirty-five yard line, winning the contest.

Crane's eleven, which is considered one of the best teams in the high school league, started off fast, line plunges and forward passes counting the first goal in five minutes. Towards the end of the first half Harmon intercepted a forward pass, and, with good interference, scored a touchdown for Lake View, after which Newman kicked goal. In the next half Cowan, whose kicking was the feature of the contest, booted over the winning goal. The lineup:

SOX FANS OFF FOR WISCONSIN WILDS

President Comiskey Leads a Party of Twenty-two Into the Badger Woods.

NO LACK OF AMMUNITION.

Cub Rooters Plan Big Reception for World's Champions at Banquet Tonight.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

What probably is the largest hunting party that will invade the wilds of Wisconsin this year mobilized at the Northwestern depot yesterday, made the rafters ring with echoes of White Sox rooting, and in special sleepers attached to the 5 o'clock train left for Mercer, Wis., in charge of President C. A. Comiskey of the former world's champions.

The actual invading party was reduced to twenty-two by desertions at the scent of powder, but several friends of the host accompanied the expedition as far as Milwaukee in order to partake of the game dinner which was served in the special dining car provided for the emergency. These parlor car nimrods left the train at Milwaukee and returned last night.

The hunting squad was composed of several veterans who have made the trip annually with Comiskey and a larger number of tenderfeet, who probably will lend themselves unwillingly and unwittingly to the amusement of the vets. Besides his son, Louis Comiskey, the "Old Roman's" guests included T. J. Loftus of Dubuque, C. C. Spink and James McTague of St. Louis, Ald. Considine, Robert Cantwell, Joseph Farrell, William Fortune, Edward Redpath, John Agnew, Tom Hanton, P. J. McCarthy, Tim Gleason, Robert Walsh, Dan Walsh, Peter Hamler, J. Roach, J. F. Matteson, G. W. Axelson, and F. X. Finnegan of Chicago.

No Chance of Famine.

The expedition is due to reach Mercer this morning and then will be transported twelve miles into the woods, where a camp has been established for it, with a large stock of dry and wet provisions to guard against a famine in case the invaders make so much noise as to scare all the birds and fish forty miles away from camp. However, game is reported to be plentiful in the badger state this fall.

Several of the guests will return early next week and their places will be taken by a second division, which is expected to leave here on Sunday or Monday. Comiskey himself expects to remain in the woods until Nov. 1 and forget all about baseball until it is time to commence shaping up things for another year's campaign.

Tonight is the night Chicago's Cub rooters have been preparing and waiting for ever since Chance's men won their right to contest for the world's pennant, and the fact they won it in such pronounced fashion will make the banquet in their honor at the Auditorium Annex this evening all the more joyous. Everything that can be planned to make the affair a success has been attended to by the committee of rooters in charge of the celebration, and already it is assured the reception and jubilation over Frank Chance and his diamond heroes will be one of the most elaborate and enthusiastic demonstrations ever accorded a band of athletes. The hour set for the beginning of the festivities is 6:30 o'clock, but the committee has fixed no "dead line" at the other end of them.

Cubs to Play at Racine.

Tomorrow the Cubs, or what portion of them is not overcome by the warmth of their admirers' enthusiasm, will journey to Racine, Wis., for an exhibition game. Today, Saturday and Sunday the Cubs will play Jake Stahl's All Stars on the west side grounds, the entire receipts going to the players, as the All Stars will contribute their own services freely to the good cause. Other games are being sought by nearby cities, but it is not likely the club will be kept together for an extended barnstorming trip, as Manager Chance is himself eager to lead a small hunting party to Wisconsin as soon as possible.

President Murphy of the Cubs received yesterday a letter from Chairman Herrmann of the national commission requesting the views of the world's champions regarding an emblem to commemorate their victory over the Tigers. The players are somewhat divided in preference, cuff buttons, watch charms, and scarf pins being the leading points of difference, but it is likely the majority will prevail in favor of watch charms. After the experiences of the White Sox last fall and of the New York Giants before them, it is probable a less elaborate and more substantial design will be requested of the commission, with the total elimination of the easily lost enamel trimmings.

President Kuhn of the Nashville Southern league club, called on President Murphy yesterday, being in the city on business, and reported Pitcher "Hub" Purdue, whom the Chicago club sold to the Nashville club last spring, had developed into some pitcher, but a better comedian.

Today's West Side Game.

Jimmy Callahan announces that either Ole Munch or "Doc" Hillebrand will pitch for the semi-professionals in this afternoon's exhibition game against the Cubs at the west side baseball park. Asmussen will catch. The infield will be: Stahl, first base; Campion, second base; McNichols, third base; Meier, shortstop; and the outfield Donlin, Ryan, and Callahan. The game starts at 2:30.

LARGEST 2 CENT CIRCULATION IN THE WORLD.

THE TRACTION MUDDLE.

When the council last month gave the warring Union Traction interests until Feb. 1 to come to an agreement it was supposed they would make haste to avail themselves of the opportunity. The petitions filed on Tuesday on behalf of the Guaranty Trust company show that no settlement has been reached yet, and raise the doubt whether one ever will be.

The move of the trust company is in the direction of a foreclosure and the sale of the properties for the benefit of the creditors. That would leave the Chicago Railways company out in the cold, and the Chicago City railway would be called on to extend its operations to the north and west sides. Then the city would have the unified system and service it needs.

That desirable result could not be brought about without some litigation and delay. The City railway company would not be able to get possession of some of the lines so quickly as of others. There would be lines where the work of rehabilitation would be greatly delayed to the prejudice of those who depend on them.

So there are reasons why it would be better if the Chicago Railways company could qualify itself to take over the Union Traction system. It is doubtful, however, whether it can. Even if the Guaranty Trust company should not press the demands it is now making, bondholders whom it does not represent might renew them. There are many bondholders whom it has thus far been impossible to get track of, so that they might assent to an agreement. Some of them might turn up at the last moment and be deaf to all appeals to compromise.

The Union Traction people have been given their last day of grace. It begins to look much as if it were a useless gift and as if they would have to be bund'ed off the streets next February to make room for the old original Chicago company.

A FILIPINO OPPORTUNITY.

The address with which Secretary Taft opened the first Philippine assembly is straightforward and sensible. It leaves no room for doubt of the friendliness of the administration. It points the way to greater grants of power in the future. It indicates the opportunity which the assembly affords the people of the islands to show their worthiness of confidence and trust. It no doubt represents the feeling of the majority of the American people respecting the future of the islands.

There are just two possibilities for the Philippines. One is that they will be kept under the control of the United States. The other is that they may become independent. No one can predict the date of the latter event. It will depend upon the Filipinos themselves. The secretary, who has given a large amount of time and thought to the situation, believes that at least a generation must pass before independence comes. That seems a reasonable conclusion. If a people who have been unaccustomed to rule themselves can be brought to appreciate what self-rule involves in the short period of a generation it will be a notable achievement in political education. If independence were granted without such a preliminary training the act would not be a friendly one on the part of the United States.

The anti-imperialists in this country are not so numerous as they were a few years ago. Occasionally the small group of eastern men who make up the opponents of the government's policy issues a manifesto demanding almost immediate independence. Now and then some writer advocates the sale of the islands. But the large majority of citizens will accept Mr. Taft's view that permanent ownership by the United States and remote independence are the only alternatives. To secure the latter the Filipinos must submit to training for self-government. When this training period is ended it may be that the ownership by the United States will still be preferred.

The assembly will afford the first real test of the ability of the Filipinos to legislate. The majority in the body favors immediate independence, but that does not imply that the body will become an unruly one, plotting insurrection instead of planning wisely for the future. The chances seem to favor conservatism rather than radicalism in the debates. If there is careful examination of what has been done for the islands by the United States in the nine years of occupation there may be appreciation of the wonderful advances which have been made.

The assembly may make an entire failure of its attempt at participation. It may not avail itself of the great opportunity afforded it. If so, it will not be surprising. The experiences of the Russian duma illustrate the difficulties in the way of an assembly of representatives without training in such work. It may be necessary to make several trials before intelligent legislation suited to the conditions can be secured. But the American people generally will accept Mr. Taft's statement as the right one. If the assembly conducts its proceedings and shapes legislation on conservative, intelligent, and useful lines there will be quick recognition of the capacity thus manifested for eventual self-government.

THE BASEBALL BANQUET.

To the victor belong not merely the ordinary spoils of war but the inevitable banquet and toasting. For, whether one returns with victorious eagles from Pharsalia or Detroit, has routed the enemy with the weapons of Mars or has won four straight, he cannot hope to escape the viands of the banquet table and the oratory of the banquet hall. It is so decreed by the iron law of custom. The victor must be gorged with food and assailed with compliment.

However modestly Chicago's returning heroes may estimate their late achievement and deprecate the wild enthusiasm in their honor, it is not the intention to permit them to escape the consequences of victory. They will be corralled tonight in a place of public rejoicing and feasting and overwhelmed with a charge of laudatory oratory led by one of the world's most gifted spellbinders. Their cheeks will flush and tingle, and their ears will burn at the profuse expression of Chicago's unpayable indebtedness. They will be compared to the great conquerors of history, from Joshua to Anson, and thoughtful the shortstop, baseman, or outfielder who provides himself betimes with a glossary and classical dictionary.

On this truly notable occasion the state and the nation will participate in Chicago's homage to achievement. The governor of the commonwealth will add a few leaves to the laurel wreath. The federal judiciary will send Judge Landis to voice federal appreciation of glorious performance. Congressional oratory will add to the general output of language. The mayor of Chicago, with others high in public and professional life, will give them for their pains a world of sighs and wish that heaven had made them such men that they might do such deeds.

And when it is all over we shall feel that we have fully discharged our obligation to historical precedent and to our blushing heroes. After tonight nothing will remain to be said. Everything, and much more, will have been said. And so we shall retire again to the reposeful duties of prosaic life until a new band of men of purpose and accomplishment demands the banquet board and the flattering speech. Who, considering the sum total of 19 runs to 6, viewing the groaning table and listening to the inspired tributes of pride and affection, will assert hereafter that republics and cities are ungrateful?

EFFICIENCY IN THE CITY HALL.

Felicitations to Mr. McCabe, city clerk. The clerks in his office are to report for work at 8:30 and remain until 5 o'clock, and there will be at least one man in his office as early as 8 and as late as half past 5.

Mr. McCabe has discovered that the public has been inconvenienced by the leisurely habits of his subordinates. The extension of the office hours will doubtless cause consternation among those municipal employés who have considered a civil service position a vested right, and equal satisfaction among people who have to deal with the city clerk's office.

It is agreeable to record that efficiency is increasing generally in the city hall.

GET THE NATIONAL CONVENTIONS.

The location of the next republican national convention is not going to be auctioned off to the highest bidder. But it will go to the city which offers to the national committee and the delegates the best combination of hotel accommodations, convention hall, convenient transportation, and a fund to defray the costs incidental to the convention.

Of the seven cities mentioned in Raymond's dispatch printed in yesterday's TRIBUNE only four really are eligible. Chicago has the greatest natural advantages. It has a big convention hall, it has better hotel accommodations than the others, and it is the most easy of access to delegates from all parts of the country. Therefore business men of Chicago should take steps to raise the necessary fund and to lay before the national committee the time worn arguments why Chicago should be the site for the next republican national convention.

But they ought not to confine their activities to the republican convention. They ought to see to it that Chicago gets the democratic convention as well.

There is nothing like an early beginning. The Association of Commerce, or some other representative body of men, should take the matter under consideration without delay.

GO SLOW.

The steel town of Gary has no telephones except in the steel plant. Though the city has by no means reached the population of 1,000,000 of which its founders dreamed, it has thousands of working men, and the storekeepers who minister to their wants need telephones in their business.

Several telephone companies, the Chicago one among them, would be delighted to get into Gary, and are now wooing the town board for a franchise. The Chicago Telephone company makes a seductive offer. It is willing to give connection with its 175,000 Chicago phones at the rate of $18 a year for residences and $48 for business houses. But it asks for a twenty-five year grant, and stipulates that no competitor shall be let in.

The town board is studying the various propositions. It is suspicious of some of the applicants. It fancies that they want the privilege in order to sell it at a profit. Of course the trustees know that their town would be a half baked kind of a place without telephone connection with Chicago, but if they are familiar with the methods of the Chicago Telephone company they know it is a slippery customer and that they must be extremely circumspect in their dealings with it. He who sups with the devil must have a long spoon.

A Gary telephone franchise may not be worth much now, but it will be in a few years. Gary will be a populous place when the steel plant is completed. When the trustees make a grant they should do it with an eye to the future. They should reserve to their successors the right to regulate rates and to supervise operation, so that there may be a certainty of good service. They should put in their ordinance all the salutary provisions which the telephone company is trying to keep out of the Chicago ordinance.

The citizens of Gary are two miles from a telephone. That is like being out in the wilderness. One cannot but sympathize with them, and yet it is better to go without telephones for a time than to make a foolish bargain and then regret it for fifteen or twenty years.

NURSES' FEES.

[From the Hospital, London.]

A good deal of discussion has been aroused on the subject of the large fees received by certain nurses in New York. As a rule patients are able to protect themselves from extortion by aid of a natural and healthy competition, and in England the custom of supplying nurses through coöperations tends to equalize the rate of payment.

The difference between fees in London and New York is partly one of organization, the two or three guineas a week received by the Englishwoman being pure profit, while the five guineas of the American has to provide her with the expense of living out. Even taking this into account, the amount which the New York patient often has to pay seems high, reaching occasionally a total of $35, or £7, a week.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

SIR VINCENT CORBETT'S resignation of the lucrative post of financial adviser to the khedive's government, which carries with it a seat in the Egyptian cabinet as the representative of the British government, with the power of veto, is being made the subject of so much disagreeable comment in the various capitals of Europe, especially in financial and political circles, and even in the continental press, that some sort of an explanation seems to be advisable on the part of the British government.

Some attribute Sir Vincent's sudden resignation of a post which carries with it a salary of about $20,000 a year, as well as much power and prestige, to differences with Sir Eldon Gorst, who has succeeded Lord Cromer as British minister and plenipotentiary at Cairo. But a much more persistent report is that which insists that Sir Vincent's retirement is due to immense losses incurred by the Egyptian government and for which he is held responsible. According to some these losses do not exceed $500,000, whereas, according to other tales, the losses to the Egyptian treasury figure up into many millions of dollars. Not that anything in the shape of dishonesty is imputed to Sir Vincent, who is a member of the English diplomatic service, with the rank of counselor of the embassy. If the losses actually have been incurred it is entirely due to an error of financial judgment and a certain obstinacy in refusing to listen to the advice of people possessed of greater experience than himself.

As the matter stands now the story furnishes an immense amount of capital to the foes of the British administration of Egypt, and the English government, in fairness to itself and to Sir Vincent, ought to issue an official announcement in the matter, and it is claimed should assume the responsibility of any losses incurred through the mistakes made by its agent in the investment of Egyptian government funds.

Sir Vincent, who has some fortune of his own, is a man of nearly 50 years of age, is a son of the former English minister at Athens, and was married to the present Lord Allington's sister, the Hon. Mabel Sturt, who died about eight years ago. He is, therefore, brother-in-law of Sir Charles Hardinge, the permanent undersecretary of state at the foreign office, and of Lord Chelsea, heir to the earldom of Cadogan, and consequently his appointment to a legation with the rank of minister plenipotentiary may be looked for at an early date. It is only fair to add that if, through some English mistake in the choice of investments, the Egyptian government has sustained any loss within the last few months, it has been able to recover its solvency and its credit, as well as the prosperity of the country, and to vastly increase its revenues through the agency of the English during their quarter of a century of occupation of the land of the Nile. In fact, even putting the losses ascribed to Sir Vincent Corbett at their most exaggerated figure, they would still appear infinitesimal when compared to all the money that England has brought into the coffers of Egypt.

Although the house of Orleans is endeavoring to overthrow the republic in France, with the object of placing its chief, the duke of Orleans, upon the throne, yet the government at Paris is sufficiently liberal in its attitude towards the monarchist party to permit the husband of a princess of Orleans to command one of its regiments of infantry. The colonel in question is Patrick de MacMahon, eldest son and heir of old Marshal MacMahon, who was for several years president of the French republic, and sufficiently loyal to the latter and to his sworn duty to refuse to hold any intercourse with the late comte de Chambord, known to the royalists as King Henry V. Indeed, had it not been for the gallant old marshal's honesty, which alone prevented him from following his own political tastes and yielding to the influence of his own kinsfolk and that of his wife, France would undoubtedly be ruled today by a king instead of by a president.

Col. Patrick de MacMahon, who refrains from using his father's title of duke of Magenta, commanded the One Hundred and Twenty-ninth regiment of infantry at Havre, and is married to Princess Margherite of Orleans, daughter of that duc de Chartres who served on the staff of Gen. McClellan during the war of the union in America, together with his brother, the late comte de Paris. Princess Margherite, who is a charming woman, was engaged for a time to the duke of Orleans, but was jilted by him in the most shameful fashion when he emerged from the prison at Claremont, to which he had been condemned for visiting Paris in defiance of the law of exile.

In insisting on being styled merely Col. MacMahon the heir of the old marshal is complying with a sort of unwritten law in the French army, according to which officers refrain from using any nobiliary title which they may possess until they have become generals. Moreover, he recalls thereby the fact that his father was far prouder of being known as Marshal MacMahon than of his dukedom, although the latter had been won on the battlefield of Magenta in 1859. The colonel, who takes rather after his mother's family and is disposed to embonpoint, has two brothers, one of whom, Emmanuel, is a soldier like himself and has just been appointed to the lieutenant colonecy of the One Hundred and Fifth regiment of infantry. The third brother, Eugene, was a source of great trouble, financial and otherwise, to his family, and is, unless I am much mistaken, vegetating in one of the colonies, either in some remote part of Algeria or in Cochin China. Anyhow, his name is never mentioned by his family and he has long since vanished from its circle of friends and acquaintances.

Portugal is a land of anomalies and of surprises, and at the present moment the curious spectacle may be witnessed there of a boycott of the king and queen and of their court by the leaders of both of the great political parties, including all the former cabinet ministers, by way of protest against the dictatorial powers which the monarch has intrusted to the present premier, Franco, who is in reality a republican. As I mentioned some time ago in these letters, he accepted the office of premier without possessing any legislative majority, with the understanding that he should be permitted a free hand by the king in putting an end to the frightful corruption which has been the bane of every government until now at Lisbon and which is responsible for the financial confusion and stringency.

In abolishing all these abuses, for which both of the great political parties were equally responsible, Premier Franco has had the support of both the king and the queen and has enjoyed the good will of all the best element of the public, though naturally it has brought down upon him the enmity of the two political parties, which have joined hands against him. As the king continues to support him, they have now inaugurated the boycott of the king and of his court, and the other day, on the arrival of the young crown prince from his tour of the various colonies of Portugal in Africa, they pointedly abstained from taking part in any of the popular rejoicings in connection with his return and from responding to the invitation of the king and queen to assist them in welcoming home the heir to the throne.

Fortunately the king and his republican premier have the situation well in hand, and, having paid all the arrears of the army and abolished many of the military abuses, are able to count on its loyalty and support; otherwise we might be called upon to witness a revolution against the monarchy, organized by the monarchists, and in which the republicans would be found fighting on the side of the monarch.

Americans who visit England, especially if they happen to be in affluent circumstances, would do well to bear in mind that there is a special tax payable for the use of any crest or armorial bearings on their automobiles, and that failure to produce proof that the tax in question, amounting to about $12 per annum or for any portion of the year, has been paid, is liable to lead to costly legal proceedings, to a fine, and even in extreme cases to imprisonment. This is altogether independent of the government license of $4 per annum exacted for every four wheeled carriage. Every now and again one reads in London newspapers of people being haled into a police court in response to a summons for the offense of having used heraldic devices on carriages without having paid the tax, and although the defendants can in almost every case prove bona fide ignorance, yet the punishment is always inflicted.

NO DRINK NEAR COUNTY FARM

Board Aims to Make New Institution a Temperance Center.

INMATES PRONE TO IMBIBE.

Effort Will Be Made to Have "Dry" Belt Surrounding the Buildings.

Cook county's new county home is to be built and operated as a "temperance Utopia."

That is what President William Busse and the members of the board of Cook county commissioners are planning to provide for Cook county's indigent inhabitants at the new county home that is to be the substitute for the Dunning institutions soon to be surrendered to the state for insane asylum purposes. All the powers of the county board will be used, President Busse says, to keep saloons out of the district in which the new farm and houses for the poor will be situated. In other words, it practically will be a temperance farm.

Realizing the difficulties to be encountered in the work of protecting the new institutions from the intrusion of saloons, a majority of the members of the county board have told President Busse that they favor the imposition of proper restrictions at the start.

Money Squandered in Saloons.

"Whatever their private views on the liquor selling question," said President Busse, "the members are practically unanimous in the belief that the proximity of saloons to a poorhouse or infirmary is not desirable. It is well known that the poor people in such institutions are too prone to spend in saloons all the change they happen to obtain from relatives and friends. Usually the strong drink does them more harm than good. If they are sick and need the drink for its stimulative or medicinal effects the county will provide it for them."

Mr. Busse said that one plan favorably regarded was to erect the infirmary buildings in the center of the farm to be purchased, not on the farm's border near some road from the other side of which it may not be possible to exclude saloons.

"If we can get the kind of site that we are looking for," President Busse resumed, "we will have a sort of Utopia for a county farm. In this matter, as in other things, Cook county will try to lead the world.

"Thoroughly modern, sanitary, wholesome buildings on a farm not too near to the great city's excitements, yet not too remote to permit frequent visits from friends, with good railroad transportation, though not necessarily with street car accommodations—such are the things that we are looking for and expect to get when we make a selection from the bids we have advertised for."

Bids from Many Sections.

Mr. Busse added that he had no means of knowing what district of the city or county was most likely to have the new institutions. He said he expected bids from Proviso and other sections of the west side, as well as from the northwest side.

"One bid is sure to be sent in from a man who wishes to sell us his farm near the Flossmoor golf links on the south side," said County Commissioner Chindblom, who was present.

President Busse pointed out that the proposition to turn over the Dunning institutions to the state for the use of the insane was "good business as well as good humanitarianism."

"It now costs Cook county from $275,000 to $300,000 to care for insane patients at Dunning," he said. "All that money will be saved to the county board after the state, acting under the new law, takes over the county's insane wards. It will probably not cost the county more than $750,000 to $1,000,000 to buy the new farm and equip it for the poor, who will then be the only wards of the county.

"Even if we have no right to demand compensation from the state for the Dunning lands and buildings—which is a disputed question—the county would gain in the end, as the saving in expenditure would pay for the farm and the new buildings in three or four years."

HELEN GOULD GIVEN OVATION AT DECATUR; 3,000 GREET HER

Noted Friend of Y. M. C. A., on Way to St. Louis, Spends Brief Time in Illinois City.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Miss Helen Gould, en route from New York to St. Louis to attend the dedication of the new railroad Y. M. C. A. building in that city tomorrow, was the guest of the local railroad Y. M. C. A. for two hours tonight.

Three thousand persons, including many railway employés and their families, were present at the reception given in her honor.

After a short address by President Delano of the Wabash railroad, who met Miss Gould on the way here, she stood in line with him, her private secretary, Supt. Ferritor and his wife and shook hands with the entire assembly as the people filed by her.

Miss Gould was especially cordial to the railroad boys, and for each one had a smile and pleasant word.

To the children present she never failed to stoop and say something pleasant.

To the newspaper men she said: "Gracious no; I never talk to newspaper men for publication. I am not clever enough for that."

Miss Gould has been a patron of the local association ever since it was formed, and has given a library and an elegant music box to the rooms. The party entered their special train at the conclusion of the exercises and went on to St. Louis. It was said by members of Miss Gould's party that the journey might end there, or be continued west.

THEATRICAL MEN INDICTED FOR OPEN HOUSES ON SUNDAY.

Kansas City Managers Will Be Brought to Trial as Result of Crusade to Enforce Sabbath Closing.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 16.—A grand jury in the Criminal court today returned nineteen indictments against managers of Kansas City theaters for keeping their places of amusement open on Sundays. The indictments had been asked by Judge William H. Wallace, who gave notice two weeks ago that he intended enforcing the Sunday closing law. The theatrical managers had secured a temporary injunction. Warrants will now be served and the managers brought to trial.

Speakers Before Railway Doctors' Convention Emphasize Physicians' Power to Reduce the Death Rate.

Dr. W. S. Hoy, president of the American Association of Railway Surgeons, yesterday emphasized the importance of the work of the surgeons in reducing the death rate due to railroad accidents. The occasion was the fourth annual meeting of the association.

"You are in a position to reduce in a great measure the number of casualties reported by dispatch and care," said Dr. Hoy. "The public is becoming more exacting each day."

Other speakers echoed the same sentiment. Leading physicians representing the medical departments of railroads throughout the country were present. The meeting will end tomorrow afternoon with an election of officers.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS

Burton Holmes in Berlin.

Burton Holmes was welcomed by an audience which filled Orchestra hall last evening when he began his annual five weeks of Travelogues. There was scarcely a vacant seat from front row of parquet to back of gallery, and applause, laughter, and buzzes of approval were abundant, just as they ever are at the evenings of travel given by the popular lecturer.

Mr. Holmes is taking his fellow sightseers for a tour of five of the great cities of the world, and as he pointed out in his introductory remarks last evening, it would be a good investment of public capital could each of our great cities send its mayor, its aldermen, and those of its officials who have the cleanliness and care of the streets and public buildings in charge on a voyage of observation and study to some of the older capitals of Europe. They would learn there lessons which they need sadly to learn, and which would bring about benefits to the municipalities over which they have charge.

Mr. Holmes declared he in no wise wished to belittle or discredit the importance or worth of that which had been accomplished here in America, neither was it his desire to overlook the wonderful possibilities that are contained and have been realized in part in this mighty country of ours. But he made clear that he does believe the European centers have solved more nearly the problem of clean, orderly, and beautiful living than we have here.

He talked last night of "Berlin," a city which approaches in his estimation more closely to the ideal so far as these elements of cleanliness, orderliness, and beauty are concerned than does any other city of which he knows.

Persons who have visited Berlin will be inclined to agree with the lecturer and several views included among the many he showed last evening made plain to the audience the vast difference in certain so-called "practical" things between Berlin and our own Chicago for example. One picture of the street where the elevated road runs was particularly convincing to the onlookers. The first view of the street showed a fine thoroughfare with trees flanking one side. Behind these trees was the elevated road. The next view disclosed the space under the tracks. A handsome arch of stone was in the immediate foreground and back of this extended a wide, splendidly paved walk with seats on either side, and the whole so arranged that a person could walk dry shod there on a rainy day without even raising his umbrella.

Mr. Holmes said he had sat there and meditated—meditated on Van Buren street and Wabash avenue. The contrast between the beauty and orderliness of the Berlin arrangement and the intolerable racket and disorder of the corner mentioned struck the auditors forcibly and repeated rounds of applause rewarded the speaker for the comparisons drawn. Stations of the elevated road—great spacious, handsome structures, commodious and practical and at the same time a joy to the eye and a decoration to the place where they stood—were shown and again the speaker's contention that we could learn much from the foreign "slow" towns was made convincing.

But the consideration of problems purely municipal did not form the sole matter discussed by the travelogist. He took his hearers for one of those chatty, care free, "sightdoing" jaunts which he is fond of conducting. Starting from Hoboken he gave a glimpse of the lacey pattern the wave from the prow of the transatlantic steamer weaves on the ocean's surface, displayed what he believes to be the only motion picture ever made of an iceberg in the Atlantic, placed before us the Augusta Victoria and then turning back to an oldtime motion film of uncommon effectiveness showed the launching of that big boat.

Then to Hamburg for a peep at the Alster and some of the lovely villas that face it, and then on to Berlin. The life in the streets and cafés, the Thiergarten, the Sieges Allee, the arrival in Berlin of the present crown princess, a trip out to the Spreewald and to Werder, visits to the palaces, museums, and monuments of the city, and finally the grand review of troops at the Tempelhoferfeld by the emperor—all these and more made up the two hour lecture.

The pictures were among the best Mr. Holmes ever has shown here. They were usually beautiful in composition and in their coloring there was less of brilliancy and more of naturalness than in those he has used in the past. They were many of them of exceptional beauty and his motion pictures—especially those of the Spreewald, of the ocean trip, and of parts of the military review were uncommonly clear and steady. Seven copies of masterpieces in the Kaiser Friedrich museum were thrown on the screen and were received with acclaim. They are the work of some German artist who has devoted himself to the preparing of lantern slides of such subjects and are admirable in their fidelity to coloring and drawing.

Vaudeville at the Majestic.

"I'd sort ha' like to be able to say in the years to come that my father married us before he went to get hanged," is the naive speech made by Miss Hilda Spong in the course of the performance of a sketch called "Kit," in which she is appearing at the Majestic this week. The playlet is by Cecil de Mille and Witter Bynner and is fashioned after the pattern of "Sunday," "The Girl of the Golden West," and other popular dramas which find their locale in the west. The part taken by Miss Spong is that of the uncouth, untrained type of girl which we usually find the heroine in these western plays to be.

Kit Burton is about to be married to the sheriff, Bill Jessup. Her father is a justice of the peace, and therefore qualified for the performance of the marriage ceremony, but he has been away over the mountains for days. Of his real mission Kit is ignorant, and she is busily engaged decking herself for the forty mile ride to the parson's house, when she is surprised by the sudden arrival of her father. He comes wearing a false beard and evidently is in fear of a pursuer, as he begs the girl to hide him. He is followed almost immediately by the sheriff, but before Kit admits her lover she secretes her father under a pile of clothing in a corner.

Bill enters and bluntly tells the girl that her father is a thief and a train robber, and that he must take him prisoner. At first Kit is defiant, but, finally, after the father has been found, implores the leniency of the man she loves toward the father she loves. However, Bill is inexorable. Then Kit ingeniously asks that her father be allowed to perform the marriage ceremony before he is taken away, and Bill, surprised and delighted, agrees. The groom has the license, but has lost the ring, and Kit insists that she must be married with a ring, and suggests the use of the handcuffs. Bill allows himself to be manacled to the girl, and then with a quick turn she snatches his revolver and throws it out of reach, while her father makes a dash for liberty, and the curtain falls.

It is not a particularly probable little tale, and at the opening it is quite formless and indefinite, but despite its crudities it has effective moments, and the climax comes as a surprise. Miss Spong has had the misfortune to be sadly miscast in not a few plays, and the rôle of Kit is not a happy medium for the display of her talents. She fails to make Kit the untamed, irresponsible creature she ought to be, and it is not until the crucial moment arrives that her acting rings true. Arthur Behrens renders efficient assistance as the imperturbable Bill.

The other bright particular star of the Majestic bill is jolly May Irwin, who with little effort but unbounded surety and directness sings four or five songs, recites two or three little stories in verse, and draws one of the largest salaries paid in vaudeville today. There is something in a name after all. Of course Miss Irwin sings her coon songs quite as cleverly as she ever has done and tells the little yarns with all that unction and humorous method which she has made distinctly her own, yet for all that, if she must take the vaudeville "rest cure," it would be much more gratifying to see her in a bright little farce not unlike George Ade's "Mrs. Peckham's Carouse," in which she was so irresistibly funny last season.

Clearly the vaudeville patrons are benefiting by the rivalry now existing between the local theaters devoted to the continuous, and that they are wide awake to the fact is shown by the audiences which are taxing the capacity of the Majestic and the Auditorium.

YELL 'TEDDY'; PILOT LOSES JOB

How Pittsburgers Got Hartweg's Captain in Serious Trouble.

MADE PRESIDENT WROTH.

Bear Sees Roosevelt First in Louisiana and Swims Out of Reach.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—There is an interesting story behind the action of President Roosevelt in directing the suspension of the pilot's license of Capt. Clarence L. Nicholls of the steamboat Fred Hertweg.

When the parade—fourteen or fifteen vessels in all—started from Cairo with the Mississippi, President Roosevelt's flagship, in the lead, the Fred Hertweg steamed joyously alongside it and proceeded to give the president a faint imitation of how he would be welcomed to "our fair city" if he ever visited it.

"Wu-ooo-oo-wah," sounded the siren.

"Toot, toot," answered the Mississippi, which was impolite, as "Toot, toot" was supposed to mean "Get back in line and don't bother us."

Called the President "Teddy."

But the Fred Hertweg took it kindly and showed that no resentment was felt by blowing its siren some more. Then the Pittsburgers got their lungs to work and gave vent to their joy as they spied the president on the quarter deck. They called him "Teddy" and made manifest a desire to be understood as believing he was the boy for them.

Now, anybody who knows Mr. Roosevelt even fairly well is aware that he doesn't like to be called "Teddy." There is a popular misconception to the contrary, but the president never could abide the nickname. Every time the proscribed encomium came from the Fred Hertweg the Pittsburg Commercial club became more and more unpopular aboard the Mississippi. They kept this up till Memphis was almost reached, when the boat was got rid of by a ruse.

Bear Escapes the President.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—A bear escaped from the president late yesterday afternoon by plunging into the lake and swimming to the opposite side. The bruin was started by the dogs and the president took up the trail, but before he could get near enough to shoot bruin had disappeared in the water. The president did not see him, but he was seen by other members of the party. The hunt was resumed early this morning before Secretary Latta and Brutus Jackson, the negro guide, came from the camp.

JUVENILE COURT WRESTLES WITH THE ORMSBY PROBLEM.

Quads and Triplets Held While Their Father and Grandfather Can Be Heard From—Mother Wants Them.

Once more the Juvenile court is wrestling with the Ormsby problem. The Ormsby problem is put in the same category with the puzzle, "How old is Ann?" and all the other brain storm provokers by Juvenile court officials.

The Ormsby problem consists, in its major part, of a set of quadruplets, 5 years old, and a set of triplets, 7 years old, while the minor part is Mrs. Ormsby.

According to the probation officers who have investigated the case Mrs. Ormsby is not in particularly reduced circumstances. She took possession of a shanty on the Wabash railroad near Forty-second place, but the railroad wishing to erect a signal tower on the spot told her to get out.

Despite the fact that Mrs. Ormsby had some money the police found the children in a state of squalor and took them in to the detention home. Mrs. Ormsby, who has battled with the court before on the same proposition, said she wished to go to her father, Isaac True, at Canton, O., who was prepared to take care of herself and brood. But the court had heard that Charles Ormsby, Mrs. Ormsby's divorced husband and the father of her children, now living in Seattle, was also anxious to get the children. Through an attorney he wrote he was willing to take them, but not the mother.

It was decided to hold the children for a while, and court officials will communicate with the father and grandfather, and then determine which is the better place for them.

IF NO MUSEUM ON LAKE FRONT, WHAT RIGHT HAS RAILROAD?

Attorneys John Barton Payne and Edwin Walker Argue Against Obstructive Policy of Montgomery Ward.

"If the law is that no building or obstruction of any kind can be erected in Grant park, by what right is the Illinois Central railroad there?" asked Attorney John Barton Payne, in his argument before Judge Dupuy yesterday on behalf of the south park board and the Field museum it desires to erect on the lake front.

"We want a decree in this case," continued Mr. Payne, "which will determine the rights of the board for all time. The two salient points involved are: Has Montgomery Ward an easement in that part of Grant park lying south of Madison street, and is the proposed Field museum a proper structure to be erected in Grant park?"

Attorney Edwin Walker, who also spoke against Montgomery Ward's contention that the lake front must be kept clear, said: "The dedication of this land to the city of Chicago was made with the understanding that it should forever be used as a public common. The board has the right to either authorize the erection of a public museum or build and maintain a museum itself. There is no interference with the vested rights of Mr. Ward."

Late in the afternoon former Judge Elbridge Hanecy began his argument for Mr. Ward.

CITY IS SUNDAY SCHOOL CENTER

International Association Formally Makes Chicago Capital by Establishing Offices Here.

With the formal opening of the central offices of the International Sunday School association in the Hartford building yesterday, Chicago became the continental headquarters for an organization representing 155,000 Sunday schools.

Members of the international committee, which just closed its annual meeting at Louisville, Ky., came to Chicago upon a special train to be present at the opening. Among them was the president of the association, Justice J. J. McLaren of Toronto, Canada.

Upon the reception committee were the Rev. Martin E. Cady, the Rev. John Balcom Shaw, the Rev. W. A. Bartlett, Judge McKenzie Cleland, C. L. Hutchinson, John Farson, and others.

IF STEAD HAD STAID IN LONDON.

He Would Not Have Slandered Chicago and Might Have Done Good at Home, Says D. R. Forgan.

Attacks on Chicago's reputation and the character of its citizens were denounced yesterday in a talk by David R. Forgan, president of the National City bank. He was addressing the local Cornell University Alumni association at its weekly luncheon at the Grand Pacific hotel.

"Mr. Stead, the author of 'If Christ Came to Chicago,' ought to have remained at home in London," said Mr. Forgan. "In his book he pictured Chicago's worst places. He could have done much better work if he had staid at home and tried to clean up the London slums.

"It is true that we have bad conditions here. Every big city has. But to draw a picture of Chicago and present only the worst sides is not honest."

NEWS OF THE SOCIETY WORLD

Wedding of Miss Elisabeth Moore and Mr. McLeish on Oct. 26.

MANY OTHER LIKE EVENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Preston Jones have issued invitations to the marriage of their sister, Miss Elisabeth Jane Moore, to Bruce McLeish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McLeish of Glencoe, to take place the evening of Saturday, Oct. 26, at 8:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church of Evanston. Dr. Boyd is to officiate.

Miss Helen Porter of Montclair, N. J., will attend Miss Moore as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Eva Porter of Montclair, N. Mr. McLeish has taken the house at 2305 Hartley avenue, Evanston, where he and his bride will be at home after Jan. 1, 1908.

The privilege of wearing her mother's wedding gown at her own marriage service is not given to every bride, and because of this an extra touch which was attractive was added to the wedding of Miss Romaine Madelaine Hardcastle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lockwood Hardcastle, 1112 Grove street, Evanston, and Mr. James Reynolds Van Ryper, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Van Ryper, which took place last night at 8 o'clock at St. Mark's Episcopal church, Evanston. Dr. Arthur W. Little performed the service.

The gown was of the princess style which now is so popular, and was fashioned of antique moire of ivory shade, heavily embroidered in white and silver daisies. The front panel, sleeves, and yoke were of ivory silk net over silver cloth, elaborately appliqued in duchesse lace. The veil which the young bride wore with the gown was of tulle, caught with a wreath of silver leaves. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Juliet Swayne of Richmond, Ind., was the maid of honor, and Mrs. Paul Volk of Mont Clare, Ill., served as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Florence Burrell of Edgewater, Miss Rachel Williams of Seneca, Kas., and Miss Ethel Barker of Evanston. The marriage of Miss Florence Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fowler Cummings, 5135 Madison avenue, to Mr. Thomas Johnston Hair took place last night at 8 o'clock at the Hyde Park Presbyterian church, Dr. James G. K. McClure officiating. Miss Lenora Cummings, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Miss Thyrza Barton, Miss Francis Nowak, Miss Ethel Rogerson, and Miss Gertrude Eighten of Stillwater, Minn., were the bridemaids. Mr. Charles Sumner Hayes was the best man and the ushers were Mr. Ralph Norton, Mr. Albert N. Sherer, Mr. Walker Galley McLaury, and Mr. Clarence Bills. The wedding march was played by Mr. Allan Benedict. A reception followed at the Cummings residence. Mr. and Mrs. Hair will live at 152 East Fifty-second street.

The bride wore a gown of white radium silk made empire and trimmed with pearls and a bertha of filet lace. Her veil was of tulle and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore white messaline satin and Cluny lace and carried Killarney roses and violets, in a shower bouquet. The maid wore white net over lavender taffeta and carried a bouquet similar to that of the matron, the combination of lavender and pink carrying out the Delta Sigma sorority colors of the bride. The rooms were done in Killarney roses and chrysanthemums, with bride roses in the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Palenske will go to New York and the Adirondacks for their wedding journey, and will be at home after Nov. 15 at 5336 Cornell avenue.

The bride and groom will tour the south and will be at home at the Shonk residence after Jan. 1.

The charitable events for the winter are being made public, and it is evident that the usual number of these affairs which have characterized the past seasons of Chicago's society will be given during the winter. Among the box holders for the concert for the benefit of the Presbyterian hospital to be given in Orchestra hall Monday evening, Nov. 4, are Mr. A. M. Day, Mrs. Byron Smith, Mr. Marvin Hughitt, Mrs. Walter C. Nelson, Mrs. George A. McKinlock, Dr. Truman W. Brophy, and Mr. Louis F. Swift. Mrs. Lincoln M. Coy, 3942 Grand boulevard, has charge of the advance sale of tickets.

Mrs. Chester Terrill Ayres, 4843 Madison avenue, will hold a reception this afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock.

The Chicago Lasell club will have its annual luncheon next Tuesday at the Chicago Athletic club. All former students of Lasell seminary will attend the affair.

For Each Woman, According to Her Needs.

THE SEWING ROOM

Sewing on White Goods.

To make a French seam, run a plain seam on the right side of the goods. Crease it and then turn it to the wrong side and seam again. This makes a double seam, which has no loose edges to fray. This French seam is used more than any other seam in sewing on any kind of white material. All underwear and lingerie waists are seamed with a French seam.

* *

Felled Seam.

The felled seam is also popular for use on white sewing. Run a plain seam on the wrong side and trim one edge close. Turn the other edge and lap it over the first, and then hem down to the material, using the over and over stitch. This is a neat way to finish white goods, as there is no seam left to turn after the garment is laundered and the wrong side is neat to look at.

Lace insertion should always be sewed to the rolled edge of the material. Lace edging nearly always has a stout in the selvedge which serves as a gathering thread. Overhand the gathered edge of the lace to the rolled edge of the material. Insertion is sewed to the rolled edge plain, of course.

* *

Whipped Ruffle.

A whipped ruffle should be at least twice the length of the space to which it is sewed. Whipping is only used on thin materials, such as lace, net, or fine lawns. For a hemmed ruffle roll toward you the upper edge of the material into the smallest possible coil. The thumb and first finger of the right hand should be used. After you have it started, use the thumb and first finger of the left hand to continue with and overcast with the right hand, from the right end, putting the needle under the coil each time. Draw the thread up to make fullness with every few stitches. If the stitches are taken regularly and evenly, there will be no trouble in drawing up the thread.

The edge of a whipped ruffle is overhanded to the material.

THE BOUDOIR

Care of the Feet.

That a pretty foot is one of woman's greatest charms is universally conceded, and the woman who wants to preserve the shape of her pedal extremities must perforce bestow considerable more attention upon them than she is credited with doing. To keep them trim and shapely, hot baths should be resorted to. A frequent change of shoes is advisable, as it rests the feet and helps keep them in good condition. After a long tramp bathe them in warm water, afterwards rubbing with bay rum or cologne. But after all the weekly pedicuring should not be forgotten. It is just as important as manicuring. After a hot foot bath all callosities should be treated with pumice stone, and if one desires to prevent their return, apply a plaster of chamois skin with a hole in the center. This not only will relieve, but cure. Toenails do not need trimming as often as finger nails. They should be trimmed square across, kept at a moderate length, and otherwise treated as those of the fingers.

The feet should be washed every morning. If it were made a daily custom, the beauty of the feet would be better preserved and there would be fewer corns, blisters, and bunions. Should the feet be prone to dampness, the stockings should be changed every day, and the soles of the clean stockings should be sprinkled with some good toilet powder.

Patent leather has a bad effect on many feet and therefore women with tender feet should avoid it. Slippers of a much thinner leather, called patent kid, can be obtained. This looks quite as smart and does the feet far less harm.

With the Girl Workers

Gives Her Day to Others.

Should a girl working week days from 8 in the morning until 5 at night spend her entire Sunday in church work rather than allow herself a day of rest, as a dear friend I have does?

Every Sunday morning she teaches her Sunday school class at 9:30, and sings in the choir for the morning service at 11 o'clock. She hurries home to dinner and out again to teach a class at a mission Sunday school at 3 o'clock. She returns in time for a brief rest and supper before she leaves for Epworth league at 6:30 to play the piano and sing for evening service in the choir at 7:45.

She is giving up her bodily welfare for the spiritual, and is happy in doing it. How many other working girls are doing likewise?

Wanted to Be Entertained.

A great mistake which some women make when they secure positions in offices where thers are others employed is to expect too much personal attention. They do not seem to grasp the fact that in the right kind of an office it is wholly a business proposition. If they should happen to find some one there of whom they could make a friend—well and good; but otherwise they should be quite satisfied if common courtesy and consideration is extended to them.

This is brought out by the advent into our office of a young woman who was most estimable in every way, but who for the first few weeks was almost in tears because "no one was interested in her." Every one was courteous, but too busy to entertain her. It is a necessary thing for all women employed to learn that their business life is a thing apart from their social life.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

Dr. Torrey's Daily Message to the People of Chicago

Dr. Torrey's text last evening was: "Ye will not come to Me that ye might have life."—John v., 40.

That is one of the saddest utterances our Savior ever spoke. He went up and down among men proclaiming that life could be obtained by simply coming to Him, but men would not come. At last, he turned to the men who had not come to Him, and with an aching heart and tones full of yearning pity, said, "Ye will not come to Me that ye might have life."

Those words explain why any man is lost. It is because he will not come to Christ. No man is lost because he needs to be. God provided salvation for everybody. The atonement of Jesus Christ covers the sins of every man.

No man is lost because he has gone down so deeply into sin. "This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners"—even the chief. He has power tonight to save any man or woman in Chicago.

No man is lost because too weak to lead the Christian life. Thank God we have a Savior who is able to keep us from falling.

But why will not men come to Christ? There are many things that keep them from coming. The first is sin. A man cannot come to Christ and retain his sin. You have to choose between Jesus Christ and sin. Men know that but they are not willing to give up their sins.

The love of money keeps a man from coming to Christ. He would lose money by it. There are things in his business that he would need to give up. The young ladies said at one of our services, "We are employed in a large shop and our employer requires us to misrepresent the goods. We cannot do that and be Christians, can we?" "No, you cannot," Mrs. Torrey replied; and the young ladies replied, "If we don't then we lose our positions." God pity the man or the merchant who requires his employes to lie! And yet there are such who profess to be Christians. God have mercy on such hypocrites, who are hurrying on fast to an eternal hell—every one of them.

Love of pleasure is keeping many in Chicago from coming to Christ who know they need Christ and would like to be Christians, but if they come to Christ they will have to give up this or that pleasure. Some of you tonight are making that choice. You feel that you could not be a real Christian and hold on to your worldly pleasure, and you will reject Jesus Christ rather than give up your worldly pleasure.

The fear of man keeps many a man and woman in Chicago from coming to Christ. You keep your seat and reject Jesus Christ for fear of what your friends would say. I would a great deal rather have men laugh at me down here for doing a wise thing, than that the devils in hell should laugh at me for all eternity for doing a foolish thing.

An unforgiving spirit is another thing that is keeping men and women from coming to Christ. Are you going to reject Jesus Christ and eternal life for the sake of hating somebody? God have mercy on you!

Let us throw away everything that stands between us and Jesus Christ. He stands in this building tonight with outstretched hands. Oh see Him! Hear the tender tones that fall from his lips, the heartbreaking tones: "Ye will not come to Me that ye might have life." The Lord Jesus Christ, who died on the cross of Calvary, is standing here, with his thorn-crowned head and pierced hands, saying, "Ye will not come to Me that ye might have life." Men and women rise and say, "I will come, Lord Jesus; I will come now."

SQUALL HITS STOCK MARKET

Prices Recover at Close After an Emphatic Slump.

BREAK IN COPPER FACTOR.

Southern Pacific Among First to Reflect Unsteady Tone.

[BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Stocks had a rally in the late trading today, after the market experienced a squall that almost upset the calculations of many traders. When the prices of leading issues began to break there was a deluge of offerings.

The weakness of the copper stocks and the feeling that the dividend on Amalgamated would be cut added to the depression.

London turned buyer here, and this helped to lower the foreign exchange rate. There also were some acceptances reported of American finance bills by London, which was a source of relief to the local money market. Call money was firmer in tone, however, and loaned at 5 per cent, partly in connection with the flurry in the stock market. Liquidation of collateral in loans played part in the weakness there.

The transfer of $500,000 to San Francisco through the subtreasury opened up a fresh demand on bank reserves and served as an offset to the week's contribution to the banks on subtreasury operations, which have run to upwards of $2,000,000.

Southern Pacific was among the first stocks to break away from the early upward tendency. The late rally was accompanied by reports that arrangements had been made to tide over the troubles of the group of capitalists whose affairs had become involved.

Bonds were weak. Total sales, par value, $2,008,000. United States 2s and the 4s registered declined ¼ per cent on call.

Money—On call, firm; 3½@6 per cent; ruling rate, 5½ per cent; closing bid, 4½ per cent; offered at 6 per cent. Time loans—Dull and firm; 60 days, 6 per cent and 90 days, 6½ per cent; six months, 6 per cent.

Prime mercantile paper, 7 per cent. Sterling exchange, easier, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8615@4.8620 for demand, and at 4.8235@4.8240 for 60 day bills. Commercial bills, 4.82¼. Bar silver, 61¼. Mexican dollars, 47½c. Government bonds easy.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Quality rather than quantity was in demand in the cattle market yesterday, and the result was an unevenness which kept both sides wondering what the net results of the day's trading would be. Butcher cattle were generally slow and weak. Light hogs suffered the most in the swine market, although all grades were generally about 5 cents off. Lambs and sheep were generally steady, range lambs showing a bit higher during the greater portion of the day. Receipts for the day were: Cattle, 24,000 head; hogs, 25,000 head; sheep, 30,000 head. IRON TRADE HAS DULL WEEK.

Review of Conditions Shows Worst Six Day Period of Year—Steel Billets Show Weakness.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—[Special.]—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

"The last week under review has been the dullest thus far this year. New business is coming out with a good deal of hesitation, and, generally speaking, in moderate lots only, for fairly prompt delivery.

"So far as the pig iron industry is concerned, the first effects of the decline from the inflated prices are developing in the eastern territory, where some furnaces are blowing out.

"Little new steel rail business has been done, either for the home market or for export. Steel billets are weaker and are offered in the Pittsburg district at $28 for delivery. New contracts for structural steel are scarce and small. Among these closed during the week was 1,800 tons for the Erie bridge across the Hackensack river and 1,700 tons for an armory in the Bronx. The plate trade is quiet, while in the sheet trade concessions are beginning to appear both on black and on galvanized sheets.

"The price of copper has declined below 13c for electrolytic, but a little more interest is being shown by buyers, frightened though they be."

Says Trade Is on Defensive.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—The Iron Trade review tomorrow will say:

"The pig iron market at present is like some football teams that are strong on the defensive but seldom score. Prices are being remarkably well maintained in spite of the effort of buyers to obtain concessions. Considerable complaint is made about slow collections, but there is little evidence of real distress. The demand for steel making pig iron in the Pittsburg district shows marked improvement and sales of about 7,000 tons of basic on the basis of $19.75 valley furnace have been made, while inquiries are pending for some 100,000 tons of Bessemer. Shipments of iron ore from the head of the lakes for the first two weeks in October show an increase of half a million tons as compared with the same period last year.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 16.—The wholesale price of spirits was advanced 1 cent a gallon here today. The advance brings the basis price of a proof gallon of spirits up to $1.35 per gallon, minus the revenue duty. The price is the highest since the civil war.

PETITION FOR BURNSIDE PARK.

Business Men's Delegation Asks the South Commissioners to Purchase Forty Acre Tract.

Another effort was made yesterday to induce the south park commissioners to create a small park in Burnside. A delegation of business men petitioned the board to buy a plot of forty acres at Ninety-fifth street and St. Lawrence avenue. The tract extends from St. Lawrence to South Park avenue and from Ninety-fifth to Ninety-third streets.

DEARBORN AS BEAUTY STREET

Property Owners Indorse Roth's Business Boulevard Plan.

AUTOISTS JOIN IN RANKS.

Now See Prospect for Good Route North for Motor Cars.

"The movement to make Dearborn street one of the greatest business boulevards in the world has caught like wildfire among property owners and automobilists and gives promise of immediate realization."

Such was the announcement made late yesterday afternoon by Col. John C. Roth at his office in the Great Northern hotel, after a strenuous day spent in conferences with business men and property owners.

As president of the newly organized association of Dearborn street boomers, Col. Roth had been kept busy all day with telephone messages and callers offering to contribute time and money to make Dearborn street from Polk street to the river, the most beautiful thoroughfare in the city.

Autoists Favor Plan.

"Everybody is receiving the organization's plan with enthusiasm," Col. Roth continued. "Scores of the most prominent automobile owners in the city have told me today they regard Dearborn street the natural auto route to the north side. It offers them immediate relief from the congestion on State street and the almost impassable blocks of Michigan avenue between Jackson boulevard and the river.

"I pointed out to them that Dearborn street, with the lighting and paving improvements the property owners intend to install, would be in good trim for autos long before the projected outer boulevard links could be constructed on the lake shore.

"Both from the viewpoint of real estate values as well as business utility, the thoroughfare will be immensely improved by the artistic lamp clusters and high class pavements with which we intend to beautify the topography of this fine street."

Traction Company Co-operates.

Col. Roth said Ald. Francis W. Taylor, an official of the Dearborn street organization, had received assurances from General Manager Roach and Receiver Sampsell of the Union Traction company that "thorough and sympathetic consideration" would be given the plan fathered by Ald. Taylor and Foell of the Twenty-first ward, to have the North State street cars switched into Dearborn street and Lake street and then run along Dearborn street past the government building and through the long "canyon of skyscrapers" to the railroad station in Polk street.

CHARGES FORMER FRIEND WITH WRECKING COMPANY.

Trustee for Bankrupt Edward B. Leigh Asks for Accounting from H. D. Laughlin and Naming of Receiver.

An accounting from Henry D. Laughlin and Louis L. Woods, and the appointment of a receiver for the assets of the National Hollow Brake Beam company is asked in a bill filed in the Circuit court yesterday by the Chicago Title and Trust company, as trustee for the estate of Edward B. Leigh, bankrupt.

For twelve years the relations between Leigh and Laughlin were of the most intimate nature. In 1888 the company was incorporated with 60,000 shares. Leigh invited Laughlin to join him in obtaining control of the stock, of which 50,786 shares were issued, the remainder, 9,214 shares, being left in the treasury. From then until 1900 they had control of the corporation's affairs.

In 1892 Laughlin suggested to Leigh the advisability of forming another company to take over the business, the bill avers. Leigh acquiesced and the Chicago Railway Equipment company was organized.

The new company took over the National Hollow Brake Beam company's business Jan. 1, 1893.

In 1900, before the disrupture of their friendship, it is charged Laughlin agreed with Leigh to divide the National Hollow Brake Beam company's assets. Laughlin finally told Leigh the latter owned but 8,962 shares, while he owned 35,000 shares. It is alleged Laughlin dominated the directors' meetings, which dissipated the assets of the company by voting alleged dividends to him.

SURPRISED BY CUT IN COTTON.

Reduction of Price on Cloth by Chicago Wholesalers Gives Rise to Varying Explanations.

Announcement of a reduction of 1 to 1½ cents by Chicago wholesalers in the price of domestic cotton cloth has caused some surprise.

Marshall Field & Co. is the only firm that has put the new schedule into force, but other houses will follow suit in a short time, it is said.

Matthew C. D. Borden, a cotton manufacturer and merchant in New York, was reported in dispatches yesterday as surprised at the action.

"What a jobbing house like Marshall Field & Co. may have in view I don't know," said Mr. Borden. "Any one of a dozen causes may have dictated the action. Probably it was thought to brisk up trade. Certainly it cannot have been predicated upon the theory that the supply has at last caught up with the demand for cotton goods. I never saw such an actual shortage."

In Chicago the explanation was made that the reduction was due to an effort to boom the country trade.

COTTON SPINNERS ON WAY HERE

Chicago is to entertain tomorrow a delegation of foreigners who represent the great manufacturers of textile fabrics in England, Germany, Austria, France, Belgium, and Italy. They are the European delegates, 113 in number, to the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers, who are being shown the United States by the cotton manufacturers of New England.

They will arrive in Chicago at 8 a. m., and after an automobile trip to the stockyards and through the south parks they will visit the State street stores. In the evening they will attend a dinner at the Auditorium and will leave for New York at 10 p. m.

The entertainment committee named by Mayor Busse is composed of Charles A. Plamondon, A. S. Terrill, Dr. W. A. Evans, J. H. McCortney, Martin B. Madden, and L. M. Byles.

FIGHT FOR R. R. CLARK'S ESTATE

Wife's Relatives Demand a Share in Pioneer's Fortune—Say Wealth Was Due to His Marriage.

A fight for a share in the million dollar estate left by Robert R. Clark, a pioneer resident of the north side, was begun yesterday in the Probate court. Daniel T. Elston Jr., 1703 North Halsted street, and his sister, Mrs. Alice Elston Redick of Woodson, Kas., Mrs. Clark's brother's children, are the plaintiffs.

Mr. Clark died Aug. 8. He left a will in which he left his entire fortune, with the exception of a few minor bequests, to his wife. But as she had died three months before Mr. Clark's relatives claimed the entire estate.

It is contended by the plaintiffs that Clark received all his money through his marriage to Miss Blanche Elston, and now this money, instead of going to her relatives, goes to his.

Charcoal Kills Bad Breath.

Bad Odor of Indigestion, Smoking Drinking or Eating Can Be Instantly Stopped.

Sample Package Mailed Free.

Other people notice your bad breath where you would not notice it at all. It is nauseating to other people to stand before you and, while you are talking, give them a whiff or two of your bad breath. It usually comes from food fermenting on your stomach. Sometimes you have it in the morning—that awful sour, bilious, bad breath. You can stop that at once by swallowing one or two Stuart Charcoal Lozenges, the most powerful gas and odor absorbers ever prepared.

Sometimes your meals will reveal themselves in your breath to those who talk with you. "You've had onions," or "You've been eating cabbage," and all of a sudden you belch in the face of your friend. Charcoal is a wonderful absorber of odors, as every one knows. That is why Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are so quick to stop all gases and odors of odorous foods or gas from indigestion.

Don't use breath perfumes. They never conceal the odor and never absorb the gas that causes the odor. Besides, the very fact of using them reveals the reason for their use. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges in the first place stop for good all sour brash and belching of gas and make your breath pure, fresh and sweet just after you've eaten. Then no one will turn his face away from you when you breathe or talk; your breath will be pure and fresh, and, besides, your food will taste so much better to you at your next meal. Just try it.

Charcoal does other wonderful things, too. It carries away from your stomach and intestines all the impurities there massed together and which cause the bad breath. Charcoal is a purifier as well as an absorber.

Charcoal is now by far the best, most easy and mild laxative known. A whole boxful will do no harm; in fact, the more you take the better. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made of pure willow charcoal and mixed with just a faint flavor of honey to make them palatable for you, but not too sweet. You just chew them like candy. They are absolutely harmless.

Get a new, pure, sweet breath, freshen your stomach for your next meal, and keep the intestines in good working order. These two things are the secret of good health and long life. You can get all the charcoal necessary to do these wonderful but simple things by getting Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. We want you to test these little wonder workers yourself before you buy them. So send us your full name and address for a free sample of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. Then after you have tried the sample, and been convinced, go to your druggist and get a 25c box of them. You'll feel better all over, more comfortable, and "cleaner" inside.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Withdraw Savings—Buy Stocks

NOW

To Every Man, Woman and Child Having Savings in Savings Banks and Trust Companies.

Good stocks can be bought today at 50 cents on the dollar of what they sold for a year ago.

Safe stocks are those stocks which represent the ownership of the great industries of the American people.

The great industries of the American people are now earning, always have earned and always will earn their running expenses, plus the cost of maintenance and from 50 to 150 per cent more profit each year upon their stock capital than savings banks can earn and do earn and pay the depositors.

Only an industrial cataclysm will prevent them from doing this. Savings banks will go down with the great industries in a great industrial cataclysm.

There will be no industrial cataclysm in America while America is the marvelous country it is today.

Neither savings banks nor great industries are going to pot this year, next year or the years beyond. Both are safe; both will prosper in the future as in the past.

Savings bank depositors today receive 4 per cent yearly; stocks of great industrials return 8 to 16 per cent.

The people are kept poor and the few rich, because the people get but 4 per cent upon their $4,000,000,000 of deposited savings, which the few borrow at 4 per cent and receive back 8 to 108 and 1,008 per cent from the people to whom they loan them through the medium of the great industries.

The manipulation of these $4,000,000,000 of deposited savings of the people is the instrument by which the System works its pillaging of the people. The people really own the great industries, but the System controls them. This is the secret of the Standard Oil's $800,000,000 profits in one industry—Standard Oil—the secret of the creation of the Rockefellers, Rogerses and Harrimans.

The time has now come for the American people to strike and strike to the kill—of the System.

The weapon is ready. Millions of people in their capacity of stockholders in Union Pacifics, Standard Oils and Amalgamated Coppers, can quickly, inexpensively, legally, without the aid of courts, law-makers, law-administrators or additional laws, take away from the System the control of the great industries. . . with the result—first, the restitution of hundreds of millions of stolen loot.

Second. Large reduction in the price of necessities and luxuries—raw material, wheat, cotton, railroad freights, passenger fares, finished product of metal, lumber, wool, etc.

Third. No reduction in labor's wages.

Fourth. The same net return to savings banks depositors—4%.

Fifth. The same net returns to the stockholders of the great industries as now.

The great savings which will bring about this condition will come entirely from the billions which are now stolen from the people by the few—the $800,000,000 Standard Oil, the $200,000,000 New York City tractions, the $300,000,000 Union Pacifics, the $500,000,000 copper, the metal, the $200,000,000 Amalgamated Copper. These things are coming. When they are here the present price of the stocks of the great industries of the American people will have doubled in price.

Formerly the System sold stocks to the people at the top, and, after frightening the people out of them, at the bottom, bought them back, and continued repetition brought about the awful results which are now being exposed to the world.

Three and a half years ago I began my terrible exposure of the System.

I and I alone then predicted each thing which has since been open-aired—insurance, Standard Oil, Railroad, Copper, etc. I was heralded throughout the world half mad.

I said to the people then: "Don't buy the System's stock at present high prices." The System continued to push up prices, but the people heeding, did not buy, with the result for the first time in history, the System became loaded, water-logged, and the result is now astounding the world—the System compelled to throw over stocks at any price.

A short time ago I said to the people "Now withdraw savings and buy stocks, and buy, buy, buy," and they began to buy. The System still being compelled to disgorge, stocks continued to fall, and the System's hirelings screamed to the people, "See where his advice has landed you? You cannot sell the stocks you have bought upon his advice for as much as you paid. He has deceived you. Throw them over now for what you can get."

I now repeat: Buy, buy, buy with your savings, but buy only for cash, and pay no attention to what stocks sell for after you have bought. All who have bought upon my advice have received, all who buy now will continue to receive, two to four times as much yearly return as they can receive from savings banks and

AS SURE AS THERE IS A GOD

Our great country's prosperity, which has continued from the first until today, will bring back the price of the good stocks of the great industrials to their highest, yes, beyond their highest, point.

This is what is going to happen, and at once, if the people refuse to be shaken out of their stocks this time at the bottom: The stockholders of our great industrials will meet and take away the corporations from the financial thugs who have been blackjacking their finances. Then the people, seeing how easily it can be done, will rise up and take them away up and down the line and the System will be dead.

President Roosevelt sees it coming, every intelligent financier without bias sees it coming, and it is almost here.

I appeal to every intelligent person in America and Europe to study the following table of past prices of the good stocks of the great industries and ask themselves, is not the game by which the American people have been robbed plain? The following table shows the different high and low prices at which these leading stocks were sold to and bought from the people, that is, the high price shows where they were unloaded upon and the low price where they were taken away from the people.

Now is the time of times, and I appeal to every American who reads this advertisement to pass it along to some savings bank depositor of his or her acquaintance. I cannot reach them all, though I have spent millions of dollars in advertising.

In fairness I ask each reader to bear in mind that I receive no benefit from this or any like advertisement, for I do not advertise only stock which I control or in a large way own. I advertise only those great industrial stocks which are bought and sold in the world's markets and which are today owned by the people. Bear in mind, I never advise the withdrawal of savings banks deposits for the purchase of any stocks but the best dividend payers, and then only those listed on the world's great stock exchanges, and then only through stock exchange houses, and then only for cash—never upon margin. If any of my stock speculating followers want my advice on a stock speculation, I say: Buy Trinity, not because I largely own it, for it is owned by 6,000 stockholders, located throughout America and Europe, but because I know when the System's throat is reached, as it will be shortly, Trinity's price will multiply five to ten times. As Trinity is not yet a dividend payer, I repeat what I have so many times advertised: Do not put savings bank deposits into it, or any other non-dividend payer.

TO STOCKHOLDERS OF

AMALGAMATED COPPER

30,000 stockholders own Amalgamated. Standard Oil without ownership, through proxy control only, as absolutely manages Amalgamated Copper and the copper metal market as they do their own yellow dogs.

They pay you 8 per cent per annum. At the declaration of the last dividend they solemnly assured you that the price of the metal was permanent at from 20 to 26 cents, so permanent that they increased the dividend from 6 per cent regular and 2 per cent contingent to 8 per cent regular, so permanent that they increased the miners' wages to a 20 to 26 cent per pound basis. So permanent that they increased the mines' producing capacity and urged other mines in their control (over half the American product) to increase. Yet in a month—in a day—in almost an hour—while their solemn declaration of permanency was still on their lips—the price of copper, the metal, slumped to 13 cents with no takers, and the copper stock market was cut in two.

Before the slump, that is while they were solemnly proclaiming the stability of stock and metal price, some mysterious persons were selling hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of copper metal and copper stocks, at prices which compared with today's show a profit of over $150,000,000 for one year's production of the metal, and $600,000,000 for copper stocks.

Either the Amalgamated management committed the most damnable crime of the age or the most damnable blunder. Which it is will be made plain to the world in a few days.

Today this management will cut the Amalgamated dividend, and if, as in 1902, when the same things were done in the same way both to the metal and to the stock and by the same people, the 30,000 stockholders become panic stricken and allow themselves to be blackjacked out of their valuable stock, the crime will be completed; but if, on the contrary, they continue to hold their stock and buy more, the death knell of Standard Oil management of the copper industry will have been sounded, and that industry will take the place it should have occupied during the past ten years, and the shameless pillaging of the people in copper and copper stocks, which has been made possible only through a trick monopoly, will have forever disappeared. Don't sell a share of your stock on the declaration of the dividend cut today.

On the contrary buy more and then witness the crucifixion of the most ruthless band of financial highwaymen since the beginning of the financial world, a crucifixion to which the $29,000,000 Standard Oil fine will appear as a humming bird spitting to an elephant barbecue.

WHEAT HAS TIRED FEELING

December and May Strength Sapped Despite Export Tonic.

Distant Delivery Again Supported at Expense of Spring Month.

That tired feeling was strongly characteristic of yesterday's wheat market despite the fact that tonics which usually build up rundown systems were administered. Although held in check at intervals the germ of realizing was active throughout, being most aggressive toward the close. When the market pulse was finally taken setbacks of 1c for December and ⅞@1c for May were shown. The July was the exception, showing a strong constitution from start to finish, the close representing a net gain of ⅛c over the previous day's windup.

It was evident at the opening that longs were in the hunt for profits. Liverpool showed a weaker tone, and weather northwest was favorable to shipping, thrashing, and plowing. While some of the markets displayed strong undertones, cables indicated that bullish effort was less active on the continent. The general cash situation lacked much of the previous snappiness, although the reported workings for export were large in the aggregate. It was finally estimated that about 925,000 bu had been sold to the foreigners, including considerable durum from Duluth not previously reported. There were sales here of red winter wheat to southern millers, and Omaha reported business worked for export via the gulf. The northwestern markets displayed weakness throughout, the demand being much less urgent and elevator concerns indulging heavily in hedging operations.

Millers in Changing Operations.

New York millers were reported sellers of December wheat at their market, buying that month on a moderate scale here, evidently changing their hedges at the big difference of 11¼c. Minneapolis, whose stocks of wheat showed a decrease of 350,000 bu for four days, wired that the inquiry for flour was lighter. Receipts of wheat at Duluth and Minneapolis were 546 cars, against 725 cars the corresponding day last year, total primary arrivals being 992,000 bu, compared to 1,019,000 bu a year ago. Clearances at the seaboard, wheat and flour, were equal to 211,000 bu. Local receipts were light at 74 cars, the estimate for today being 81 cars.

An English authority cabled that droughty conditions still continued in Australia, and that the estimated exportable surplus in that country was being reduced. There also was word that crop conditions in Russia were disappointing. India had more rain, but it is regarded as certain that even under the most favorable conditions that country's showing will be poor. Conditions in the Argentine were satisfactory, and Argentine cargoes off the English coast ruled lower. One message had it that the Indian native food crops were irretrievably lost.

Northwest a Seller Here.

It was said that northwesterners were among the biggest sellers of wheat here, the leading local bulls buying on the weaker spots. The general disposition among the smaller longs was to take profits. Some of the more confident shorts, who believe that a reaction should follow the big advance, also lent to the general pressure. When the big exports were reported there was quick recovery in prices, the more active months touching the previous close, but the strength was short lived, long stuff coming into the pit in increased volume. The purchases of July were made principally against sales of the May. Some of the commission houses are advising their customers to buy the July and sell the May.

Corn Sinks After Firm Start.

Corn gave a good account of itself in the early trading, showing relatively more strength than wheat, but as the session wore on pressure of long stuff developed sufficiently to offset all and much more than had been accomplished by the bulls. When wheat had its late sinking spell the sympathy of the coarser grain was sincere and pronounced. From advances of about ½c over the previous close prices sank to losses of about a cent, final quotations representing net declines of 1c for December and ⅞c for May and July.

The trade was in a buying mood at the start, being influenced largely by light local arrivals—268 cars, against 313 estimated. The receipts, however, were 21 cars more than those of a year ago. Total primary arrivals were 767,000 bu, against 708,000 bu last year, heavier than bulls had figured they would be. Clearances at the seaboard were 224,000 bu. Business at the sample tables was only fair, prices ruling lower. The east held aloof, about the only good support coming from elevator concerns. Liverpool wound up ¼@⅜d stronger, January showing most strength. Estimated receipts for today were 341 cars. Weather generally was fine for conditioning the corn and more favorable for shipping from the country.

Moderate Declines in Oats.

Trade in the oats market was light and devoid of notable feature. It was largely a sympathetic market, although losses were not as heavy as in the more important markets. So far as pit sleuths could determine, the big holders disposed of little grain, most of the selling coming from small traders. Bulls insisted that conditions were quite as favorable to strength as heretofore. Local arrivals were 173 cars, of which not a car came up to standard, the estimate for today being 221 cars. Total primary receipts were 686,000 bu, 241,000 bu less than those of a year ago. Clearance at the seaboard were 3,300 bu. Trade at the sample tables was slack, prices ruling weaker. Final pit quotations showed losses of ¼c for December and May and ⅜c for July.

Provision List Works Lower.

Trade in the provision market was light and mostly of a local character, prices generally ruling weaker. Liberal receipts of hogs at western points—71,000, against 68,700 the corresponding day last year—prompted selling by packers and some of the floor longs, offerings not being well digested. The weakness in corn had a depressing effect. Final prices showed 7½@12½c lower for pork, 2½c higher to 7½c weaker for lard, and 10@15c off for ribs. The demand for meats and lard continued good. Some of the commission houses were credited with buying ribs freely in the early hour. Investors gave some support to January products on the weaker spots. Estimated local hog receipts for today were 21,000.

Rye Prices Are Lower.

Rye was weak, with prices 1c lower. Receipts were 21 cars. No. 2 free on board sold at 88@88½c; No. 3, 85c; and No. 4, 83c. December sold at 88½c.

Barley was quoted at steady prices for the better grades, but the demand was rather tame, and for lower qualities values were lower. Receipts were 33 cars. Feed was quoted 85@95c; malting, 95c@$1.10; screenings, 45@77c.

Flaxseed was inactive with prices ½c lower. No. 1 northwestern was quoted $1.27½; No. 1 from the northwest, $1 26; No. 1 southwestern, $1.17½. Receipts were 3 cars here.

An advance of 5c was reported for spot timothy seed. Contract was quoted $4.30@4.35; March, $4.60; country lots, $3.50@4.45.

Clover seed was steady at $17.00 for contract October and $11.00@16.00 for cash lots.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON 'CHANGE.

The demand for cash corn in the east has fallen off sharply, eastern holders offering the grain at junction points in the east lower than spot prices here in Chicago. At Harlem river junction points lower prices were quoted than were asked for the same grades here, and in some instances eastern prices were ⅝c lower than local quotations. All of the local dealers reported a sharp slump in the inquiry, and, while some of the shippers were hopeful that the depression would be but temporary, others were not so optimistic and were of the opinion that a readjustment of values would have to be undergone before there would be much improvement. One cause of the slump in the demand was said to be the heavy shipments which have gone from interior points in the west direct to the eastern seaboard by all rail shipment, the rate for which is the same as the lake and rail rate. This has resulted in heavy accumulations at eastern points which have not been taken into consideration by the trade. While the shipping demand showed such a marked falling off, there were indications that the farmers are beginning to press corn for sale again. One dealer bought 40,000 bu in Illinois.

Long wheat was on tap yesterday and the crowd was more inclined to play the bear side than for some time. Some of the large cash houses, including Armour and the Rosenbaum Grain company, were sellers on every little bulge. Brokers for John Cudahy and C. L. Raymond were conspicuous on the selling side near the close, while early there was heavy selling by Updike and commission houses in general. Early Logan-Bryan, Bartlett-Frazier, Bailey, and Pringle-Fitch-Rankin were on the buying side. Chapin and Armour bought July. On the late dip holders of "downs" and the Patten house were the leading buyers. In the early part of the session corn offerings were light, and buying by Nye-Jenks, Miner, Roberts, and Bartlett-Frazier boosted prices moderately. Later the selling became general, headed by Bartlett-Frazier, Marfield, Lake, Knight-McDougal, and commission houses. Wells and Roberts were the leading buyers of oats. Selling was led by Pringle-Fitch-Rankin and Sterling. Armour bought November lard. Roloson also bought lard and Roberts and Wood bought ribs. Selling was scattered.

A moderate shipping demand was reported for wheat here, while the local car lot demand was slightly better than the previous day. A sale of a round lot of No. 2 red winter was reported to go to a southern Illinois miller. Outside markets were relatively lower, especially Minneapolis, where the movement of spring wheat is beginning to press heavily on the market. Prices there were 1c lower relative to the December, No. 1 northern being quoted 4c over for spot and 3½c under to arrive. The mills said flour sales were poor. At New York resting orders were caught on the break and heavy sales were reported, some messages claiming as high as 1,280,000 bu, but the more conservative estimates ranged from 480,000 bu to 800,000 bu. The demand was principally for durums, hard winters, and Manitoba wheat, the demand for red winter, except for choice lots, being poor. While the aggregate business reported was large, the bids were much weaker than recently, and had it not been for the sharp break sales would have been light.

A late Broomhall cable read: "Drought is doing damage in the southwest, Crimea, and Azov, and the winter seedings there are partly destroyed. There is also every prospect of this drought continuing. A private report states that the weather in India is still cloudy, but no rain has fallen. In the Punjab the native crops are irretrievably lost."

Some of the smaller commission houses have the bulk of their clients on the short side of wheat. This is unusual, as generally the opposite is the case. There seems to be a growing element among the regular commission house traders who think wheat high enough and are disposed to sell it.

Sales on the call were: Corn—No. 3 yellow, December, 11,000 bu at 58½c Illinois proportional. Oats—Standard, October, 10,000 bu at 55c transmississippi; No. 3 white, November, 15,000 bu at 54c Illinois proportional.

Closing prices for wheat in foreign markets were: Liverpool, ⅛@⅜d lower; Paris, ⅛@⅜c higher; Antwerp, ⅝c off; Berlin, 1⅛c higher; Budapest, ½c off.

Estimated receipts for today are: Wheat, 81 cars; corn, 341 cars; oats, 221 cars; rye, 11 cars; barley, 50 cars; hogs, 21,000.

Charters were made for 800,000 bu wheat and 200,000 bu corn to Buffalo at 2c and 1⅞@1⅞c, respectively.

The demand for memberships lately has been quiet. They are offered at $2,600, with but little inquiry.

IN THE NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The dry goods trade is still considerably disturbed by the announcement of a cut in prices made by a western house and some cancellations of orders for goods that are long overdue have been received from western cities. The silk piece goods market was generally quiet. Worsteds continue in fair demand, but fancy wool dress goods are easier, broadcloths are easier, and there have been more offerings of second hand goods in the market from converters.

Metals—There was a further break in London, spot closing at £136 15s and futures at £134 15s. Locally the market was weak, with quotations ranging $3.50@3.75. Copper was higher in London, with spot closing at £60 and futures at £58 15s. Locally the market was weak and a shade lower, with lake quoted at $13.00@13.25, electrolytic at $12.62½@12.87½, and casting at $12.37½@12.62½. The London lead market was 5s higher at £18 5s. Locally no change was reported. Spelter was unchanged in the local market, but declined 5s to £21 15s in London. Iron was higher in the English market, with standard foundry quoted at 52s 9d and Cleveland warrants at 53s 10½d. Locally no change was reported.

Antimony—Demand for antimony continues of moderate proportions, with European quotations steady. The local market presents an easier appearance and quotations are a little lower. Cookson's is quoted at 10¾@11¼c; Hallett's at 10¼@10⅝c; other brands at 9⅜@10¼c. In London Hallett's is steady at £44; ordinary brands are quoted at £42.

Butter—Easy; receipts, 7,816 lbs. Process—Common to special, 19@26c.

Eggs—Firm, unchanged; receipts, 6,890 cases.

PRICES MAKE A LOW RECORD.

Without Definite Cause They Find New Mark for the Year.

TYPE FOUNDRIES' REPORT.

Biscuit Common and Diamond Match Weak on Local Exchange.

The course of prices in the market yesterday should be a matter of much interest to those who deal in securities. Without any special causes obtaining, prices fell away to the lowest of the year. The business of the day would seem to indicate that the substance of bull markets has been extracted and there is little left beyond the ordinary drift of quotations.

The small bulls and bears may be able to make 4 or 5 point changes. The people who for several years have been influential in the market have been heavy losers. One of the conspicuous examples, for instances, is that of John W. Gates. He has not only quit the market but has left the country and is understood to have buried himself in France. The flight of Mr. Gates is but one of the distress signals that indicate the weakness in Wall street. Securities look cheap because heretofore they have been much higher. But as the situation exists the investor who buys stocks or bonds on their interest return value, as an investment, promises to be the one who will feel satisfied with his purchase.

American Can.

The American Can company has undertaken to renew a contract which it has had with the California Fruit Canners' association. This contract involves furnishing the association with all the fruit and vegetable cans required. The contract was made in 1902 and will expire on Dec. 31, 1907. It calls for a number of cans between 50,000,000 and 60,000,000 a year, according to the size of the crop. The gross value of the contract is substantially $1,000,000 per annum.

There is no doubt about the desire on the part of the American Can company to renew the contract. While the company has dealt fairly with its largest customers, some of the latter have decided to manufacture their own cans. A gross business of $1,000,000 is something to be seriously considered, and, while stock of the American Can company has not shown a great loss in price, it has declined to a quotation which a further loss in business might cause to go still lower.

Expression from Iowa.

The following communication has been received from an Iowa banker by Babcock, Rushton & Lauderback:

"Securities certainly look cheap, and on any further decline there should be considerable investment buying in this territory. I cannot see how the banks will be able to hold money for commercial purposes around 7 per cent after the first of the year. Iowa, for instance, it is estimated, will have 300,000,000 bu of corn and 100,000,000 of oats. It is also estimated that Iowa has loaned to various money centers from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000. And I believe these obligations will be paid by January."

Foreign Exchange.

The foreign exchange was uncertain with trading on a moderate scale. Actual closing rates for bankers' 60 day sterling bills were about 4.82¼@4.8235; demand, 4.8620@4.8630; cable transfers, 4.8715@4.87¼; commercial long, documents payment, 4.81¾@4.82½; short marks, 94⅞ plus 1-32@94 15-16; sight francs, 5.16¼@5.16¼ less 3-32; guilders, 40¼ plus 1-16@40 5-16; Belgian francs, 5.18⅜@5.18⅛ less 5-64.

General Financial News.

On the New York metal exchange there was announced a further reduction in copper of ¼c, quotations being: Lake, 13c to 13¼c; electrolytic, 12⅝c to 12⅞c; castings, 12⅜c to 12⅝c.

October earnings of the United States Steel corporation, it is asserted, will be approximately $14,500,000, against $14,984,925 for the corresponding month last year. While the decrease seems relatively small, it does indicate the falling off which has characterized general business. While the showing is good, it exhibits a cessation of new business.

It is announced that the American Can company will shortly begin the costruction of a large plant at Eastport, Me.

Announcement is made by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. that the firm is prepared to pay in cash $10,000,000 Pennsylvania 4¼ per cent collateral improvement notes due Nov. 1.

At the meeting of the directors of the Western Union Telegraph company the retiring officers were reëlected.

The litigation which has existed between the Strowger Automatic Telephone company and the Automatic Electric company has been ended. The latter concern has secured control of substantially 75 per cent of the stock of the Strowger company, the vending shareholders to receive $20 a share in 6 per cent, twenty year first mortgage bonds, to be issued by the Automatic Electric company, covering all its properties.

Chicago Stocks.

In the local stock market National Biscuit common made a new low record. The stock sold at 66. The preferred also dropped below previous quotations, closing at 107.

Diamond Match was another extremely weak feature, selling down to 121, but closing fractionally higher. American Can preferred made another new low record, closing at 44. Swift & Co. shares closed at 100. There is belief on the exchange that the price will not be allowed to drop below par. But, inasmuch as the shares are held by persons who have commitments in the New York market, there is small reason to believe that if prices weaken much more on the eastern exchange there will not be lower quotations for Swift & Co.

There was a fair amount of activity in Boxboard preferred. The price held fairly well.

IN THE BOSTON COPPER MARKET

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 16.—[Special.]—Copper stocks were thoroughly demoralized today. North Butte fell to 35⅝ and Coppe Range to 46. These were the weakest stocks on the list, but all of them were under constant pressure. Reports of the embarrassment of several local houses added to the uneasiness, but the failure of the rumors to materialize did not help the market much in the late dealings. Some of the losses among important stocks for the day follow: Amalgamated, 2⅝; Allouez, Calumet and Hecla, Calumet and Arizona, North Butte, Wolverine, Copper Range, 2; Granby, 5. Home rails and high grade industrials also were weak, but the losses were confined to about 1 point. The notable feature of the copper list was that there was not a single sale of Trinity. The break of 35 points in United Copper to 15 was probably the most alarming incident of the day, and stories were rife of impending disaster for the Heinze crowd. Call loans, 5@5½ per cent; time loans, collateral, 6@7 per cent; time loans, mercantile paper, 7@7½ per cent; clearing house loans, 6 per cent.

IN FOREIGN MONEY MARKET.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The rates for money were dear today and the supplies were not so plentiful. The belief prevailed that the Bank of England was endeavoring to obtain control of the market and bring discounts to the bank rate level in view of the possible foreign demand for gold.

The tone on the stock exchange was more cheerful, there being less apprehension regarding the position in New York and also owing to the recovery of Americans here. Consols and home rails were in good investment demand, though the former closed below the best quotations of the day. Copper shares benefited by the improvement in the price of the metal.

Americans opened steady and gained strength during the forenoon. Active issues advanced to a point over parity, the support of Wall street yesterday creating a favorable impression and causing the shorts to cover. Later New York supported the market and although profit taking caused a slight setback in the best prices, the market closed firm. Foreigners were firm, generally. Japanese were irregular. Mexican rails were supported in expectation of an increased dividend.

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—The tone on the boerse today was favorable to business. The New York reports strengthened Americans and improved the market force.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—After a heavy opening on the bourse today, prices strengthened, but the market closed with an excited tone.
